Deaths

BARTHOLOMEW.—One of the few remaining Civil War veterans in the central section of the State died last Thursday morning, when William H. Bartholomew, aged 89 years and 13 days, succumbed at 6:30 a. m. to complications and the debilities of old age. Death came at the home of a son, Charles D. Bartholomew, at Centre Hall, where he had made his home for many years. He was a son of George and Catharine (Transue) Bartholomew. Mr. Bartholomew served 16 months in Company F, Second Division, Pennsylvania Cavalry, and was in the conflict between the North and the South until its end, serving under General Sheridan, although he did not participate in any of the major battles of the war.

The deceased was born at Nittany, September 13, 1846, and was married to Rachael Hanna, in 1875. She died March 30, 1899. When a young man he worked in the store of Major J. B. Fisher at Penn Hall, later becoming employed by J. I. Orenoblo at Spring Mills. He located in Centre Hall in 1885, conducting a general store, grain and coal yard, later near the clooper of the century, becoming a bookkeeper for the Huyett-McNitt Lumber Co. at Bellefonte, a position which he held for 30 years before retiring only about six years ago. Funeral services were held from the late home at Centre Hall Saturday afternoon at 1:30, burial at Spring Mills by the side of his wife. The Rev. Surviving are a daughter, Miss Helen, and two sons, Charles D. and Edward L., the former two of Centre Hall and the latter of Altoona. Two sisters also survive him—Miss Jennie, a member of the C. D. Bartholomew family, and now a patient in the Centre County hospital, and Mrs. Rebecca Romig, of Liverpool. Mrs. Romig, like her sister, is also suffering from injuries sustained in a fall, the extent of which has not been learned, but was serious enough to keep her from attending the funeral.

WEBER.—Frederick William Weber died Saturday night at the home of his only daughter, Mrs. Charles Ross, at Linden Hall, after a prolonged illness. He was born in Lebanon county, March 11, 1855, but came to Boalsburg with his parents, Jacob and Katharine Huber Weber, early in life. He was a coach and wagon builder when a young man, but later took up cabinet making. He attained the age of 80 years, 6 months and 18 days. His wife, Sarah Kuhn, is long deceased, but they survive him two children, John Weber, Philadelphia, and Mrs. Fay Ross, at whose home he died; also, a sister, Miss Annie Weber, Boalsburg.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon and burial made at Boalsburg, with Rev. H. L. Wink of the Reformed church, officiating. He was born in Decker valley, a son of John and Annie Neff Ripka, August 28, 1869, making his age at time of death 67 years, 1 month and 1 day. Interment was made this (Thursday) forenoon at Pleasant Gap, Rev. W. J. Wagner officiating.

SNYDER.—Miss Mary H. Snyder was found dead at her home in Bellefonte, on Thursday, shortly after the noon hour, from a heart attack. She was born in Bellefonte, a daughter of Austin B. and Margaret Snyder, and was aged 74 years, 3 months. She had conducted a hat shop in Bellefonte for many years. W. W. KERLIN, C. D. SHAFER GO TO ST. PETERSBURG BY AIR

A telegram received from W. W. Kerlin, proprietor of the Kerlin Poultry Farm, stated he had arrived in St. Petersburg, Florida, Monday at 10:17 a. m. Mr. Kerlin, in company with his bookkeeper, C. D. Shafer, and another passenger, were picked up on the local airport on Saturday morning, 7:40, by a Vaco four-passenger plane owned by Mr. Peterson, Altoona, with Ed. Singleton, pilot, the destination in mind being the airport at Newark, N. J. Mr. Kerlin and Mr. Shafer went to New York City for the night, leaving for the South Sunday, and on arriving at Jacksonville remained there until the hurricane wind, subsided, which was Monday morning. At 6:30 a. m. an alrship was boarded for St. Petersburg, landing at their destination at the time noted above. In a letter received on Tuesday by air mail by Mrs. Kerlin, the poultryman stated the trip to Jacksonville was a delightful one and was made in a fourteen-passenger ship, the pilot on which was a former Penns Valley youth, a son of Rev. Dice, who was pastor of the Evangelical church about Millheim. "We flew all the way between the clouds," the letter stated, and further that the temperature was 80 in the shade.

That "other Passenger" That "other passenger" was the senior editor of the Centre Reporter, who made his first flight up other than by a stairway. Whoever coined the expression "distance lends enchantment" must have been up in the air in his mind and looked down on mother earth. Up from two to six thousand feet, everything, including the cum piles around Shamokin, look beautiful. There is nothing visible from an airplane that has the semblance of ugliness. A flight up is strongly recommended to those not content on solid earth.

