380 AT JACKSON DAY DINNER AT NITTANY LION INN

The Jackson Day dinner held Tuesday evening at Nittany Lion Inn, State College, was attended by 380 persons, ladies and gentlemen, from all sections of Centre county.

The principal speaker was Dr. J. F. Bogardus, Assistant Secretary of Forests and Waters. His address, as one would expect, was devoted almost exclusively to historical facts in the life of Andrew Jackson as a boy, later as a legislator, military officer, judge, and finally as a president and founder of the Democratic party as found today. In closing he recited the accomplishments of the Roosevelt administration, and frequently throughout his address referred to the fighting spirit of the two presidents, in all cases espousing the cause of the people.

Hon. Lowell Alexander, representing Mifflin county in the State Legislature, referred to the fact that he was one of several Centre county Democrats who labored in the adjoining county and was successful in being elected to office, Charles C. Duck, the present sheriff of that county, being another.

Mr. Alexander was followed by Representative Blake Shugarts, of Clearfield county, and then by Hon. John W. Decker, Mr. Decker referred to the difficulty in accomplishing the passing of bills due to obstinance of the Senate leaders. He spoke with greater freedom than heretofore, indicating he will prosecute a vigorous campaign throughout the summer months.

Ray Gilliland, representing the Owners Home Loan, presented an array of figures of great interest, as did also Charles Freeman, District 10 Works Progress Administrator, who presented a well prepared report of the activities of the WPA in his district.

Ralph Bashore, who holds a State job in the State Capitol, was permitted to tell stories, which is his long suit.

Senator Thompson was the last speaker, who like the first to occupy the floor, devoted his remarks largely to the admirable qualities of the President, and later to the accomplishments of the Roosevelt Administration. He finished with a story on a Scotchman that capped the climax.

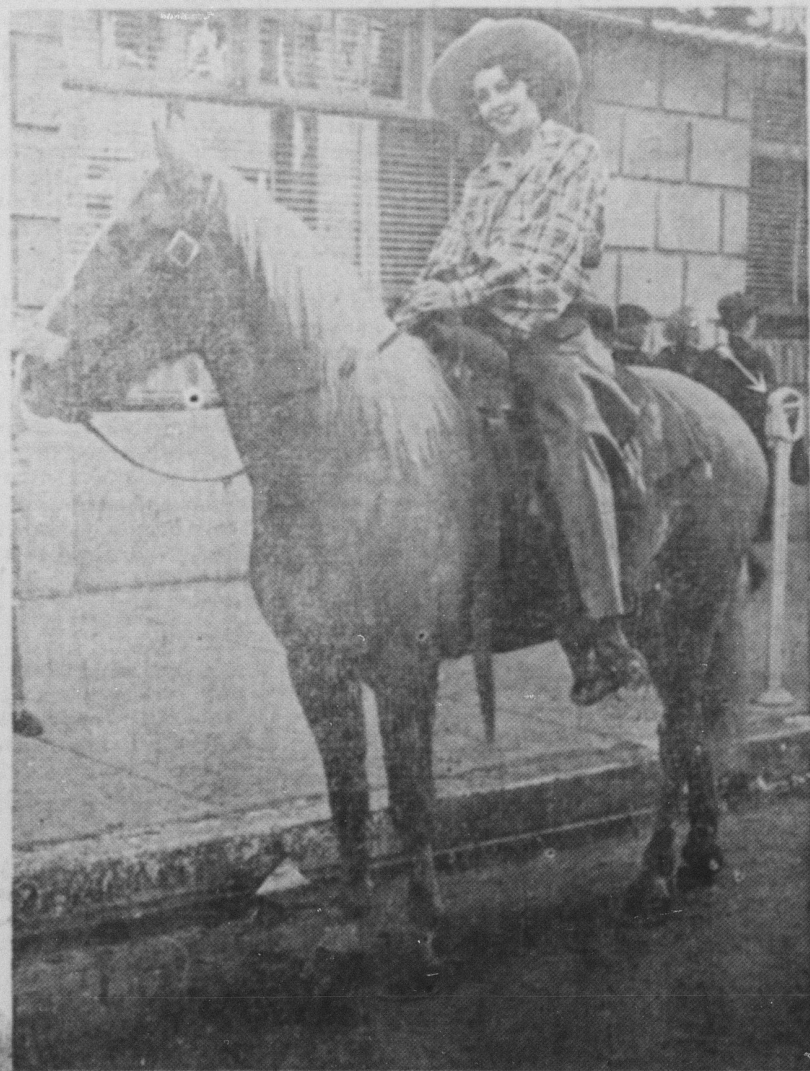

The presiding officer was Ivan Walker, Esq., who presided without appropriating undue time to himself, an appreciated quality in a chairman.

She Tells Them How to Park

Dallas, site of the Texas Centennial Exposition next year, has installed parking meters on its main downtown streets. For a nickel in the slot, motorists may leave their car beside the meter for periods from 20 minutes to one hour, according to the time marked on each meter. An additional nickel extends the period.

Clarice Mollenkamp, of the Exposition Rangerettes, is shown above as she tours the streets, the Exposition's ambassador of good-will, to explain to out-of-town motorists just how the meters work.

LADIES BAZAAR

MR. AND MRS. H. LEVIN

LEWISTOWN

Monday night reorganized by reelecting all former officers excepting the fire chief, in which case J. H. Knarr succeeds C. W. Booser. The other officers are J. S. Booser, president; W. A. Henney, vice-president; D. W. Bradford, treasurer, and T. L. Moore, secretary.

During the past year the fire fighting equipment has been very materially improved, and most of the funds were provided through projects sponsored directly by members of the organization, who in turn gave the movements strong patronage. A factor not to be lost sight of was the contribution of material and labor by individual members, leading in which laudable deeds were the president and vice-president.

The borough council would do the community a signal service if it would liberally contribute to the further upbuilding of the fire-fighting equipment.

OLD SEA CAPTAIN SHOWING WONDERS OF THE WORLD HERE

Captain Anderson and his 30 Wonders of the World are here and will exhibit at the Grange Hall in Centre Hall, two days and nights, Wednesday and Thursday of this week, Jan. 8 and 9. Admission reduced to 10 cents.

Among his collection is a baby whale, and a big monster caught in the ocean, with a head and tail like a monkey and wings like a bird; a big sea serpent dragon, octopus and a large collection of wonders. Worth going miles to see. "Jerry, the Funny Man," will make you laugh.

Captain Anderson carries with him letters from various responsible parties in cities in which he has shown, declaring his exhibit to be worth seeing. So don't miss it at this small cost of admission.

From headquarters it is learned that Birthday Balls for the President will be larger in number this year than during any of the three years ago.

the gatherings have been held. The outlook locally is first class to exceed the delightful evening had a year ago.
