

FARLEY CLAIMS 18 STATES.
ONE PENNA. FOR ROOSEVELT

The Associated Press reports James A. Farley asserted on his return from a swing around the country that his "hasty survey" of the political situation reveals no trouble ahead for President Roosevelt.

"In one respect the journey was a failure," the chairman of the Democratic National Committee said in a statement. "To speak frankly, it was a quest for trouble—and I found none."

Farley listed 18 States—including Ohio, Pennsylvania and California—which were on the direct route he traversed and which he said will be in the Roosevelt column next November.

He named nine other States contiguous to his route which he said yielded assurance they and neighboring States would provide "undiminished support to the President."

Farley said also that "everybody seems pretty well satisfied" about the reciprocity agreement with Canada and he discounted straw votes as an indication of trends until the Republicans name their candidate.

The States Farley listed definitely in the Roosevelt column—"I can tell you now with absolute sincerity," he said—were Pennsylvania, Delaware, Virginia, Maryland, Kentucky, Tennessee, Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Utah, Nevada, California, Oregon, Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado, Ohio and Indiana.

"So much for the industriously circulated report that the President is 'slipping' so current in the newspapers hostile to the Administration," Farley commented.

NATIONAL GRANGE ENDORSES
MANY ROOSEVELT POLICIES

The National Grange at its session in Sacramento, Calif., last month, endorsed practically every one of the Roosevelt emergency policies and urged amendments thereto to insure maximum benefits.

The first five emergency features endorsed in the most recent circular issued by the National Grange publicity bureau, include:

1. Amend and simplify the Agricultural Adjustment Act by increasing farm control and eliminating bureaucratic methods.
2. Reward farmers for growing crops of which there is a shortage, and for the development of new crops.
3. Provide crop insurance for thrifty farmers to the extent of a return equal to seed and labor investment.
4. Prevent crop signers from growing other crops of which there may be a surplus.
5. Maximum benefit to the family-sized farm and greater opportunity for the tenant farmer.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH THIS!

The overwhelmingly favorable vote of the farmers in every one of their referendums, above 90 per cent, should show that rabid opponents of the AAA who have claimed that the farmers themselves did not want these programs were somewhat in error to put it mildly. While anti-New Dealers have been shedding crocodile tears over the "goose-stepping" required by Triple A, the farmers of the Nation have been receiving more than a two billion-dollar increase in the price received for their products; industrial payrolls have steadily risen more than 52 per cent, and the cost of living generally has gone up only 13 per cent. What on earth is wrong with this picture?

With Bruce Harter, second son of Aaron H. Harter, at the wheel, Miss Lizzie Harpster and Mrs. Catharine Moore of Harrisburg, were conveyed to Boalsburg Wednesday of last week after an hour's stop at the Arney home west of town. At Boalsburg the ladies visited their sister, Mrs. Ella Barr, and beginning of this week became guests at the Arney home. Mr. Harter, who spent the first twelve years of his life in Centre Hall, but who left here with his family in 1892, became a man of some proportions, and now weighs 300 pounds.

Tuesday night of last week Dewey Edmison was found at the foot of a stairway at the Edward Durst home in an unconscious condition. He is a sleep-walker and this time got a rude awakening. Beside bruises, he received a cut over an eye, requiring stitching by a surgeon. Mr. Edmison is one of several workmen employed by Edward Durst as painters. He had been working the day prior to the accident, and after taking a good nap, entered the dream period. Approaching a ladder, the stepping was down instead of up, and the natural consequence a tumble the full length of the stairway.

Thanksgiving Day, from a standpoint of weather, was anything but a pleasant one. Rain fell during nearly all of the time, day and evening, but it did not interfere with the numerous turkey dinners served to families and their guests in Centre Hall and surrounding towns and rural districts. The domesticated Thanksgiving Day bird and as well the wild turkey were more plentiful in this section than for a number of years. The price ranged from 22 to 30 cents per pound.

How they howled when the Federal Government spent money for relief of the needy. How they howl, probably louder, since relief has been discontinued.

NOTES FROM CCC CAMP 118.

