

LET THE RECORD SPEAK.

Republican Congresses Passed 63% of Unconstitutional Laws in 74 Years; Democrats Only 29% in 146 Years.

Denouncing "efforts to sell the people on the idea that the Democrats have never had a proper regard for the Constitution" Congressman John W. Flannagan, Jr., of Virginia suggested on the floor of the House that "the record speak."

"During our 146 years of national life," he summarized from the record, "the Supreme Court has declared 67 acts of Congress unconstitutional. Only 29, or around 29 per cent, were passed by Democratic Congresses. On the other hand, Republican Congresses, whom we now are told are the guardians of the Constitution, passed 42, or about 63 per cent, four were passed by a Republican Senate and Democratic House and one by the first Congress, which was non-partisan. (The Republican party first gained control in 1861 or 74 years ago.)"

"Now that is a pretty good record, especially when you consider the fact that we have had 33 Democratic Congresses, 27 Republican Congresses, one Whig Congress, one non-partisan and 12 Congresses when Senate and House were controlled by different parties."

"After citing all of the 67 laws which have been declared unconstitutional and the dates, the Virginian continued: "During the term of office of the greatest Republican President, the immortal Abraham Lincoln, when he had a Republican Senate and a Republican House, seven acts were passed that were later declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court."

"Theodore Roosevelt made a great President in spite of the fact that his Constitutional record may frighten present day self-appointed defenders of the Constitution. During his administration, with a Republican Senate and a Republican House, six laws were passed which were declared unconstitutional by a Republican Supreme Court."

"In President Grant's administration 10 unconstitutional acts were passed by Congresses which were strongly Republican in both Senate and House and two others were declared unconstitutional that were passed by Congresses with a Republican Senate and a Democratic House."

"During General Grant's term alone a Republican Senate and a Republican House passed one-half as many unconstitutional acts as have every Democratic Senate and every Democratic House we have had since the birth of the Nation."

MUCH SOCIAL REFORM.

- Here it is:
- 1. Social reform and repair: The social security act; the $4,800,000,000 work-relief act; railroad pensions; farm mortgage moratorium.
- 2. Banking reform: The central bank bill.
- 3. Power: Holding company regulation; T. V. A. amendments.
- 4. Foreign policy: Neutrality resolution.
- 5. Labor relations: The Wagner labor dispute act; Guffey soft coal bill.
- 6. Taxation: The share-the-burden tax bill.
- 7. National defense: Appropriation of nearly $1,000,000,000; plans for new air bases; 24-ship naval program.

CENTRE TEACHERS TO MEET THURS.-FRI., OCTOBER 17-18

The annual two-day Institute of the Centre County Teachers' Association will be held on Thursday and Friday, October 17 and 18, at the Court House in Bellefonte. It was announced by F. Glenn Rogers, county superintendent of schools.

Although no definite program for the sessions has been completed, it has been definitely assured that Dr. W. D. Henderson, of the University of Michigan, at Ann Arbor, will be the principal speaker at the Institute. Several other prominent speakers will also participate in the program. It was announced.

The hubbub about the AAA regulations are almost exclusively political. The movement is to aid potato growers, to make the grower of the lowly spud profitable, not to hinder the grower in obtaining a fair and reasonable profit for his crop. The potato growers in this section, judging from the prices obtained for the 1934 crop, will readily agree that something ought to be done about it. Politicians are simply taking it for granted that all farmers are simple minded and are aiming to turn them against a movement aimed to aid them.

Who ever heard of a constitution of any organization—political, social, religious, fraternal, educational, or clan—that does not make provision for changes in it. The real objection to revising Pennsylvania's constitution is the fear on the part of the Republican party that an instrument might be presented that would appeal to the masses, and that since the Democrats are in power in the State the party might gain some political advantage, regardless of the fact that Governor Earle's committee to draft a sketch of the new instrument includes members from all parties.

Grange Fair Comes to Successful Close.

PRIZE WINNERS ANNOUNCED.

It is generally conceded that the attendance at the Grange Encampment and Fair on Thursday was the largest to date. Comparing the estimates of attendance placed by the late Leonard Rhone, twenty years ago, with those of Thursday, one would be safe in making the total on the grounds foot to fifteen thousand. In making these calculations account was taken of the large number of persons who at all hours of the day occupy the nearly five hundred tents. A survey of several courts was made in mid-afternoon and it was found that the average in each tent was not under five. This would place 2500 under cover. Another test was to make a correct count of the number of adult persons passing a given point on an Avenue other than "fair" row, in a minute's time. The third test was to compare the length and width of the space where the masses congregate now with the like space of twenty years ago. These evidences convince one that the estimate of 15,000 for Thursday's crowd is low rather than high.

Thursday was Grange Day—it was their day in court, as one readily discovered by hanging round the speaker's rostrum. The first to orate was the Secretary of the State Grange, John H. Light, and then Past Overseer George Schuyler. The greater part of their addresses were devoted to Grange Work.

