NO. 1

SECOND BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR THE PRESIDENT, AT CENTRE HALL, JAN. 30TH

It is announced that President Roosevelt has consented to the use of his birthday as the occasion for another nation-wide series of birthday balls and parties for the raising of funds for use in combating and treating infantile paralysis. Last year parties were held in hundreds of cities throughout the country on the President's birthday and more than a million dollars was raised and turned over to the Warm Springs Foundation for the conquest of the dread disease.

One of the balls was held in Centre Hall with excellent response, a generous contribution to the fund and a general good time for all who attended. A similar party will be held again this year, on the evening of January 30, H. L. Ebricht being the general chairman.

This year like last year the plan is for a division of funds into two functions, 70 per cent. for distribution to various localities over the country for direct treatment of infantile paralysis; 30 per cent. for research work into the causes and means of combating the disease.

MURDERED WOMAN RELATIVE OF BURKHOLDERS HERE

Mrs. Mary Louise Ginder, who was murdered in Founders Hall, Haverford College, while presiding at a family Christmas dinner, Dec. 23rd, was a relative of the Burkholders of this community. Mrs. B. W. Hipka and M. A. Burkholder being second cousins.

During the seven years that Mr. Burkholder resided at Altoona, the two families became close friends; the Ginder family resided in the same city.

The deceased is survived by three sons, Luther Ginder, of Dayton, O.; Lieut. Commander Samuel P. Ginder, Panama Canal Zone; and Lieut. John Burkholder Ginder, Philadelphia.

Samuel and John are officers in the U. S. Navy. Samuel commands a squadron of Naval planes in the Canal Zone, while John is located at Fort Mifflin ammunition depot, Philadelphia.

Mrs. Ginder was housekeeper at Founders Hall (a dormitory) and purchasing agent for the dining Commons of Haverford College, Haverford, Pa., a position she held for nine years. Her son John and his family, of Philadelphia. Miss Edith Dinger, a niece, and Marjorie Ruppe, both of Altoona, were dinner guests at the time of the shooting which occurred in Founders Hall. Roy Crittlington, a Negro, who had been employed in the kitchen of Founders Hall, but had been discharged because of drunkenness, murdered Mrs. Ginder as a means of avenging his discharge.

Every year some 10,000 youngsters are struck down with infantile paralysis, and in epidemic years the toll of this disease increases to 40,000. You can help these unfortunates by attending the Birthday Party for the President, in Centre Hall, Thursday evening, January 30.

F. Glenn Rogers, county superintendent of schools, has been named chairman to serve in Centre county on the Emergency Councils for Adult Education, Recreation and Youth.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

A birthday party was given in honor of Maurice Whitehill, by Mrs. Whitehill, at their home at "Woodcrest," north of State College, Saturday evening, to celebrate his 35th birthday. A birthday cake with the requisite number of lighted candles graced the table, while refreshments of various kinds were served to the invited guests. String music and vocal selections had a place on the program. The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Zesty, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Swanger and daughter Deloris, Irene Swanger, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gill, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Rinehart and daughters Lois and Kathryn, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Whitehill and son "Bert" and daughter Lois, all of Woodcrest; Mr. and Mrs. Claude Whitehill, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whitehill, Miss Kathryn Witmer, all of Oak Hall Station; Chuck Annual, of New York.

THE JACKSON DAY DINNER.
The Jackson Day dinner to be given Tuesday evening, at the Nittany Lion Inn, State College, is being arranged for by William Litke, Esq., law partner of Senator Jack Thompson. The guest speakers had not been announced at the time the Reporter went to press.

IT'S A FACT—SICK OR WELL—PEOPLE MUST EAT

Miss Mary A. Rothrock, R. N., superintendent of the Clearfield hospital, sends this information to newspapers throughout the state: Sick or well, people must eat.

And the sick in the 221 hospitals in Pennsylvania consumed about 45,000 tons of food a year. That "snack" costs about $10,000,000.

That gigantic annual meal consists of 4,000,000 dozens of eggs, 3,000,000 pounds of butter, 7,500,000 quarts of milk and cream, 1,500,000 quarts of ice cream, 8,000 tons meat, fowl and fish, 1,000,000 pounds of coffee, besides vegetables, bread, rolls and other foods.