According to statements made by Paul Bradford, one of the five foremen at CCC camp 8-113, in Lancaster Valley, Mifflin county, the work of the 180 men will be devoted to lumbering during the coming winter. The output of lumber is estimated to be 200,000 feet. A large mill, privately owned, will be installed for contract sawing. The cutting, stocking and taking care of the lumber when it leaves the saw, will be done by CCC men. All dead trees and those showing to be declining will be cut, leaving the young and thrifty trees for development.

Bruce Sharer, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Sharer, Linden Hall, a Penn State graduate, Forestry School, is the forester in charge. Mr. and Mrs. Sharer live in Milroy. M. L. Degen is camp superintendent.

One of the great events in the life of the Lancaster Valley camp boys are the occasional dances given in the camp pavilion. These are largely attended by young ladies from nearby towns, whose safety is guaranteed by the strict discipline enforced by Capt. R. W. Boyer. The dances are closed promptly at 1:00 A. M.

Capt. Boyer takes great pride in the youths comprising the camp personnel. He not only insists on good behavior, but on good appearance when on leave from camp, and this includes a face shaven. The boys have discovered that strict observance to the Captain's orders in these minor respects have given Lancaster Valley camp an acknowledged prestige.

One of the objections of the CCC is the conservation of American Youth, which may be realized, first, by demanding of every one in an official capacity connected with the CCC to be a gentleman; second, by demanding of every enrollee that he conform as nearly as possible to the rules of common decency, and third, by such help as can be obtained from the public in building up a wholesome environment in the neighborhood or vicinity in which these camps are located.

EARLE WINS $3,000,000
ADDITIONAL RELIEF FUNDS;
$55,000,000 FOR PROJECTS

The Federal Emergency Relief Administration gave the State an additional $3,000,000 for direct relief, and Comptroller General John McCarl approved projects throughout the State involving an expenditure of $55,000,000. The funds are available at once.

The $3,000,000 grant and McCarl's approval of $55,000,000 of PWA projects were in response to Governor Earle's appeal to Washington.

Earle particularly asked McCarl to eliminate red tape as far as possible in the WPA setup.

Although the $3,000,000 allotment is the last scheduled one from the Government, Robert L. Johnson, State relief director, said the State will be able to continue direct relief until December 31.

He estimated the allotment, added to a $1,700,000 balance from former Federal grants, plus $5,000,000 contributed by the State, will be sufficient until the end of the month.

MILLHEIM THEATRE NOW
RANKS WITH THE BEST

The Municipal Theatre of Millheim has completed its installation of a new up-to-date wide range sound and film equipment, which is one of the most modern in this section. There have been new Ross motion picture lenses installed in the projection machines in order to bring the pictures to the public as life-size as possible. These lenses are the same type as used in all theatres in the larger cities throughout the country. The theatre has been remodeled inside and out with modern designs. Those who attend the Municipal Theatre in the future will find that this theatre, while located in a small community, is nevertheless kept as up-to-date as any theatre in the State.

8,000 ACRES POOR FARM
LAND IN CENTRAL PA. TO BE MADE INTO PUBLIC PARKS

More than 8,000 acres of poor farm land in the heart of the Allegheny Mountains in central Pennsylvania will be converted into a public recreational park as a result of land purchase and development by the Resettlement Administration in cooperation with the National Park Service.

The area surrounds Blue Knob Mountain, the second highest point in Pennsylvania, with an elevation of 3220 feet, and is being acquired by the Resettlement Administration at a cost of about $100,000. It is situated in northwest Bedford county, adjoining the village of Pavia.

It is planned eventually to provide six organized children's and youths' camps, two family camps and one overnight camp. In a typical organized children's camp provision will be made to amply house and care for from 150 to 200 campers, including their leaders. An organized family camp will take care of 60 families or approximately 300 people. Supplementary facilities will be provided in the form of a nursery to take care of the small children in the family camp.

Governor Earle and U. S. Senator Guffey, hunting in Pike county, each killed a buck on Monday.

CENTRE HALL HIGH TO PLAY
CATAWISSA FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

The "Tigers" of Centre Hall will defend their Central Pennsylvania championship at Penn State this Saturday afternoon when they meet Catawissa high, Northumberland county champions and winners of the eastern conference at 2:30 p. m.

