

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

"The Heart of Christmas," is the title of a sacred pageant to be rendered by the Evangelical Sunday school at Christmas time.

Trinity Reformed church will hold a chicken and waffle dinner in the social room of the church school, Saturday evening, Dec. 14, from 5:00 to 8:00 o'clock. Adults, 35c; children, 20c.

Penn township will improve the Coburn consolidated school building to the extent of $2251.20, as a PWA project. The labor required will employ twelve men for three months.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Potter, Friday afternoon, who will carry McWilliams as one of his names. The youth is the fourth in the family and the second son.

Mrs. Allen Auman, of Coburn, was discharged from the Centre County hospital, on Saturday. She was the only patient noted from the south side of Centre county in the hospital report for last week.

Rev. Julian Park, Presbyterian minister of Martinsburg, was a guest of the Kirkpatrick's on Wednesday, and preached in the Lemont church at 8:00 p. m. The Lemont people are holding their evangelistic services this week.

Snow plows were out for the first time this fall on Sunday morning. During the early morning there was a fall of about two inches of the beautiful. Throughout the day the fall continued for much of the time, but melted as it fell.

Mrs. Clara Leister, Centre Hall, on Wednesday, was reported very seriously ill. She was visited by her son, Frank S. Leister, Lewistown, R. D. 3, on Wednesday, at which time other children were notified of her condition.

Approximately 860 properties in Centre county were sold for taxes on Friday at the court house. Most of them were purchased by the county and may be redeemed by the owners within two years by the payment of the taxes, costs and $1.00.

During the second period of car inspection for 1935, a total of 1,529,116 cars were passed, 174,396 more than during the first period. Owners of 14,924 cars were refused stickers. Of the whole number of cars inspected all need adjustment except 305,443.

The W. C. T. U. meeting and dues social will be held in the Presbyterian church, Tuesday evening of next week at 8:30. A good attendance is desired. Mrs. Frank Gardner, of State College, and the county president, Mrs. Henry, of Philipsburg, will be guests.

The Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church will hold their Thank-Offering and Praise Service in the Presbyterian church Thursday evening of next week, with Mrs. W. A. Alexander, of Lewistown, as guest speaker. The public is cordially invited.

Jeremiah Frazier is a guest of his nephew, Earl Frazier, on the Foster Frazier homestead, along Sinking Creek. For a period of forty years Mr. Frazier was employed by the Westinghouse people, but is now retired and on pension. He is a full brother of the late Foster Frazier.

Bids for the construction of an addition to the Centre Hall borough high school building will be opened Friday, 13th inst., at 7:00 o'clock p. m., at the high school building, and bids for material for the improvement of the grade school building will be opened at 7 p. m., Friday, December 6th. In the latter instance all labor will be supplied by the WPA.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wasson, State College, R. D., visited with Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Lester, in Centre Hall, on Sunday. The couple, next spring will move onto the former Sheriff A. B. Lee farm, along Sinking Creek, east of Centre Hill, which place was recently purchased by them. Mrs. Wasson was the former Tessie Cummings, also a former local high school girl.

The last four most recent arrivals in Centre Hall were all brought to the south section of town by that famous bird, the Stork, and all of them boys. Homes visited were those of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Meredith Coldron, Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Potter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Venrick, and the old bird is said to have another date in the same section.

Mr. and Mrs. William Jackson, of Philadelphia, were guests over the week-end of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Brooks on Rhonemede farm. On Saturday the couple, also Mr. and Mrs. Brooks, were evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Brooks in town. Mrs. Jackson is a sister of the late John Henry Smith, head of the Smith Printing company at Williamsport at the time of his death, and a cousin of Mr. Brooks. Mr. Jackson is engaged in teaching languages in the Overbrook high school at the Philadelphia city line.

Potter township auditors, John P. Treaster and Logan M. Decker, met the several township officers in annual meeting at the First National Bank, on Monday, but an adjournment until some time after the New Year resulted without any business having been transacted. One of the overseers of the poor raised the question of legality of the meeting at this time since the newly-elected overseer does not take his office until after the New Year, and therefore a balancing of the overseer's books at this early date is not proper. His point was sustained.

LIBRARY ADDITIONS BOOST TOTAL TO OVER THOUSAND

Approximately twenty books of various sorts have been added to the high school library increasing the number to 1050. Included among the list are several children's books, "Adventures of Remi" by Malot; "Swiss Family Robinson" by Wyss; "Robin Hood" by Heal; "The Adventure of Perrine" by Malot, and a short edition of "Gulliver's Travels" by Swift.

The novel list added to the library includes "As the Earth Turns" by Carroll; "Crock of Gold" by Stephens; "Joan and Peter" by Wells; "Return of the Native" by Hardy; "Mounted Justice" by Mayo; "Held" by Spyri; "Forgive Us Our Trespasses" by Douglas; and "The Green Light" by Douglas. These non-fiction books were added also: "Careers for Youth" by Pitkin; "Mexico" by Chase; "Penn's the Golden" by Gard; and "Portrait of an American" by Griffin.