Part of that food goes into nearly 3,000,000 special "prescription" meals in a year. There's as much science in those diets as there is in a delicate druggist's prescription. Compare that with a typical hospital diet of 100 years ago. Three times a day those ancient patients got a pint of coffee or chocolate and a quarter pound of bread. Once a day they got a pint of soup and a quarter pound of meat. No wonder scientific hospital meals are more costly. And six out of every ten patients can't afford to pay a cent. So, out of that $10,000,000 yearly cost for food close to $5,000,000 is spent on the poor.

That's only one item the hospital contributes to charity.

SHIRLEY TEMPLE IN "THE LITTLEST REBEL" AT THE PLAZA

Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, afternoon and evening, "The Littlest Rebel," starring Shirley Temple, with John Boles, Jack Holt, Karen Morley and Bill Robinson, will show at the Plaza Theatre, Bellefonte. The theatre management is greatly pleased to present this picture to the theatre-going public at this time. The little star, outshines every previous performance, which is saying a lot. Don't miss "The Littlest Rebel."

4-H LAMB FEEDING CLUB ROUNDUP, SATURDAY, 4TH

The Centre County Boys' and Girls' 4-H Lamb Feeding Club will hold their county roundup in the Livestock Judging Pavilion at State College on Saturday, January 4, at two o'clock, according to County Agent R. C. Blaney.

There will be fifteen pens of three lambs each on exhibition, or a total of 45 lambs. The lambs will be judged by P. C. McKenzie, nationally known sheep judge of the Pennsylvania State College.

The best nine pens as selected by the judge in this roundup will be taken to Harrisburg and compete with other counties for State honors.

The following breeds will be represented: Shropshire and Hampshire. The club members have had their lambs on feed since the middle of August.

This roundup will be of interest to Centre county people as they will have a chance to see the county exhibits before they are sent to the Farm Show, and the public is cordially invited to attend. The Stock Judging Pavilion is heated and the roundup will be held regardless of weather conditions.

Man is the only animal that can be skinned more than once.

FRAZIER—LONG.

On Saturday evening a wedding was solemnized at the Reformed parsonage when Miles B. Frazier, son of Charles D. Frazier, of Brush Valley, and Miss Mary E. Long, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Long, also of Brush Valley, were united in marriage, the ring ceremony of the Reformed church having been used. The groom has developed a prosperous milk route throughout the valley, delivering to the Dadsyren's Beasne station at Spring Mills. The bride is a graduate of Centre Hall high school, and well known to the young people of this community. By January 1st they expect to be house-keeping in the former Rossmann home near Penna Cave. The best wishes of their friends go with them into this new life and New Year.

MUSSER—WAGNER.

The marriage of Miss Helen Elizabeth Wagner, the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Irvin Franklin Wagner, of Florida, and Musser W. Gettig, of Bellefonte, was solemnized in the Grace Evangelical church at Lemoyne, 21st ult.

Mrs. Gettig was a former school teacher in Bellefonte. Mr. Gettig, an attorney, is a son of the late S. D. Gettig, Esq. The couple will live in Bellefonte.

WALKER—ROYER.

Charles Curtis Walker, of Blanchard, and Mrs. Ruth Viola Royer, of Rebersburg, were united in marriage Monday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Weaver, Mill Hill, by the Rev. Wm. M. Loxz, pastor of the Mill Hill Church of Christ.

LETTING FOR CONSTRUCTION ROAD IN GREGG-PENN RECALLED

An advertisement appearing in the Centre Reporter, date of December 18th, authorized by Warren Van Dyke, Secretary of Highways, calling for bids for the construction of 14,276 linear feet of bituminous surface on a native stone or crushed aggregate base eighteen feet wide, including two reinforced concrete structures, in Gregg and Penn townships, this county, was recalled by Mr. Van Dyke in a letter dated December 20. No further explanation or reason for the recalling of the advertisement was made.

There is some ground for the presumption that the type of road will be changed from a bituminous surfaced road to a reinforced concrete road, and that a contract for the construction of such a road will be let at some near future time. It appears Penna Valley had been assured that when this road was built it would be of the modern concrete type. Since there is not a foot of concrete road in the entire section of lower Penna Valley it is claimed the demand for such a road is reasonable and will be complied with by the State Highway Department.

TRINITY REFORMED S. S. PRESENTS CHRISTMAS PLAY

The Trinity Reformed church school presented a one-act play by Mary Russell, entitled "When the Prince of Peace Was Born," in the local church Sunday evening prior to Christmas.

The story of the play basically is the one taken from the famous "Legend of Cathay." The incidents of the Nativity were re-enacted with special emphasis on making Him gifts of service, substance and self. All the departments of the school participated.