Catawissa gained its place in the final playoff by defeating Lewisburg in the semi-final game, 2-1, at Susquehanna University last Saturday. Both goals, one of which was a penalty kick, came in the last ten minutes of the game to give Catawissa its victory.

Undoubtedly this will be the hardest game of the season for the locals as Catawissa presents a well balanced team. The teams will be about equal in weight and speed and a fast game is expected, if weather conditions are favorable.

In all probability Centre Hall will stand pat on its lineup for the opening whistle, with Gerhart in the goal; Reish and Heckman fullbacks; Dutrow, Coldron and Wetzel, halfbacks; Johnston, Bradford, Capt. Frank Walker and McClenahan as line.

This game will mark the end of high school soccer for Capt. Frank Coldron, McClenahan, Bradford and Dutrow, as they will be graduated this year.

SCHOOL BOARDS REORGANIZE.

The Potter township school board reorganized at a meeting held at Centre Hill on Monday evening, by electing John W. Delaney, president, and B. W. Ripka, vice-president. M. A. Burkholder was re-elected at the November election, consequently there was no change in the personnel of the board. The other members of the board are George H. McCormick, secretary, and Arthur L. Slatterbeck.

The Centre Hall school board reorganized at the same time. W. W. Kerlin was named president, following Rev. J. M. Kirkpatrick, retiring from the board, and F. V. Goodhart, vice-president. Other members of the board are Edw. E. Bailey, treasurer; R. S. Hagan, and Dr. H. R. White, the latter being the new member.

OF ROCKVIEW CONVICTS

Samuel Kuhns, a deputy game warden, of Howard, smashed his automobile into the car of two fleeing convicts and caused their recapture.

The fugitives, Chester Robinson, of Tioga county, and Leo Stiles, of Potter county, escaped Wednesday morning of last week from Rockview Penitentiary, where they were trustees. Patrolmen said they stole an automobile parked near the prison.

The two appeared at a gasoline station in Bellefonte the night after their escape, bought gasoline and sped away without paying for it. Kuhns, who also had stopped at the station, pursued them.

Near Lock Haven, Robinson and Stiles sighted three patrolmen stopping all cars. The fugitives started to turn their car, but Kuhns drove his machine against theirs before they could get untangled. The patrolmen were on the scene.

Stiles is serving two to four years for larceny, and Robinson is serving a one-year term for forgery.

450 DAIRYMEN, POULTRYMEN,
HEAR FEED VALUES DISCUSSED

Four hundred and fifty cattle and poultry raisers in this section of the State met at Sunbury, Friday, where the Ralston Purina Co. promoted and conducted a meeting. A nutrition expert told them there were twenty-three million dairy cows in the United States and that seventeen million were not profitable producers. Likewise, the 673 million hens in the United States produced but 50 per cent. of the eggs they should, or eighty eggs per year instead of 150 yearly if properly fed.

The gathering was attended by Bradford & Co. representatives, also by M. A. Burkholder, Ray Sharer, Earl Delaney, John Dutrow, G. W. Ralston, L. R. Smith, John Burkholder, all of Centre Hall and vicinity.

WILL ROGERS' LAST PICTURE
AT "PLAZA," DEC. 4-5-6

"In Old Kentucky," is the last picture in which the late beloved Will Rogers played a leading part. The picture shows at the Plaza Theatre, Bellefonte, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week, afternoons and nights.

You are urged to see this great human interest drama, as only Will Rogers can portray it. Rogers is supported by an excellent cast.

TRUE TO LIFE.

The Tyrone Times makes reference to an unnamed Blair county official who has a total of 114 applications to fill the one clerkship at his disposal. The official relates this:

"These are filed alphabetically and are studied daily with an idea of determining which one shall be an inmate while the other 113 become potential enemies. It's a great game, this game of politics, if you don't weaken."

Display of Fashion Dresses at Hotel.

At the Centre Hall hotel, for one day, Friday, 6th, a display of Fashion Dresses, all sizes. Sure to please you. Come and look them over.—Mrs. Meckley.

DEER KILL LIGHT IN FORMER PROLIFIC FIELD IN 7 MTS.

