WILL ROGERS MEMORIAL COM. OPENS CAMPAIGN FOR FUNDS

The Will Rogers Memorial Commission, composed of a group of distinguished, reputable and responsible men and women, opened its campaign for funds for a memorial for Will Rogers on Monday.

When Will Rogers died, he left millions of friends who had become intimates through the stage, radio, motion pictures, newspapers and magazines. They mourned the man and his philosophy, his kindness to mankind.

Thousands of these friends actively proposed memorials. No less than a score of organizations was formed for the purpose. These were merged and the Will Rogers Memorial Commission was formed—a group of Rogers' nationally prominent and responsible friends, headed by Vice-President John N. Garner.

Now with all local and sectional efforts directed into one whole hearted, national plan, millions of Will Rogers' friends may participate in a worthy contribution to the memory of Will Rogers.

It is the aim of the committee that there will be millions of friendship contributions to the memorial fund rather than large sums from a few associates. Every dollar subscribed will be expended for the memorial. Organization costs and other expenses are being defrayed by the aviation industry.

It is not known exactly what form the memorial will take. Certainly, it is agreed, there will be no cold shaft of marble for this warm, friendly man. Rather, they will be living, continuing memorials to be used for charitable, educational and humanitarian purposes. It is impractical to attempt to decide the exact form of memorials, but a group which includes Henry Ford, Alfred E. Smith, Owen D. Young, Herbert Hoover, Jesse H. Jones, Vice-President John Garner and other men of prestige and judgment will make the ultimate decision after the fund has been collected and totaled. Their personal interest is public assurance that the money will be judiciously allotted. Money alone is not the goal but the total amount contributed will largely determine the final choice of memorial.

Subscription of funds began November 4—the fifty-sixth anniversary of Will Rogers' birth. It will end Thanksgiving eve, November 27. Contributions will be received and acknowledged by the First National Bank, Centre Hall.

There is entirely too much "can't" talk locally. Enough of it to make one think an organization of "cants" has been formed, all holding paid up memberships. The cants never accomplished a laudable thing, the "cants" can, but only if they work together and present a program.

Funeral services were conducted at the home at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, in charge of the Rev. Collins E. Hazen, pastor of the Muncy Methodist church. Burial was made in the Muncy cemetery.

The deceased was a daughter of Davis and Mina Reifsnyder Evans, and was born and reared a Pottery Mills where the family lived for a number of years in the property now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Wagner prior to locating in Williamsport. Mrs. Plotts' marriage occurred while the family lived in the latter city.

GARNER.—Frank Garner, of Busy Addition, died in the Centre County hospital, on Saturday from an injured vertebrae received in a fall down a flight of steps, a week previous. He was aged 53 years, and was born in Howard, at which place the body was interred, on Monday.

A wife and several children survive the deceased.

DIETRICK.—Charles Frederick Dietrick died Saturday in the Williamsport hospital following a gall bladder operation, aged 60 years.

Funeral services were held Tuesday with interment at Williamsport, where he lived prior to coming to Bellefonte in 1912 to conduct an automobile agency.

He is survived by his second wife, formerly Mrs. Mary Florey Dolan.

CORONER HEATON EXPLAINS FINDING "INFANT" IN DITCH

Details of the case in which it was rumored that the body of an infant had been found near Port Matilda was explained in a statement made by Coroner W. R. Heaton.

Rumors concerning the case were current in Phillipsburg following the publication of a story in a Bellefonte paper that an infant had been found there and that the coroner had been notified but what disposition was made of the body was unknown.

Dr. Heaton explained that he had been called on the case as coroner when it was reported to him that the body of an infant had been found by a workman in a drainage ditch along the state highway between Port Matilda and Hannah Furnace, Thursday, October 24.

What he found upon investigating the coroner said, was a three-ounce two months old fetus wrapped in a towel.

W. B. KERR SEES PASSENGER BUSINESS IMPROVED IN WEST

Our good friend, Wm. B. Kerr, writes from Ogden, Utah, under date of October 28, as follows:

"I enclose money order for $3.00 to advance subscriptions of my brother, R. S. Kerr, and myself, for another year. The reminder to subscribers in the October 24th issue of The Reporter reminded me that I had in my pocket a money order secured some two weeks ago, and that while thus interred it could not buy printer's ink.