The scene was a street in Bethlehem. The cast follows:

CIGARETTE DEALER PRIVILEGE AND AMUSEMENT PERMITS MUST BE RENEWED FOR 1936

The divisional chief of stamp and amusement taxes, Department of Revenue, announces that all permanent amusement permits and cigarette dealers' permits issued for 1935 expired with the year.

Persons who between July 22, 1935, and the present day held any form or manner of entertainment, for which there was a charge, but who have for some reason failed to secure their permits from the Department of Revenue, as well as those who obtained permits but failed to make the necessary reports and remittances are requested to communicate with the District Office at once, in order to avoid the harsh penalties inflicted under the Amusement Tax Act.

PRIZES AWARDED IN XMAS LIGHTING CONTEST

Judges made the rounds of the town the night after Christmas to view the illuminations and name the winners. The results were as follows:

First prize (a handsome electric alarm clock), to J. P. Wetzel.
Second prize (an I. E. S. approved Better Sight floor lamp), to Chris. Morrow.
Third prize (a sandwich toaster), to Mrs. T. L. Moore.

Honorable mention was accorded the following: B. Gardner Grove, F. P. Geary, Ernest A. Frank, Rev. J. M. Kirkpatrick, James I. Fetterolf.

The Reporter takes the liberty to add to the names above, the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel S. Daup and Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Goodhart, whose Christmas illumination was presented on a most elaborate scale. To fall to give recognition in these instances would indeed be most unjust.

Many other homes in the town reflected the Christmas spirit with pretty decorations.

The judges, in making their decisions, gave greatest consideration to beauty with simplicity, in which designs showing a center of interest caught the eye.

The three judges selected in the contest were, Miss Betty Ebricht, Muth M. Bailey and "Jack" Clodron, all Penn State students.

LOCAL BOY SCOUT TROOP OF 13 MEMBERS ORGANIZED

On Thursday evening, December 19, the following boys registered and were enrolled in the Local Boy Scout Troop: Bob Gerhart, Francis Snyder, James Gerhart, William H. Kerlin, Edgar Harter, Robert Goodhart, John Kirkpatrick, Charles Rumer, Donald Foust, Dean Runkle, Harold Smith, Russell Reish, John Knarr.

Their ages range from 12 to 15.

The next meeting will be held in the community Fire Hall, Thursday evening, January 2. Any boys interested in enrolling please come to this meeting.

Prof. J. F. Wetzel is Scout Master and R. S. Jamison, assistant. The troop committee is comprised of J. P. Wetzel, W. W. Kerlin, Daniel S. Daup and Rev. L. A. Wagner.

T. B. TRIENNIAL RETEST IN POTTER BEGAN DECEMBER 30

The triennial retest for TB, under the direction of the Bureau of Animal Industry, began in Potter township on Monday. At the time of the last test only five animals in the township were marked as reactors or positive, the number representing one-tenth of one per cent. Potter township has the largest number of cattle of any township in Centre county.

SG FROM CENTRE COUNTY IN SOPHOMORE CLASS, P. S. C

In the Sophomore class at Penn State there are eighty-five from Centre county. Students from this section are:

Centre Hall—John C. Clodron, Education; Sarah J. Odenkirk, Liberal Arts; Richard H. Ross, Agriculture.
Boalsburg—Lyndall Whitehead, Liberal Arts.
Rebersburg—Woodrow W. Bierly, Liberal Arts.
Spring Mills—Charles W. Hosterman, Agriculture.
Smulton—Donald G. Detwiler, Agriculture.

POTTER TWP. PWA PROJECT TO GRAVEL COLYER ROAD

The $14,405.03 allotted to Potter township under the PWA will be applied to surfacing with gravel the Colyer road, beginning at a point a short distance west of the C. S. Thomas farm westward to the bridge at Colyer, from there to Colyer school house and on westward by the A. J. Weaver farmstead to the H. A. McClellan farm. This is a portion of the original State highway as laid out from State College to Potters Mills.

The work will start in the near future and will be directed by the Potter township supervisors, namely, C. E. Bradford, John Bubb and Edward Laughner, the latter succeeding J. M. Carson. The supervisors have the privilege to appoint two foremen and a timekeeper.

KEELER APPOINTS DEPUTY.

Charles B. Musser, Bellefonte, was appointed deputy sheriff by Sheriff-elect Harry V. Keeler. He is a native of Haines township and was the Republican candidate at the last election defeated for the office of register by John L. Wetzel. Merrill Showers, of Walker township, a brother-in-law of Keeler, was named turnkey.