For a number of years the field in Seven Mountains over which the late W. F. McKinney presided as forest ranger was a most prolific field for deer and bear, but of late, as is the case this year, the crop is light and the kill very light. John Meeker, who succeeds Mr. McKinney as forest ranger, reports but one known violation in his territory. This was the killing of a doe in Decker valley, on Monday.

J. E. McCannon, of Coatesville, a seasoned game warden, is assisting Mr. Meeker in performing any needed service.

Twenty-three camps report having killed 33 bucks on Monday and Tuesday. The camps in the district are not nearly all occupied, and some camps were unsuccessful during the first two days.

Following are the camps and day hunters reporting kills:

Storck Cub, Krise Valley 1
Spring Mills Gun Club, Decker V. 1
Union Hunting Club, Boal Gap 2
Regulars (Philada.) Sawdust Pile 1
White Ash Lodge, East of Garrity's 1
Potter Mills day hunters 2
Lancaster Co. day hunters 2
Colyer day hunters 3
Ed. Zerby party 3
Swartz tent, day hunters, Krise V. 1
Paul Lingie, Decker Valley, alone 1
McClellan camp, Treaster Valley 1
Mexico, Treaster Kettle 1
Felton Gun Club, Heckendorn Gap 1
Sunbury Club, Heckendorn Gap 4
Lost Creek, Underwood Road 2
Thompsonston Camp, Sassafras 1
Rock Oak, Rock Oak Spring 1
Bradford Party, Pole Bridge 2
Camp Grey, Bald Mt. 2
Sweetwood Camp, Summit 3
Buck Fever, East of Sweetwood's 1
Lebanon Club, Gentzel Valley 1
Rearick's Inn, Lancaster party 1
York party, at John Blauer's 1
Late Monday night a large buck approached near the State house, filled himself with apples and then laid down. While investigated, he was not disturbed. He left early next morning and eluded those who took up his tracks.

Kill on Old Nittany.

Day hunters on Nittany Mountain, between Madisonburg and Lemont, were unusually successful. A number of the hunters were youthful and drew first blood. Reports to trickle in follow:

Clarence Rudy, 250 lb., 8 point, at the Kennedy-Treaster line, west of town.

Ernest W. Musick, near top of the mountain, close to Pete's Place.

Samuel Shutt and Melvin Burris one each, in Greens Valley.

Harry Auman, the thresherman, at the House of Lords.

One each by Cleve Eungard, Carl Dean, Warren Decker, Clarence Niel, Elmer Runkle, and Archie Moyer.

The Slack-Homan party, from Centre Hall, encamped near Renovo, killed five bucks, and returned home on Wednesday.

WEEK OF PRAYER SERVICES.

At the December meeting of the Penns Valley Ministerium it was decided to hold the annual Week of Prayer services in Centre Hall and Spring Mills, from Monday until Friday in the week beginning January 6.

HARRY F. ALTERS WINS
$1,000.00 IN DRAWING

Last week we mentioned the success of Jack Coldron, Centre Hall, in drawing $100.00 cash in the "Friendship Charity Drawing, Sunbury."

This week, Harry F. Alters, Bellefonte, a former Centre Hall boy, won the top prize—$1,000.00 in cash—in the same venture.

C. W. Cummings, of Aaronsburg, is another Centre countyman to be listed among the winners of $100.00 in cash.

$400 REQUEST TO AID CRIPPLES

Handicapped and forced to use crutches during his college days at Bucknell, an alumnus of the university has made a bequest which was evidently inspired by a deep personal feeling. Jacob H. Minnick, of Orrstown, Franklin county, has left approximately $400, the income of which is to be given each year to a student who may be compelled to use crutches during his entire college course.

The State Supreme court's action in declaring the graduated income tax unconstitutional, forces all home owners in Pennsylvania to continue to pay $27.00 out of every $28.00 expended for the conduct of local government. That means that the home owner pays $27.00 while those holding notes, mortgages, bonds, stocks and the like pay but one dollar. To correct this injustice to the real estate owner was the chief reason Governor Earle desired revision of the constitution and is continuing his efforts to accomplish it.

SWANK-RISHEL.

On Thanksgiving Day, Helen R. Rishel and Reuel E. Swank were united in marriage by the Rev. Arthur Wagner, pastor of the Penna. Valley Lutheran parish, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Rishel, Farmers Mills.