Visibility was fine going east until the section about Mahanoy City was reached, and here the plane was shot up from an altitude of about 2000 feet to 5500 feet, which took us up above the strata of fog and clouds, where the ship ploughed through the air so steadily that it was amazing. On reaching a point where the skilled pilot was beneath, an effort was made to go below—through a small opening between clouds, but it was discovered the fog was too low to attempt to land. Up the plane went again and in considerable sunshine we sailed back about forty miles to Hackettstown, and there over the city of about four thousand inhabitants an opening was found and a landing made on a field not prepared to receive planes. The time was 9:25 a. m.

From this point Mr. Kerlin and Mr. Shafer went to New York City, and at 11:50 the pilot took the air with the writer by his side. Centre Hall was reached at 1:18, making the time west one hour and 28 minutes. Going east there was not a bump, but coming west the air pockets were so frequent that bumps and more bumps, and yet more bumps, made the ride. The biggest thrills on the trip were at points immediately south of Coburn and Spring Mills, where the big "pops" pockets were found, and to add to this, midway between these two points, the plane was wholly enveloped in fog for a brief period. Remember, you will never have seen this old world from the best vantage point unless you "go up."

(Continued from previous column) Milesburg; Mrs. Mira Wieland and Mrs. Mack Bryan, of Bellefonte; Gilbert and Kenneth, of Curtin; Mrs. Paul Halderman, of Bellefonte; Mrs. Toner Heverly, of Mt. Eagle; Albert, Melvin and Wayne, at home. Funeral services were held at her late home, at Curtin, Friday afternoon, by the Rev. M. C. Piper, burial in the Curtin cemetery.

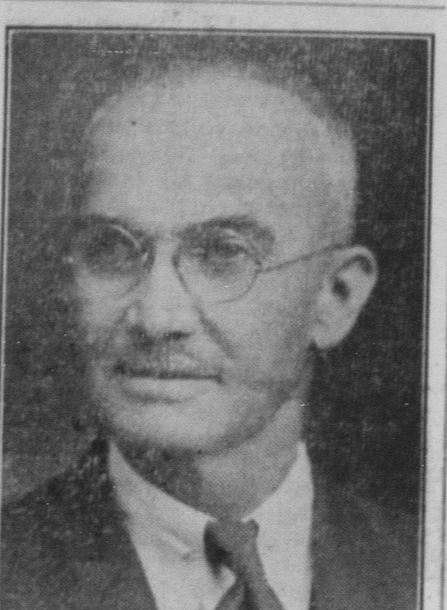

BOHN.—Mrs. Sadie Bohn, widow of Frank Bohn, died at her home near Coburn, on Sunday morning from complications. Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon and burial made at Boalsburg, Rev. H. L. Wink of the Reformed church officiating. The deceased was a daughter of William and Nancy Hook Bradford, and was born near Boalsburg. She was aged 79 years. There survive her three children: Morris and Harry, Millheim; Charles and John, State College; and Annie, Mrs. Wm. Brandt, Coburn. Also, these mothers and sisters: Charles, Pittsburgh; W. JOHN L. WETZLER for Register.

John L. Wetzler, of Boggs township, Democratic nominee for Register of Wills, was a popular candidate when he first ran for that office four years ago, and during his term in office has won the friendship and admiration of hundreds of other Centre countyans through his courteous and thoroughly able manner in which he has performed his duties.

We feel confident in declaring that he was a popular candidate in 1931 he will be doubly so this year, for he entered office a virtual stranger to many voters, but his exemplary conduct of the county's business and his friendly greeting extended to all who visit his office have won him many more true friends.

It is entirely fitting that John L. Wetzler, now in the afternoon of a life which for the most part brought more sorrow than joy, should have the unopposed support of his party in seeking re-election, for it has been the time-tested policy of both parties to extend to a competent officeholder a second term of office as a reward for faithful service.

Mr. Wetzler was born in Milesburg, on January 19, 1874, a son of P. L. and Leah Wetzler, both of whom have been deceased for many years. He was educated in the public schools of Boggs township, and upon completing his schooling assisted his father in the occupation of carpenter for a time before going to Union and College townships to farm for twelve years.

In 1918 because of ill health Mr. Wetzler was forced to sell his stock and go west to regain his strength. Meanwhile his wife became ill, and was ordered to go to New Mexico. After lingering there for several years Mr. Wetzler, worn out with her long struggle against illness, died in 1924.

In 1925 he was employed by his brother, Frank L. Wetzler, in the merchandising and undertaking business in Milesburg, a position he held until his election as Register in 1931. His home having been broken up by the death of his wife, Mr. Wetzler now resides with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Geca'd Little, in Boggs township.

Like his well known brother, Frank L. Wetzler, director of the Milesburg Boys Band and himself an accomplished musician, John Wetzler is musically inclined, and has a standing membership in the Wetzler band regularly joining the band on their frequent engagements. Knowing John Wetzler as we do, and knowing the prominent and distinguished family of which he is a member, we have no hesitancy whatever in urging the citizens of Centre county to cast their ballots for him at the November election—thus assuring to the citizens of Centre county the fine type of efficient and friendly service he has been rendering the public at the Court House during the past term.