All on work relief jobs got day-and-a-half holidays with pay at Christmas and New Year's, putting them on a level with all other Federal employees. Of course, the order might be tested before the Supreme Court by the haters of the New Deal.

Peter Denny, 56, of Tyrone, working in Bellefonte as an extra brakeman for the P. R. R., was found unconscious along the highway near McCoy's dam. His head was injured and both feet frozen.

CHRISTMAS DINNERS.

Christmas dinners and parties were given by many of the families in Centre Hall, some of which came under the Reporter's observation:

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Durst, their two sons, Robert and James, Hale Ross, the father of Mrs. Durst, Mr. and Mrs. David Mothersbaugh, and daughter Barbara, Mr. and Mrs. Linn Ross and sons Junior and Frederick, made up a Christmas party entertained by George Mothersbaugh and daughter, Miss Ruth, near Boalsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Goodhart and Mrs. Myra Winegardner were guests for the day of Mr. and Mrs. John Reiarick at Rock Springs.

Surrounding the Christmas dinner table at the F. P. Geary home were Mrs. Geary's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Smith, of Bellefonte, and Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Hosterman, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Jamison.

Mrs. Sally Ruble entertained two of her daughters, Miss Catharine and Miss Estella, also a gentleman friend of Miss Catharine's, all of Baltimore, Md., and Mrs. Runkle's brother, Claude Hoy and wife, of Lemont.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Kerlin and Christmas dinner to Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Flink, an uncle and aunt, and the family table was surrounded by Harvey Flink, and Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Dutrow had as invited guests Mr. and Mrs. Claude Dutrow and children; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bair and family, Smulton; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Walker and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Walker. This was probably one of the largest dinner parties given in town.

The Christmas dinner party at the home of C. Nevin Kryder included Mrs. Strohmeyer sister of Mrs. Kryder, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Homan and daughter, Miss Mildred.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fetterolf had for their Christmas dinner guests, their respective parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Fetterolf and Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Frank, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Frank and son Junior, and Kenneth Frank.

Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Light were hosts at a Christmas dinner to a group of relatives among whom were Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Gould, parents of Mrs. Light, Heigtstown, N. J.; also an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Hayes Reish, Pittsburgh, and Messrs. Reish, of Millifield.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Spayd had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dutrow, Albert Dutrow, P. H. Luse, George Luse, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Luse and two small children.

Surrounding the J. C. Goodhart family evening dinner table were Mrs. Goodhart's elderly parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob C. Lee, Centre Hill, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Goodhart and family, from the Goodhart home, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Goodhart.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. Keller, of Laurel, Delaware; Miss Charlotte Keller, Buckhill Falls, children of Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Keller, also Mr. and Mrs. John Lucas, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Keller, and Christ D. Keller comprised the guests at a Christmas dinner at the D. K. Keller home.

A Christmas party that turned into a birthday party was given by Mr. and Mrs. J. Cloyd Brooks, on Rhoney-made farm, in honor of their daughter, Miss Frances. Guests who participated in the affair included Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Brooks and children Mrs. Irwin, Miss Lola Packer, Ralph Packer, L. O. Packer, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Reisher and two small children, Mrs. Lynn Platt, Jack, Madeline and Betty Platt, Misses Gladys and Roberta Smith, Miss Lois Packer, Ralph and Ross, Misses Margaret Ross, Hazel Smith, Betty Ebricht, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Ebricht, Hug, Morrow, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Weaver.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Sweeney were hosts to the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sweeney, and Mr. and Mrs. Bright Orwig, at a Christmas (noon) dinner, and in the evening all including Mr. and Mrs. Brenne Tibbens and children, Pleasant Gap, were entertained at the Sweeney home, Potters Mills.

"Squire" R. M. Smith, Misses Estella Hosterman, Gladys Smith, Roberta Smith, and "Jim", were guests in Millheim of Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Malone. Mrs. Malone and Miss Hosterman are sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Runkle were hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bradford, and Mrs. Sallie Smith, mother of Mrs. Runkle.

The guests surrounding the evening dinner on Christmas day at the D. M. Bradford home included Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur McClellan, and young son, Lock Haven, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bradford, Miss Isabel Bradford and Robert Walker.

Mr. and Mrs. James Brooks had as their guests their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brooks, Miss Lilac Brooks, and James Brooks, Jr.; also Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Reish, of Altoona.