Two speakers—J. Audley Book and Charles M. Gardner, the former Master of the State Grange, and the latter editor of the National Grange Monthly, Springfield, Mass.—due to an automobile mishap in Lock Haven were unable to reach the park during the time allotted Grange speakers.

Logan Grange, Pleasant Gap, was declared the winner of first prize in the Grange play contest by the judges, Miss Cora Luse, Prof. J. F. Wetzel, Centre Hall, and Gilbert Waite, of Port Matilda. The second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth places were given thus: Victor Grange, Boalsburg; Port Matilda Grange, Port Matilda; Union Grange, Unionville; Howard Grange, Howard; Marion Grange, Jacksonville. Victor Grange stood first in last year's contest.

In the horse-shoe pitching contest, awards were made in this succession: James Mayes, Pa. Furnace; R. W. Fiedler, Aaronsburg; Kenneth Houtz, Lemont; L. P. Fiedler, Aaronsburg.

Lester Auman, Centre Hall, and Ralph Lingle, Spring Mills, won first place in the log-sawing contest; time, one minute, 15 seconds, during which time an oak log 22 inches in diameter was sawed through. The trailers in the contest were Earl and Elmer Dotterer, Mill Hall; time, 1 minute, 23.4 seconds; and Clair Burnes, Warriors Mark, and Melvin Barr, Penna. Furnace, time, 1 minute, 25.4 seconds.

Two classes of exhibits not mentioned in the report of last week were sheep and implements, the latter including all classes of farm equipment. Both these exhibits were commented on by the throng inspecting them as being larger and more complete than a year ago.

The following is a list of the winners of the 4-H Pig Club under the direction of county agent R.C. Blaney: 1. Helen Homan, State College; 2. Ralph Struble, State College; 3. SPRING MILLS AND CENTRE HALL PROJECTS GET O. K. FROM FREEMAN UNDER WPA

Three projects from Penna Valley were approved on Thursday by Charles Freeman, Works Progress Administrator in District X, and sent on to Harrisburg for approval by State Administrator Edward N. Jones. The projects are:

Centre Hall, heating and plumbing in school, employing 9 men for 1 1/2 months, $2,864.00. Of this amount, $782.50 represents labor and is furnished through Federal funds. The remainder is paid by the district.

The work includes installation of a steam heating plant and a set of toilets in the Grade school building.

Spring Mills, Gregg township, road construction work, employing 40 men for 4 months; total cost, $7,793.50.

This project includes the construction of a macadam surfaced road from the intersection east of the Clevé Eungard farm with State Highway Route No. 45 and leading to the Fisher grist mill stand, at Farmers Mills, where it connects with the Spring Mills-Penna Cave road. The improvement passes by the Hopert Barger and Elmer Hettinger farms.

Haines township, boundary and fire trails, work for 23 men for 2 months, at a total cost of $3,550.25.

Liberty township, road construction, work for 33 men for 4 months, cost, $5,968.50.

MISSING LINK ON ROUTE 323 TO BE CONCRETED THIS FALL.

Concrete will be laid this fall on the "Missing Link," Seven Mountains, on State Highway Route No. 323, as indicated in an advertisement in this issue of the Reporter. Secretary Van Dyke advertised for bids to be received up to 10:00 o'clock a. m. September 12, for the construction of 2,996 linear feet of reinforced cement concrete pavement, 20 feet wide, in Potter township. The road has been open to traffic since the middle of January.

LEGION RALLY AT MILLHEIM.

Hundreds of Legionnaires from Central Pennsylvania will gather at Millheim on Wednesday evening, Sept. 5, will be bigger and better than last year. This event was a great success last year and all indications are that it will be bigger and better this year. A big parade of bands and drum corps will be held at 7:30 p. m., after which a big pep meeting will be held in the Municipal Theatre. Thousands of people will come to Millheim to see the legion on parade. The town will be gaily decorated and bands will be playing all evening.

The big pep meeting will be in charge of Eldridge Brown, Commander of the Clearfield-Centre County Committee, which is sponsoring the rally. Speakers will include State Commander-elect John B. McDade, of Scranton, and the newly-elected Vice Commanders Robert F. Hopkins, of New Cumberland, and Wm. F. Smith, Puxsuttawney. Other legion officials will be present including a number of District Commanders. Legionnaires everywhere are invited to come to Millheim to meet and hear the newly elected State officials who will lead the American Legion in Pennsylvania this year.

ROAD VIEWERS GIVE MRS. REARICK $500 DAMAGES

Edward Willard Esq., J. Thompson Henry and William H. Brown, viewers appointed by the court to assess damages done to the property of Mrs. May Reareick, by reason of straightening the highway, near Brown's place in the Seven Mountains, have filed their report, fixing the damages at the sum of $3,500. Various witnesses were examined by the viewers, some of whom placed the damage as low as $500, while extremists put the damage the woman had sustained as high as $10,000. Whether the petitioner will accept the findings of the viewers is unknown. Her attorneys are former Judge James C. Furst and John G. Love.