"This has been a busy year for me, in which respect I have been like unto a lot of its predecessors, Passenger business was much improved this year, and I believe that when more people find out the comfort of traveling in air-conditioned trains, Wall travel will continue to improve. I presume, however, that the Senior Editor will never again be much interested in any method of travel in which, terra firma figures.

"With kindest regards to you and the said Senior Editor I remain, "Sincerely, "WM. B. KERR."

LOCALS.

Mrs. Lella Magee, of Wenonah, N. J., is at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Huyett, in Centre Hall.

The second degree team in the local I. O. O. F. lodge will go to State College next Monday evening to put on the work in the State College lodge.

Mrs. John B. Wert's condition remains, in a general way, about the same. She underwent a gall bladder operation at the Centre County hospital on Thursday of last week.

Miss Luella Ripka, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Ripka, was home over election. She is a typist in the Bureau of Motor Vehicles, Harrisburg. She likes her position very much and is getting along fine.

Mrs. J. Arch Eungard and daughter, Miss Estie, have located in Madisonburg, and are living in a house partly occupied by Miss Estie Musser, a sister. The farm sale held by Mrs. Eungard, on Tuesday, was well attended, and all articles sold at good figures.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Dahler and daughter, Miss Arvilla, and Mrs. Dahler's sister, Mrs. Jennie Clark, all of DuBois, and Mrs. H. J. Kittleberger, of Curwensville, and Miss Myra Roock, of Tusseyville, were supper guests at the Bartholomew home on Sunday.

Clifford Thomas is ill at his home west of Pottery Mills. The illness began with chills, followed by a high temperature, which keeps him in bed. Joseph Parker is another Pottery Mills resident to become suddenly ill on Friday night, when he was seized with a heart attack.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Luse and children, Donna and Keith, and P. H. Luse, on Sunday, motored to Johnstown where they visited Mrs. Strong, a relative, and also spent an hour with Mr. and Mrs. Hughes Bringer and found them living in a very comfortable and pleasing home.

Samuel McCoy, of Philadelphia, was at the Blue and White Inn, Pottery Mills, for a few days last week, spending the time in hunting small game. He informed friends that his brother, Frank McCoy, a special conductor on special trips over the Pennsylvania, is ill and has not been able to fill engagements with his company during the past six months.

Several residents in Centre Hall felt the shock of the earthquake that spread over seventeen states in the East, also Canada. The quakes were very positively felt by Harvey Plink, who had retired, but arose from bed, dressed and made a circuit on the outside of his home to discover what had happened. Miss Estella Hosterman, who lives at the R. M. Smith home immediately across the street from the Plink home, had retired and felt a distinct quivering of her bed.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Jordan, with Mrs. Laura Kerk, district deputy Eastern Star, Mrs. Miles Sheesley, Worthy Matron of the Jersey Shore chapter, and Mrs. E. Ford Barnes, all of Jersey Shore, as guests, motored to Centre Hall on Monday to attend a meeting of Past Grands that evening. Mr. Jordan is a former resident of Potter township, and is the cashier of the Union National bank, the oldest and largest bank in that city. He started banking and business in general were greatly improving in Jersey Shore.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton C. Yarnell, accompanied by their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hartsock, all of Lewistown, on their way to Lemont to visit another daughter, Lavon, wife of George Bohn, the merchant, stopped at the Reporter office to transact a bit of business and rehearse past events. Mr. Yarnell is a night watchman at the Viscose plant, and Mr. Hartsock is foreman in the processing department of the same plant, all of which indicates the "pinch" has not hit them, at least not too hard. All the Yarnell children, except Mrs. Bohn, live in Lewistown.

The heaviest fog to hang over this section of Pennsylvania in many a year was observed Thursday night, beginning at about 10:30 o'clock. Between here and the Seven Mountains there was not a spot clear of fog—a fog so dense that with the best approved automobile lights driving was a great hazard. On the Brush Valley road east and west the same condition prevailed. It was under these conditions at a point about a half mile west of Centre Hall, on the Brush Valley road that a deer leapt over a fence from the north, bounded over the road and leapt over the south fence with such speed that it appeared to be a streak through the fog. The little animal was so close to the front of the car that the occupants, F. V. Goodhart, and the other occupants imagined they felt the swish.

50TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

In a very informal manner the fiftieth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Smith will be celebrated at their home on Tuesday, November 12th.

The home will be open to all friends from 7:00 to 10:00 p. m. to express felicitations, if they care to do so. Please Note.—Gifts will not be accepted from individuals or groups.

TOURISTS STRANDED WHEN CAR IS WRECKED; DAMAGE, $126

The trio of youngsters—Warren C. Homan, Paul Foust and William Conner—on a trip to Florida, became stranded when a van ran into their Star car from the rear and damaged it to the extent of $126. Only three pieces, generator, carburetor and the starter, were brought home. The accident occurred at Lady Smith, Va., 7 1/2 miles east of Washington, before day-break, Sunday morning.

At a hearing held Monday morning at Bowling Green, Va., the transfer company assumed all responsibility and agreed to pay the sum named above. The boys were met in Bowling Green, Monday morning by Marvin Ishler and brought to Washington that day, where they remained for the night, arriving here Tuesday evening.

The youths had a fine time on the trip, and everything went along swimmingly until the Florida state line was reached. They were permitted to put only one foot over the state line after their resources were shown.

JUDGES APPOINTED FOR GIFT CONTEST BY WEST PENN POWER

Judges for the "Better Sight" Christmas Gift Contest now being conducted by the West Penn Power Company were announced last evening by the local district manager, W. T. McCormick.

The contest, which is limited to boys and girls on West Penn lines who are not over eighteen years of age, has to do with the "Science of Seeing" and home lighting that guards the eyesight. The solution is worked out by means of pasting small paper cut-out lamps, of the correct design and wattage, into their proper positions in the rooms of a house which is pictured on the contest blank. The rooms are then to be colored by the contestants. The judges will give due consideration to age, so that children of various ages will have equal chances.

Owing to the nature of the contest, judges have been secured who are familiar with the standards of correct lighting. They are Miss Mary Weiber, Chief Home Lighting Adviser, General Electric Co., Nela Park, Cleveland; O. P. Cleaver, Lighting Consultant, Westinghouse Lamp Co., Bloomfield, N. J., and Mrs. Anne McMahon, Chief Home Lighting Adviser, West Penn Power Co.

Contest blanks are now being distributed, but those who may have been missed, may obtain one at the local West Penn office.

HALLOWEEN PARTY.

The home of Gloria Wingard, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Wingard, of Spring Mills, was the scene of a delightful Halloween party on Wednesday evening, Oct. 30. As the guests arrived they were given a door ticket on which they put their name, then taken to the party room which was decorated in Halloween fashion. For fifteen minutes they were left in the spooky atmosphere, and when the lights were turned on the first feature was a parade. A prize was given for the cutest dressed, won by Shirley Musser, dressed as "Mickey Mouse," and the prettiest, won by Caroline Noll, dressed as a Gypsy maiden. The guests participated in games suited for the occasion, and at 8:30 they were served refreshments, consisting of sandwiches, potato chips, chocolate milk, ice cream and cookies. Chaperones for the kiddies were Miss Orle Wagner, teacher of the little hostess, and Mrs. Pauline Roseman. The guests were Helen Grove, Betty Robinson, Jimmie Meyer, Nevin Meyer, Virginia Decker, Ralph Watts, Nancy Watts, Ariene Grove, Nancy Meyer, Lois Meyer, Louise Heckman, Mary Lingle, Martha Kerstetter, Dean Kerstetter, Dorothy Bressler, Isabel Breen, Bernice Fetterolf, Barbara Fetterolf, Dolores Condo, Gloria Wingard, Christine Noll, Doris Musser, Shirley Musser, Marie Noll, Caroline Noll, Buddy Noll, Betty Musser, Roy Lingle, Eugene Kerstetter, Lera Meyer, Terzine Ripka, Merle Hosterman, Earl Hosterman, Lois Zubler, Sara Zubler, Betty Auman, Paul Zubler, Ruth Zubler, Junior Hosterman, Dorothy Auman.