Several other reference books used mainly in history have been added.

GLEE CLUB SPONSORS GROUP SING AT REFORMED CHURCH

Miss Marjorie Fisher, music teacher of the local high school, together with the glee club held a community sing in the Reformed church Wednesday, November 20, 1935, at 8:00 o'clock. The public was invited and participated in the singing.

The music selected by Miss Fisher included popular songs such as "Down by the Old Mill Stream," a few of Stephen C. Foster's selections, and hymns.

SENIOR CLASS SPONSORS WEEKLY SCHOOL CAFETERIA

The senior class has held a nickettee at the high school almost every Thursday since November 7th.

These nickettees have been held for the purpose of making money for the class treasury and of furnishing a warm meal for the non-resident pupils that come to the school.

The class is divided into two different groups which alternate in serving the lunches.

The materials for these nickettees, which have netted between four and five dollars each, are donated by the class.

A FORCED LANDING.

Landings are usually considered one of the most difficult steps in learning to fly, and I personally believe they are; especially "forced" landings.

Forced emergency landings as you can tell from the name, are when a pilot has to land his ship, no matter where he might be.

There is no way of telling beforehand when they are going to occur, so the only way to prepare for them is always to be expecting one.

Fortunately for me the one and only forced landing that I have ever been in was made by my instructor, Mr. Noll. It was only the fourth time I had been up with him. On this particular day we were flying an OX-5, Eagle Rock biplane. Taking off in the wind we headed West, intending to make a circle, and land into the wind again. This was the route usually taken with new students. We had climbed to about five or six hundred feet, and were making a slow left turn, when Mr. Noll, who was in the front seat, suddenly bent forward and stared intently at something well down in the pit. He immediately straightened and grabbed the controls. I had been flying, but as soon as I felt him touch the controls, I released them. At the same time Mr. Noll grabbed the controls, the motor stopped dead, and we were gliding without power. He immediately shut the nose down and headed for a field, the sight of which made me wish I had stayed on the ground. It had a tall tree in the center of each end, and a small sink hole, or hallow in the middle. A ditch ran across the width of the field, just in from the center, and the side on which we landed was sloped to about a forty-five degree angle. Mr. Noll side slipped and fish-tailed, in order to lose altitude, and kill speed, so that we shot over the top of the first tree with a scant margin. We immediately began to settle, but because of the uneven ground the wheels hit first, throwing the ship about fifty feet from the earth. Again we hit, this time on three points, and stayed down until we hit the ditch which threw the tail so high that it almost replaced the engine, but some how or other Mr. Noll got it back

The West Penn Power company has filed application with the Securities and Exchange Commission for exemption as a holding company under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, believing it is entitled to exemption under the Act.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Weaver and Dean Reish of Centre Hall; Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Hummel and daughter Louise, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ruhl and family, and Miss Myrtle Shaffer, of Mifflinburg, were Sunday guests in the Martin Hummel home in Mifflinburg.

After a visit here with her parents for a few weeks, Miss Emeline Brungart, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Brungart, expects to motor to Florida and spend the winter at Miami. Up until recently Miss Brungart was employed at East Orange, N. J.

Charles Fisher, Jr., of Danville, Harold B. Shattuck and sister, Miss Fannie Shattuck of State College, called on Mrs. Lizzie Jacobs during the latter part of last week. The former is a son of Charles Fisher, prominent Danville citizen, and is a bond salesman.

Mrs. Della Reiber and daughter, Miss Mary, spent Thanksgiving at Carlisle with the former's son, Lieut. Wm. D. Reiber, of the medical corps of the U. S. Army Post at Carlisle. They also attended the officers' military ball, on Wednesday evening given in honor of Brig. Gen. Delaney.

(Continued from previous column) where it belonged, and with the lower wing tip barely grazing the ground, on the hillside, we dragged to a stop alongside the sink hole.

I felt better now that we were on the ground, and I found that I was all in one piece. The cause of our trouble had been a broken gas line, caused by the vibrating of the motor. It was this that Mr. Noll had seen when he had taken the controls in such a hasty manner. While the gas line was being temporarily fixed, we began to have visitors. Farmers, two and three at a time, who had been working in the field, and had seen us come down, came on the run, until there must have been twelve or fifteen of them all talking and asking questions at the same time. The gas line was soon repaired and we taxied up to the highest corner. With Mr. Noll flying we headed down the hill, and took off without mishap. Gaining a little altitude we flew back to the flying field, where they were surprised to hear that we had been forced down.

Chevrolet sales during the first 20 days of November totaled 60,707 units, nearly double the previous high record for that period, it was announced at the offices of the Chevrolet Motor Co., Detroit.

The Civilian Conservation Corps enrollment is to be reduced to 300,000 by July 1st. The reduction will be accomplished by limiting new enrollment rather than by forcing out any of the present 475,000 corps members.