The bride is a graduate of the Pennsylvania State College and at the present time is Home Economics Education Adviser of Lebanon county. She is also president of the Pennsylvania Home Economics Association.

The groom, who is from Linville, Virginia, is a graduate of Lebanon Valley College, and at the present time is instructor of history and coach of athletics in the Palmyra high school, Palmyra.

The guests at the wedding and dinner were: Rev. and Mrs. Arthur L. Wagner and son Donald, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rishel, Centre Hall; Miss Margaret Reigel, Home Economics Education Adviser of Cumberland county, New Cumberland; Miss Miriam Westcott, Home Economics Education Adviser of York county, York; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rishel and son Martin, Madisonburg; Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Bommer and Jean, Sally, Clark, Barbara, and Nancy, of Blair; Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Rishel, Miss Jean Rishel, and John Rishel, Centre Hall; Bieber Rishel, Darlington; Miss Kathryn Rishel, Palmyra; Miss Mabel Eungard, Centre Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Swank will live at 5 E. Maple St., Palmyra.

WEBER PROPERTY PURCHASED
BY PHILIP C. BRADFORD

What is known as the Weber home, in Centre Hall, a part brick structure, was recently purchased by Philip C. Bradford, of Lemont, who with Mrs. Bradford expects to occupy it by it.

The property was built by Luse & Sons, about 1900, and was sold by them to the late Philip Meyer, on retiring from the board of county commissioners. Mr. Meyer sold to John H. Weber, and after his death the place was taken over by the Penns Valley Banking Company, which company sold to Mr. Bradford.

The sales price has not been made known, but is said to have been approximately $4,000.00.

DR. BARTOL, FORMER CENTRE
HALL SCHOOLMAN, BECAME 88

Dr. William C. Bartol, professor emeritus at Bucknell University since 1927, attained his eighty-eighth year a few days ago. He was born in Huntingdon, graduated from Bucknell in 1872, and as a student, teacher, professor emeritus spent sixty years of his life in that institution. His first teaching after graduating was at Centre Hall, where he taught Latin, Greek and the higher branches in mathematics, requirements at that time to enter college, and prepared several students to enter Penn State. He was the first of the teachers in the local schools to teach the higher branches.

RED CROSS DRIVE

The Red Cross membership drive will begin the latter part of this week. The solicitors for this section are Mrs. Charles Light, Mrs. H. L. Ebber, Mrs. F. P. Geary, Miss Doris Moltz, Miss Martha Boal, Mrs. A. W. Alexander, Mrs. Harold Durst, Miss Elizabeth Bartholomew, Mrs. J. F. Wetzel, Miss Helen White.

TO ORGANIZE BOY SCOUT
TROOP, DEC. 19, FIRE HOUSE

A Boy Scout Troop will be organized Thursday evening, Dec. 19, in the Fire Hall at 7:30 o'clock.

Boys must be 12 years of age to be eligible for registration and membership. Boys interested in registration should inform Scoutmaster J. F. Wetzel or R. S. Jamison, Asst. Scout Master, prior to the meeting.

ROOSEVELT OVERWHELMING
CHOICE OF COLLEGE EDITORS

A poll of representative college editors of Presidential possibilities has just been taken by "The Pulse of the Nation," the magazine edited by Albert J. Beveridge, Jr., son of the late famous progressive Republican Senator of Indiana. The poll disclosed three highly significant points:

1. More editors favored Franklin D. Roosevelt than all the other possibilities combined.
 2. Republican editors jumped party lines to vote for Mr. Roosevelt. The number of registered Democrats among the college editors was 386 while the Roosevelt vote was 408.
 3. Senator William E. Borah's 52 votes were more than double the combined totals of Col. Frank Knox and former President Herbert Hoover.
- Once again F. D. R.'s popularity and the esteem in which he is held has been demonstrated by the youthful leaders of the land. The youth of America is for him. It is our belief that this fact will be demonstrated with increasing clarity as the campaign becomes more tense.

While Alfred E. Smith had done many apparently foolish political stunts since he was the Democratic standard bearer in 1932, he after all has more wit than to permit a politician of the type of Judge Eugene C. Bonniwell, of Philadelphia, to head a movement to nominate him again in 1936. Smith in effect says, "nothing doing."

