

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Slack and baby daughter, Joan, of Lewistown, spent Sunday with the child's grandparents, Squire and Mrs. C. W. Slack.

Mrs. Annie Emerick, who had been located at Winburne, Clearfield county, is back to Centre county and is living with the Lew Eiddle family, Bellefonte, R. D.

Seventeen women's dormitories, including two cooperative houses, have been opened in State College by the College this semester because of the crowded condition in the dormitories on the campus.

James Irwin, Boalsburg, suffered a fracture of the jaw and other injuries following an automobile accident caused by a tire blowing out. The car, a coupe, was a total wreck. The accident occurred near Boalsburg, on Sunday.

The accounts of the treasurer, Mr. Brunhart, Rebersburg, and F.M. Fisher, secretary, of the Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Co. of Centre county, were audited last week by A. J. Fellipelli and Albert J. Batty, both of Philadelphia, representing the State Department of Insurance, and, of course, were found to be correct.

Frank Phillips has completed his new brick residence along the new concrete road at Milroy. A brick business garage was completed last year. Mr. Phillips speaks highly of the skill of Orvis L. Horner, of Colyer, who did the brick work on the house. Mr. Horner ranks among the best mechanics in the county.

W. K. Ulerich, managing editor of the Centre Daily Times, has been re-appointed Western Pennsylvania representative of the National Editorial Association for the year 1935-36, according to word received from R. H. Pritchard, president of the organization. The NEA is the national trade organization of the non-metropolitan publishing and printing industry.

Mr. and Mrs. James K. Conley, of Madison, South Dakota, motored to Penns Valley, arriving at the home of the former during last week. It is a long while since Mr. Conley left here; in fact, it was back in 1887, when then quite a young man. He has been located in several of the mid-west States, but is now living in South Dakota, devoting his time to overseeing his farm.

Miss Marian Fischer Beury, second daughter of Dr. Charles E. Beury, president of Temple University, and Mrs. Beury, of 112 W. Upsel street, Germantown, on Friday became the bride of Henry W. Scarborough, Jr., also of Germantown. Scarborough is a son of Henry W. Scarborough, an attorney in Philadelphia. A picture of the bride appeared in the Sunday Philadelphia Record.

Messrs. John B. Wert, David Sweetwood, Hobart Barber, Ralph S. Hagand and A. W. Alexander, representing respectively the Lutheran congregations at Tusseyville, Georges Valley, Spring Mills, Farmers Mills and Centre Hall, on Tuesday morning motored to Danville to consult with Rev. L. Arthur Wagner, who on Monday evening the joint council of Penns Valley Lutheran charge decided to invite here to conduct a trial service.

DEMOCRATIC WOMEN MEET AT HOME OF MRS. GEARY

The Women's Democratic Club of Centre Hall and Potter township met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. F. P. Geary, at which time the club dues were fixed at fifty cents per member; the importance of the Democratic meeting on Hecla Park brought out, one of the anticipated pleasures being an opportunity to meet Governor Earle, Warren Van Dyke, Secretary of Highways, and the two leading candidates on the Democratic ticket—Justice E. H. Barnes and Gen. Robert L. Myers. The discussion indicated a pouring out of women from the territory covered by the club.

The speaker of the evening was William E. McCormick, a member of the borough high school faculty, and president of the Southside Democratic Club. The speaker recited the incidents connected with the founding of the Democratic Party as it now exists, by Andrew Jackson more than a hundred years ago, to be exact it was in 1828. The administrations of Jackson, Van Buren, Tyler, Polk, Pierce, Buchanan, Cleveland, Wilson and Roosevelt were touched on, giving the important legislation in each and issues fought out at elections. The periods intervening between the Democratic presidents were also alluded to, bringing before his hearers a complete picture of political conditions during the long enviable history of the party under which the organization he was addressing was functioning.

SPEND EVENING WITH CHARTER MEMBERS CENTRAL Q. TEMPLE

Members of Central Queen Temple of Centre Hall spent Wednesday evening, Sept. 18th, with one of their members, Mrs. Mary Stump, at her home above Centre Hall. A little later this fall she will close her home for the winter and go to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Robert Herman, Philipsburg. Her sister from Altoona is staying with her at present.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Puff, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Kryder, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McClellan of Linden Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Zong of Oak Hall Station, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shutte, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Bradford, Beulah, Ellen and Dean Bradford, Mrs. Paul Bradford and son Budd, Mrs. John Delaney, Mary and John Thomas Delaney, Mrs. John A. Martz, Cathryn and Ethel Martz, Mrs. Harold Bohn, son Daniel, Mrs. F. K. Frank, Mrs. Paul Fetterolf, Mrs. J. Harold Durst, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Herman, Philipsburg; Mrs. Jack Nelson and son Jack, Philipsburg.