Mrs. Laura Lee, Mrs. Grace Breen, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Breen, Miss Laura Breen and Jack Glenn made up the guests at the Sari Mastellar home at Dewart. The hostess is the eldest daughter of Mrs. Breen.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Miller had the pleasure of being in turn to entertain the Miller-Frazier-Lee family groups. The families were represented by:

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST FROM ALL PARTS

"Squire" R. M. Smith and "Squire" F. K. Frank have commissions, two days' odd.

Bruce R. Runkle, Mr. and Mrs. John White and Miss Laura White will attend the funeral of Mrs. White's brother, Dr. S. C. Runkle, in Philadelphia, on Friday.

In a fall while skating on a pond at Laurelton State Village, Harold M. Musser, a Millifield hardware dealer, fell and fractured the right arm at two places above the elbow.

George and David Gelas, of Philadelphia, sons of Mr. and Mrs. D. Wagner Gelas, Bellefonte, were at their home on Christmas. The former returned home on Thursday and the latter on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger T. Bayard were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Cloyd Brooks, at Rhoney-made, the Rhone home, on Christmas. Mr. and Mrs. Bayard will start on their California trip by January 14.

In this issue appears an advertisement inserted by the Commissioner of Fisheries, O. M. Deibler, declaring Beech Creek from the dam at Beech Creek to Orviston closed as a nursery stream and fishing prohibited for a year, beginning February 1st, next.

A Master Town Chevrolet sedan was delivered to George F. Gardner, of Wilmington, Delaware, by E. W. Miller of the Miller Motor company. Mr. Gardner came north as far as Harrisburg to which city the car was delivered.

The only representative from Centre county among the fifteen Penn State Players is Miss Betty Ebricht, of Centre Hall. The Players are a student dramatic organization at the Pennsylvania State College. Prof. A. C. Cloetingh is in charge.

The engagement of Philip H. Johnson district attorney of Centre county, and Miss Marie Chambers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Chambers, of Clarence, was announced a few days ago, but no date of wedding was given.

Mrs. Bruce Krumrine was a pleasant caller here on Friday. The family is living on the Emerick farm, formerly McCoy farm, at Potters Mills. While they have decided to change location, they have not determined for a certainty to which of several sections they will go.

Mrs. Della Reiber and daughter, Miss Ruth Reiber, of town, and Miss Rosella Hettinger, of Spring Mills, were guests of friends in Carlisle on Christmas day where the former's son is located. While in that city they attended the Christmas service at the Medical post at the barracks.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Bloom entertained the Bartholomew family on Thursday the occasion being a birthday party for Jean Bartholomew. Guests other than the family named were Miss Mary Helen Bartholomew, Altoona and fiancé, William Kepler, a Princeton University student.

Miss Beatrice Baumgardner, a student in the school for nurses in the Presbyterian hospital, Philadelphia, was a guest from Sunday to Tuesday of Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Goodhart. Miss Baumgardner, a C. H. H. S. graduate, will finish her course in nursing with much credit during next spring.

The faculty members of the Centre Hall high school, comprised of J. P. Wetzel, principal, R. S. Jamison, Agnes Jamison, W. R. McCormick, attended the Pennsylvania State Educational Association convention, at Harrisburg, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The convention represents the annual convention of teachers of the State.

Bruce Hettinger almost lost the index finger on the left hand when it became entangled in a chain with which he was about to fasten a cow to her stall. The animal made a quick movement backward just as the T was slipped through the ring, manning the finger so that amputation was thought the only solution, but the surgeon is attempting to save it.

Students from Colleges who were at their respective homes in or near Centre Hall include: Vinton McClellan, Gettysburg; Betty Ebricht, Muth Bailey, Fred Spzyker, Ralph Packer, Jean E. Rishel, Samuel T. Ross, Hazel M. Smith, Sarah Odenkirk, William P. Campbell, Richard H. Ross, John C. Clodron, Penn State; Miriam Mitterling and Thelma Clark, Williamsport Business College.

Richard S. Bailey, local amateur radio operator of Station WSKQQ, sitting in his room at his home in Centre Hall, Sunday afternoon, was in wireless telephonic communication with a U. S. geological engineer in far-off Greenland. The reception here was so strong as to make it possible to hear the voice in all parts of the house. Richard's signal strength was likewise good, according to the word of the Greendler. While the distance is amazingly great, it is not to be compared with that to Australia, half-way round the world, where "Dick's" signals were heard, but the foreign station's transmitting power was not sufficiently strong to carry the message here. Reception, however, was confirmed by post card.