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST
FROM ALL PARTS

Raymond B. Winters, former district forester, located at Mifflinburg, entered upon his new duties with the Resettlement Administration in the Towanda office.

One of the twelve hogs butchered last week by J. C. Brooks weighed 672 pounds, after having been bled and ready for the scalding trough. The hog was two years old.

Miss Ralda Haagen, teacher of the Logan public school in Gregg township, of Yarnell, during the vacation from school work incident to Thanksgiving Day, made a pleasure trip to Niagara Falls, N. Y.

William P. Sleg, manager of the Titan Metal works, got his right hand caught in the door of his automobile, resulting in the fracture of bones in two fingers and a bone in the back of his hand.

Mrs. Myra Krebs, Mr. and Mrs. Miller and Fred Rupert, all of Altoona, were Thanksgiving Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Krebs, in Centre Hall. The former is the mother of Mr. Krebs and the others are cousins.

W. S. Maize on Tuesday sold his North street property, in Millheim, now occupied by J. C. Taylor, to Mrs. Carrie St. Clair, of Centre Hall, R. D. The sale price was said to have been $1200.

During the week ending November 19, seventy-eight motorists in Pennsylvania lost their license because of having been caught driving while drunk. More power to the officers of the law who are driving this menace from our highways.

Isaiah W. Emery was partially incapacitated during last week due to an abscess in the right arm pit. On two successive days the lancet was used, and while the operation produced much pain for the time being, relief followed the draining process.

Miss Myra Winegardner is back to her home in Centre Hall, after having visited with her sister, Mrs. Glenn, wife of Rev. James Glenn, at Carlisle. Before returning home Rev. Glenn visited his sister, Miss Ellen Glenn, a patient in the Centre County hospital.

The Brown family, formerly living at Brown's place, at the big hill in Seven Mountains, are now living in the home recently vacated by Mrs. H. P. Musser, near Sprucebrook church. Mr. Brown continues living at the old stand and will remain there until his new place along the new concrete road, south of Garrity's road, is completed and ready for occupancy.

Miss Grace Smith and Mrs. Levan Smith, of town, were motor guests of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Forster, of Aaronsburg, on a trip to Coatesville, Ardmore and Philadelphia, over the Thanksgiving season. At Coatesville they were guests of Miss Wingard, a schoolyard friend of Mrs. Forster, and at Ardmore a brief time was spent with Miss Emma Wolfe.

Mrs. Olive Smith, of State College, who has been night supervisor at the Centre County hospital has resigned that position effective November 30. Mrs. Smith's post will be taken by Mrs. Melvin Locke, the former Mary Alexander, who served as night supervisor at the hospital before her marriage to the late Dr. Melvin Locke. She began her duties December 1.

One hundred men are engaged in building the Union county portion of the Fourteen-Mile Narrows road, which is an unimproved section of State Highway Route No. 95, intersecting with Route No. 53, at the diamond in Centre Hall. The Narrows section is being built of mountain stone. The section in Centre county, leading through the narrows, is a well constructed Macadam topped road.

Bond White, probatory-elect, in naming Arthur H. Sloop as his deputy, thereby gives preference to the man who at the primary election polled the next highest vote to his own. The selection, therefore, is a most commendable one on the part of Mr. White. Incidentally, the new probatory was a pupil under Mr. Sloop in the Bellefonte high school. Here again, the grades the pupil received must always have been o. k., or else—

Rev. and Mrs. G. A. Fred Griesing, of the Aaronsburg Reformed church, expect to leave in mid-December on a prolonged visit to the Pacific coast. Rev. Griesing has been granted a sabbatical leave of from three to six months and will seek a milder climate in order to gain a much needed rest. Rev. and Mrs. Griesing will motor to the coast by a southern route and will spend much of their leave with relatives and friends in Los Angeles and other sections of California.

Muth M. Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edw. E. Bailey, Centre Hall, received half mention in the Beaux Arts contest of the department of architecture at the Pennsylvania State College recently, an award which entitles him to have his work exhibited in a national contest in New York City in the near future. A week was given for the completion of the project. The above statement comes from Walter E. Dantscher, Director of Public Information at The Pennsylvania State College.