Bingo was played and also cards. Refreshments consisting of sandwiches, pickles, cake, candy, peanuts and coffee were served.

Edward Durst, painting contractor, and his assistants—James E. Frohm, John Whitman and Blaine Lester—this week commenced work on sixteen houses, the property of the American Lime & Stone Company, at Union Furnace, Huntingdon county. The properties will be painted with a modern spray outfit, with which Mr. Durst has had marked success. The group of men engaged in the work are living in Mr. Frohm's trailer until the job is finished, which will be in about two weeks.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Rev. and Mrs. E. R. Corman arrived in Centre Hall from their home in Wilkinsburg on Tuesday evening and will remain at the parental home of Mrs. Corman until the close of the week.

During a brief vacation taken last week by Mr. and Mrs. John Mowery, the roadstand in Old Fort woods was conducted by Richard Brooks and assistant. The Mowery stand is continually gaining in popularity.

W. W. Kerlin, proprietor of the Kerlin Poultry Plant, Centre Hall, and his accountant, C. D. Shafer, of Huntingdon, on Friday will start on a business trip to Florida, going first to New York City. The nature of the business, taking the men to the Peninsular State has not been given out.

Contractors Collins and Maxwell, Inc. of Easton, have a number of men on the ground and in a few days will begin actual work on the "Missing Link." The .55 mile link will require considerable grading prior to the fine grading on which will be laid the concrete. Workmen have been on the ground since Tuesday.

A broken arm sustained ten days ago by Mrs. W. Howard Durst, living immediately east of town, is mending nicely. Mrs. Durst was standing on a chair winding a clock, when for some apparent unaccountable reason she fell, striking the right arm with sufficient force to break one of the bones between the elbow and wrist.

Ralph S. Hagan, the local Dodge dealer, attended a meeting of Dodge dealers in New York City on Saturday afternoon and evening. The dealers interested were those of the Scranton district, C. F. Detrick, Bellefonte, and Mr. Hagan being the only county representatives in the group. The Centre county dealers traveled by train from Lock Haven, where they entered sleepers at midnight Friday, returning to Lock Haven Sunday morning.

Eugene Colyer, of Lewistown, was with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Colyer, in Centre Hall, on Sunday. Eugene hp'ds the important position of budget clerk in the Mifflin County Relief Office, having worked his way up from that of "visitor" whose duty it is to investigate cases of need before help is extended. Mr. Colyer states that Mifflin county is paying approximately $30,000 a month in relief, and while the number on relief for a time showed a falling off, it is again on the upswing.

Dr. W. E. Fischer and Dr. E. H. Gerhart, with a chauffeur at the wheel, motored to Centre Hall on Saturday, remaining for much of the day. Both the Doctors of Divinity are pastors of long standing in Lutheran churches in Shamokin and hold important positions in Synods. Dr. Fischer, as our readers well know, returns at least yearly to his first pastorate, and is yet able to find many members in the five congregations he served, active in church work and always exceedingly glad to greet him.

Mrs. H. F. Musser and Miss Vesta Blausler, of Pottery Mills, were callers on Monday. Mrs. Musser will make sale of personal property at her home near Sprucetown church, on October 26, and thereafter will live with the John Blausler family, in the same community. Next week a full list of articles to be sold will appear in the Reporter and also on posters. Hunters will find several guns—modern and otherwise—for sale.

The Decker Valley road, leading east from Sunset club house, has been rebuilt as far east as the Potter-Gregg township line. Brush has been removed, the roadbed widened, drain ditches constructed, and the surface covered with gravel. On completion of this road, Joseph Carson, with the same crew of men, set to work to improve the Georges Valley road, leading by the Sankey farm and on to the east.

W. W. Kerlin, confined to bed for ten days or more, is attending to business since Sunday. He was afflicted with bronchitis. Mrs. Kerlin is suffering from the same disease, as is also Mrs. A. E. Kerlin, both of whom are confined to bed. At the present time they are improving, but it will be some time until they will be able to recover their normal physical condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Simon Moyer, accompanied by their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Huber Hackman, of Womelsdorf, are at the Rishel tourist home in Centre Hall and will remain until the end of the week. On Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Moyer came here from Tyrone, where they were guests for a few days of Mrs. Eliza Meyer and son, John D. Meyer. Mr. Moyer, a long time ago, lumbered in this section, and since has been coming back regularly to meet and keep alive old friendships.
