

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

Mrs. T. L. Smith will make sale of her household goods and furniture on March 31, at 12:30 o'clock.

The State College borough council accepted the offer of the State College Water Company to sell its plant to the borough for the sum of $250,000.00.

Wednesday morning the general condition of Mrs. V. A. Auman was reported slightly improved over that of a week ago, at which time she had been very dangerously ill.

A small barn on the Stahl place, west of the boro line, and a stable on the John Benner lot, were partially crushed by the heavy load of snow which had lodged on the roof of the buildings.

Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Jodon, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Corman and daughters, Arlene and Cherry Yvonne, motored to Johnstown on Sunday where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Hughes Bringer and young daughter.

The Woman's Missionary society and Young People's Missionary Circle of the local Evangelical church will give a program on Sunday evening at 7:30. The W. M. S. will have charge of the devotions and the Y. P. M. will present the drama "The Call of the Hills."

Miss Helen Bartholomew became a patient in the Centre County hospital on Monday morning and expects to remain for a week under observation. In a fall she badly bruised the left knee, but there are no bone fractures as is shown by X-ray photographs. Fortunately, she suffers but slight pain at this time.

George Luse was at his home here over the week-end. He is engaged by the Central Penna. Guernsey Association as an official tester, and covers the counties of Centre, Blair and Cambria. Notable herds tested by him are two of Charles Schwab, the steel man, on his Loretta farms.

Mrs. Shannon Booser entertained the following at a Valentine bridge party, Friday night: Mrs. S. V. Goodhart, Mrs. W. F. Keller, Mrs. Roy Jamison, Mrs. George Rimmey, Mrs. Wm. Bradford, Mrs. Robert Neff and Mrs. Warren Homan. 'Valentine' refreshments were served.

The American Guernsey Cattle Club announces the election of Howard E. and Lee J. Walker, of Rebersburg, to membership. The Walkers have a herd of registered Guernseys on their farm at Rebersburg. The American Guernsey Cattle Club is a national organization of 25,000 breeders of purebred Guernseys.

The net cash price to be paid the members of the Sheffield Producers Cooperative Association for Grade B milk testing 3.5% butterfat in the 201-210 mile zone is $1.96 per 100 lbs. for milk delivered during January. This is 4 cents per 100 lbs. above the price for January, 1935, and the highest price for January milk since 1931.

The concert given by the State College Glee Club, the Varsity Male Quartet and the Hy-Los, in the Schwab Auditorium, on Sunday afternoon, was attended by Mrs. F. V. Goodhart, Mrs. H. W. Potter, Mrs. W. A. Odenkirk, Miss Helen Odenkirk, Mrs. J. S. Booser, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Wetzel, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Ebright, all of town.

The senior chemistry class of the local high school took a field trip last Thursday, visiting the Central Pennsylvania Gas Company's plant, near Axe Mann. The superintendent of the plant accompanied the members of the class on an inspection tour, explaining in detail the process of manufacturing water gas and explaining the difference between it and natural gas. The class was accompanied by the faculty advisor, W. E. McCormick.

Miss Alice Burkholder received notice last week that she had successfully passed the final examination of the State board of nurses, ranking third in her class, which now makes her a full-fledged registered nurse. She is located in Philadelphia on private duty work for Dr. Stacker, chief operating surgeon at the Methodist hospital, of which institution the young lady is a graduate. Miss Burkholder and two other nurse classmates are living in a small apartment.

The local high school was closed Friday on account of snow-bound rural roads. Many inquiries from the rural sections, Thursday evening, when weather conditions were particularly unfavorable, demanded action that evening, especially if the interests of the rural group which comprises 62% of the enrollment, were to be considered, many of whom travel great distances and must leave their homes as early as 7 o'clock in the morning. During the week previous to closing the school had about a 20 per cent. absentee list.

About four inches of snow fell on Thursday during the day, and at night several more inches were added, together with a considerable fall of rain. Friday it warmed up to some extent, loosening snow and ice from buildings, but made no impression on the miles of huge snow banks. Saturday and Sunday temperatures were moderate. Monday noon snow fell, but most of it melted immediately. During the night three-fourths of an inch of snow and sleet fell, and Tuesday morning a high wind chased it about. Tuesday night mercury fell to seven below and the wind subsided.

