

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

J. W. Bradford is driving a new Dodge sedan purchased through the Hagan agency.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Delaney and daughter Miriam called at the home of Mrs. Israel Yearick, on Sunday.

Rev. Lee S. Dephen, Lutheran minister at Lairdsville, resigned to accept a pastorate at Beaver Springs, Snyder county.

B. F. Homan, of State College, who fell while picking apples several weeks ago, is slowly recovering, although still confined to his room.

F. M. Fisher attained his seventieth year on Monday, and he is not nearly worn out. Here's hoping he will be able to live and enjoy good health for many years to come.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Delaney and son James and daughter Edith, and Sumner Auman, of Potters Mills, visited with Mrs. Delaney's brother, B. E. Yearick, in Altoona, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Schlegel of Fleetwood, spent the week-end at the Reford parsonage. Mr. Schlegel was especially interested in hunting small game. He secured the limit of rabbits for the time he remained here.

Mrs. Thomas A. Sankey and son Donald, motored in from Milwaukee, Wis., and are now with Mr. Sankey at the Centre Hall hotel where they will remain for the greater part of the winter season.

William Brandt and Charles Fryer, Cohn youth, who enlisted in the United States army a month ago, have been assigned to the coast artillery and left Fort Slocum, N. Y., where they have been in training, for the Panama Canal Zone, on Friday.

Rear Admiral Richard Byrd's second antarctic expedition into "Little America" will be at the Plaza Theatre Saturday of this week, together with another feature picture, "Hooray for Love," with Ann Sothern and Gene Raymond. A fine entertainment and an educational one also.

The body of Joseph Lex, a Russian, and a member of the Catholic church, was taken to Renovo, on Wednesday of last week, by P. V. Goodhart, the local undertaker, for interment. A full Catholic ceremony at the home and at the grave was used. Mr. Lex, prior to locating in Pleasant Gap, lived in Renovo.

Mrs. James W. Lee, Detroit, Mich., who some time ago broke a leg and dislocated a hip joint, has recovered sufficiently to be able to be out of bed. Mrs. Lee, before marriage was Miss Annie Treaster, of Potter township, and now has attained her eighty-second year. Her husband is a brother of Frank D. Lee, of town.

Boyd Smith, of Potters Mills, is lamenting that he will not be able to nurse back to usefulness a well bred puppy that was shot by a reckless hunter and badly hurt. The puppy and a mate were taken on a hunting trip on Friday, and one of them was working in tall grass when a thoughtless hunter concluded it was legal game that was making the commotion, and shot.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Wigman, who began housekeeping a short time ago in the Rowe bungalow, have vacated the place and were followed by Lieut. and Mrs. John Spicer. The young lieutenant is connected with CCC Camp 65, a Veterans' camp. Lieutenant Wigman, as was forecast in these columns, is now located at Benzett, Elk county, the CCC camp from which he was transferred as construction officer at Camp 65.

The executive committee of the Centre County Federation of Sportsmen's clubs at a recent meeting called to work out plans to halt the antlerless deer season in Centre county, came to no definite conclusion as to line of action. It was however decided to hold a sportsmen's banquet some time during the latter part of this month at which time one or more persons prominent in the propagation and study of wild life, including game birds and animals, would speak.

A project for the improvement of Elk creek from the A. A. Frank holdings to the Bailey property at the north end of the Millheim Narrows, will be applied for by the East Centre Fish & Game Association in conjunction with the State Fish Commission. The lands bordering the stream have been leased by the association for improvement of fishing waters.
