SENATOR GUFFEY ENDORSES BARNES AND MYERS, LIBERALS

Speaking of Justice H. Edgar Barnes, candidate for a full term on the Supreme Court, and Robert L. Myers, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Superior Court, United States Senator Joseph F. Guffey made these statements:

"Justice Barnes is the type of man Pennsylvania needs on the Supreme Court. He is man of distinction, a learned lawyer and an able public official. Above all else, he is a liberal. He understands the needs of Pennsylvania's average working men and women. He brings to the bench more than mere learning in the law. He brings a humanitarian viewpoint, a sympathy with the average citizen and an understanding of his problems. Bob Myers is another candidate who will bring outstanding qualifications to the bench. He is known throughout Central Pennsylvania as a brilliant lawyer and a real liberal. He has been one of Pennsylvania's leaders in the crusade for broad, liberal and humanitarian policies in government."

"Naturally, I am for revision," he said. "I campaigned for it last fall, and I have not changed my mind since."

Vote for the candidates you like best at the primary on September 17th, but when it comes to marking that little slip relative to revising the constitution every Democrat should vote YES. Do not let Republican politicians befuddle your mind. Before the State elected a Democratic Governor and legislature, the Republicans placed a plank in their platform favoring re-writing the State constitution, but since they have learned they will not be allowed to dictate every phase of the instrument, they tell you this is not the time to do it. A blind man can see why they oppose it now.

To date Pennsylvania has had three different constitutions; those adopted 1790; 1838 and in 1873. The last one under which the State operates at the present time has been in force longer than any previous one. The present constitution has been amended on an average of once every three years. It has become a patchwork. Vote "yes" on the constitution ballot so the instrument may be brought to present day needs.

Vote YES on the constitution ballot.

If you favor a pension to the blind and aged, vote YES on the constitution ballot.

Deaths

MYERS.—Joseph S. Myers, aged almost 84 years, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Arthur S. Ellenberger State College, on Sunday morning, from complications due largely to his advanced age. He was a Civil War veteran. There survive him Mrs. Ellenberger, John and Roy Myers, of State College; Earl Myers, Port Matilda; and Mrs. Eleanor Kingan, of Pasadena, Calif. Burial was made on Tuesday at Gatesburg.

EBERTS.—Ormsby D. Eberts died at his home in Tyrone on Saturday evening, Aug. 31, following an extended illness. Mr. Eberts was born at Martha Furnace, this county, on February 27, 1867, the son of James A. and Nancy Williams Eberts. On May 28, he was united in marriage with Miss Elizabeth Miles. Mr. Eberts taught school in Houston township, Centre county, for twelve years, later going into the general merchandise business at Martha Furnace, which he successfully conducted for a period of 28 years. Upon retiring he moved to Tyrone. He is survived by his widow and three daughters, also, by two sisters. Funeral services were held at the Eberts home on Tuesday afternoon, with burial in Eastlawn cemetery, Tyrone.

POORMAN.—In the Centre County hospital, Monday morning, Willis Mitchell Poorman, a State College resident, aged 63 years, passed away. He is survived by a wife, formerly Mary Cook; his mother, Mrs. D. F. Poorman, and ten children. Interment was made in the Advent cemetery, Boggs township, on Wednesday.

HARTSOCK.—Jesse Hartsock, aged 63 years, while engaged in plowing, fell dead in the furrow, Saturday afternoon on the J. L. Peters farm, at Peru, where he was long engaged as a farm hand. He was never married. The only surviving relative is a brother, Harry E. Hartsock, Western Springs, Illinois. Funeral services were held from the Peters, home on Tuesday; burial at Pleasant Gap.

Miss Grace Smith, Mrs. Levan Smith, of town; Mrs. Clarence Yearick, son Robert and daughter Nancy, of State College, on Tuesday of last week motored to Niagara Falls, where they visited with Alfonso Henderson, a brother of Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Yearick, and at Clarion with Mrs. Ida Alexander. The A. Miles Arney family in Niagara Falls was also visited. Mr. Arney, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Arney, both deceased, has long been connected with a power plant, and lately was made vice-president of two merged companies operating power plants. He is also a member of the city board of education, and is deeply interested in educational work.

THE WORK OF CREDIT

Bank Shows How It Gives Needed Aid to All Classes of Prudent Borrowers

How a bank loan portfolio presents a graphic cross section picture of the business of its community is disclosed by the description which a midwestern bank recently gave of its loans to customers. It revealed also how closely interwoven with its neighbors' varied lives are the threads of the bank's financial helpfulness.

This description showed that the bank had made a loan of $100,000 to a local shoe manufacturer to purchase materials, discount bills and meet current requirements.