HIS FIRST DAY OF SCHOOL

Wake up, little man; Don't slumber, I pray, For do you know School opens today?

Oh yes, mother dear, With the rest of the throng; For this day I've waited The whole Summer long.

So I'll start in to-day With a glad, happy heart, And hope ne'er to regret That I've made this start.

But how I do hate To leave "Patsy" all day, For she never will know Why I've gone away.

But when I return How happy she'll be, For when school is dismissed She'll come to meet me.

Now to-day I'll begin To work with a might, So I can soon learn Grandma's letters to write.

I'll paint and I'll draw Pretty pictures with skill, And ne'er be found guilty Precious moments to kill.

I also will try All my playmates to please, For you never make friends When you quarrel and tease.

And each day I'll try A higher goal to reach, So I'll be prepared Some others to teach.

—Verna Breen Hackenberg, Rebersburg, Pa.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST FROM ALL PARTS

The State College Democratic Club will meet at Boalsburg, Thursday evening, Sept. 12.

Mrs. Virginia Gelsa Miller was named one of several registrars in the ward in Philadelphia in which she lives.

State Highway patrolmen made wholesale arrests on Nittany Mountain during Grange Fair week. Most fines were imposed for passing cars on curves.

George Kline and family, of Salona, and Arthur Kline and family, of Altoona, spent a day last week with the gentlemen's sister, Mrs. Margaret Godshall, in town.

Centre Hall Borough had a notable birthday anniversary last week, but no one gave particular attention to it. The town, as a borough, was fifty years old.

A cow belonging to Frank White, east of town, was badly cut on the udder when she attempted to jump over a wire fence. M. W. Neddigh, the State College veterinarian, was called to give the animal surgical attention.

Everything is all set for the Speedway auto races at Tipton, to be held on Saturday, 7th inst. The track is in fine condition and is still being constantly improved that there may not be a flaw in it at the time the big event is pulled off.

At the depth of 67 feet water was found on the Daup farm, in upper Georges Valley. The well was drilled last week by Messrs. Brown and Meyer, of Myerstown, who have been working in this section during the past few months.

One of the much investigated pieces of machinery on exhibition at the Fair was the tractor fitted with a Diesel engine, using a crude oil as a fuel. The tractor was one of a number of pieces of machinery displayed by D. W. Bradford, a local dealer.

A well drilled at the Joyce Rimmer CCC camp in the Seven Mile Narrows gives the assurance that the camp will have an ample water supply. The recreation camp, the last of the buildings to be constructed, will be ready for occupancy by the 153 men now enrolled, by October 1st.

The Meyer Lumber Company at Coburn, purchased the farm and timberland at the sale of the estate of the late Harvey L. Rider. Situated east of Coburn, the farm contains 65 acres and four tracts of timberland, aggregating 70 1/2 acres. The purchase price was $7500.

Mrs. James Boughman, of Greensburg, was host to Mrs. Richard Gelin and Mrs. Pearl Saxton, also, the latter two daughters, Mary Lee and Betty Lou, also of Greensburg, to Centre Hall during last week. Mrs. Gelin and Mrs. Saxton are sisters, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Shrockengast, both deceased, former residents of Centre Hall.

Speaking of State highway construction in Union county, the Lewisburg Journal remarks: Prospects for the building of a concrete road between Lewisburg and Millifenburg are dim despite the fact that the State surveyors went over the route again within the past week. To complete the work before the frost period, a start would have to be made not later than September 10th, and as yet the route has not been approved.

Now that the Grange Encampment and Fair is over, and a good, dusty time "was had by all," it behooves the Fair management to consider as most important of any future improvement to the park a system of roadways which will not permit a recurrence of the conditions obtaining last week. An otherwise perfect week was made most unpleasant by the clouds of dust resulting from the grinding up of the cinder, limestone dust and soil on the avenues under the tons of thousands of feet passing over them.

Dr. H. F. Bitner, of Lewisburg, in enclosing a remittance on his Reporter subscription, says in a letter dated August 29: "I missed you yesterday at the Picnic and Fair, altho I called at your tent three times in the afternoon. I had in mind paying you for your esteemed and valuable paper, as has been my custom for some years. The Picnic seemed very successful, altho I was surprised at the small number of my former acquaintances that I met and recognized. The young folks are unknown to me, and many of my friends, like myself, are getting old."

One of the most beautiful spectacles on Grange Park during the encampment was the assembling of a thousand or more persons on the hillside on the north side of the grounds, on Thursday afternoon, to witness the efficiency of a Chevrolet sedan equipped with knee action. The sun brought out the multitude of colors in clothing worn by the vast assembly, presenting a scene never before shown. While several thousand persons watched the demonstration from other points surrounding the "show grounds" it was those on the hillside who furnished the spectacular scene without an effort to do so. The deep green background of pines and hemlocks gave the whole setting an added attraction.