Indians Said Devil Lived Here

"The Devil's Tombstone," shown above, is in Palo Duro Canyon, near Canyon City, Texas, 18 miles south of Amarillo. The canyon is one of the beauty spots of Texas that will lure tourists in their 1936 visit to the Texas Centennial Exposition at Dallas and other celebrations throughout the state. The rock drew its name from an Indian belief that it was the burial marker of an evil spirit.

Gun Girl

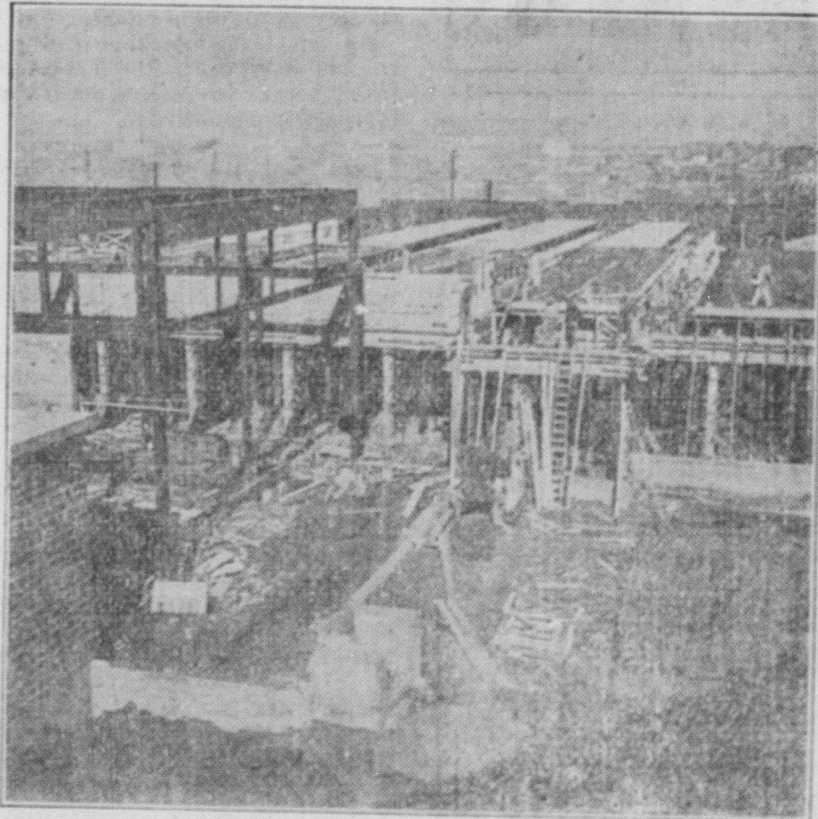

The gun which Helen Stamps, Texas Exposition Rangerette, holds, is from the collection of A. W. Discher, of Dallas. Eighteen notches on its stock attest to its efficiency in frontier Indian fighting. This, an 1827 Spencer Indian and Buffalo gun, and others from the Discher collection will be displayed during the Exposition which opens in Dallas June 6.

Fly Roses to Dallas' Grave

Exposition Livestock Building Grows

This photograph gives a realistic idea of how rapidly work is progressing on the Texas Centennial Exposition's huge lot in Dallas. All of the frameworks shown above are part of Livestock Building No. 2, one of two structures which will house the greatest stock show the United States has seen. The two buildings, their construction cost close to $166,900 will contain an ultra-modern veterinarian hospital.

Sam Houston's "Man" Gets a Job

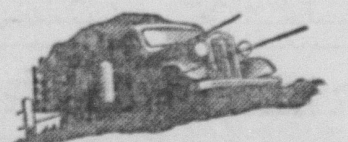

"Uncle Ro' Adams, once body servant to Gen. Sam Houston, will be 100 years old, March 2, 1936, the day Texas, where Gen. Houston ever will be a historic figure, celebrates its one hundredth year of independence from Mexico. "Uncle Ro'" is shown above as William A. Webb, manager of the Texas Centennial Exposition, which opens at Dallas June 6, assures him he will have an Exposition job.