To a wholesale grocer $95,000 had been advanced for the purchase of inventory, the loan to be repaid over a period in accordance with specified terms set forth in the loan agreement.

Assistance in Personal Matters

Another loan had been made to a home owner to the amount of $200 for painting and repairing. This was made in cooperation with the Federal Housing Administration and was being repaid in twenty-four monthly installments of $3.33 each.

A dentist had been loaned $300 to purchase new equipment. He was paying off the debt out of his professional earnings as they came in.

To a large domestic refrigerator distributor $30,000 had been granted on warehouse receipts to finance dealer shipments.

A home owner had been granted a $3,000 mortgage loan to be repaid in three years.

One thousand dollars had been advanced to an office worker on the cash surrender value of his insurance policy to aid him in meeting an emergency.

The National Total

If each of these various examples were multiplied many times the result would represent the total volume of credit cooperation which the bank was extending to its neighbors in its community, for aggregate loans to all its customers amounted to more than twelve million dollars.

If the typical examples here given were multiplied by many millions of times the result would represent the total economic cooperation which the banking system of the country as a whole is extending to aid the innumerable personal, professional, industrial and commercial activities which make up the whole business life of the nation. The nationwide total of such loans is in excess of 20 billion dollars.

PUBLIC CONFIDENCE CONTINUES TO GAIN

Bankers Report Nation-Wide Improvement in Attitude Toward Banks—Educational Campaigns Play a Part

NEW YORK.—Ninety-six per cent of over 300 reporting clearinghouses throughout the United States find concrete evidence of favorable turns in public opinion regarding banks. It is shown in the results of a survey made by "Banking," the monthly publication of the American Bankers Association. City and country districts in every state are represented, it is pointed out.

"The outstanding conclusion is that there has been a genuine nation-wide improvement the last few months in the attitude of the public toward its banking institutions," the publication says. Statistical evidence on which the bankers base their conclusions which warrant this statement is as follows:

The Evidence

"How do bankers know there has been an improvement in the public attitude? They have certain statistical evidence. They have seen their deposits increase substantially in nearly all the cases reported, and tremendously in some cases. Many letters tell of increases of 100 to 300 per cent from the low point of the panic.

"For another thing, they know that fewer people are using safe deposit boxes as a repository for their savings, and that, in many instances at least, postal savings are declining.

"However, many express the view that they could throw out the statistical evidence and still realize that the public is in a better mood where the banks are concerned than before. The best evidence offered on this point, numerous bankers say, is to be found in the acceptance by the public of the newly instituted service charges and the reduced deposit interest rates."

A Summary of the Returns

The statement presents the following summary of the survey:

"We find on breaking up the general classifications of replies to the poll that, the 65 per cent of those answering with an unqualified 'yes' represent only a partial measure of the optimistic feeling. Adding the favorable replies included in other groups, (i.e. 'yes' with qualifications, 'no change,' and 'mixed') we find that the vote shows a definitely healthy situation in 84 per cent of the localities reporting; at least some signs of improvement in another 12 per cent; a continuance of unfavorable conditions in 2 per cent, and a change for the worse in another 2 per cent. It is not too much to say that this is substantially 96 per cent favorable."

Reasons for Changed Public Opinion

As to reasons for the changes in public opinion regarding banks reported by the clearinghouses "more than one organization has a word to say about the American Bankers Association advertising and educational material," the magazine says.

It mentions in addition the benefits of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation in the general business situation, the weeding out of weak banks and the banking moratorium.

"The response to the survey can be put down as encouraging and informative," the magazine concludes. "It holds out the definite hope that with a continuance of a cooperative, educational attitude on the part of the bankers the rest of the journey back to normal may all be completed in the not too distant future."

There's lots of room in the FORD V-8

EVERY ONE who steps into the Ford V-8 for the first time is surprised at its roominess. There's exceptional seat room, leg room and head room in all body types — the whole car gives you a feeling of substantial size.

The Ford gives you extra body room because of the compact design of the V-8 engine — an exclusive Ford feature at a low price. This V-8 engine takes up less space in the hood and permits more of the car's length to be used for passenger comfort. Many a car selling at a higher price does not give you as much interior room as the Ford V-8.

Rear seats are wide and restful . . . three people can ride comfortably in the front seat of the Fordor Sedan, Fordor Touring Sedan, Convertible Sedan and Phaeton, and in the Coupes and Roadster. The seat of the Ford V-8 Roadster is 52 inches wide. A ride in the Ford V-8 will show that it combines unusual body room with fine-car performance, safety and comfort.
