POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

For General Assembly.

We are authorized to announce the name of John W. Decker, of Gregg Township, as a candidate for the office of Representative in the General Assembly, subject to the rules governing the Democratic party as expressed at the primary election to be held Tuesday, April 28, 1936.

CRIMINAL COURT OPENS.

The cases disposed of at the Monday morning session were all of a statutory nature, all of the defendants pleading guilty except Laund Butler, of Howard, who, charged with F. and B. was acquitted by the jury.

Pleading guilty to F. & B. Ledy Peters, of Philipsburg, was ordered to pay costs, a fine of $1, and was given a suspended sentence of one year in the Allegheny County Work House. Pleading guilty to similar charges, Pearl McKibben of Salona, was directed to pay the costs and a fine of $1, and John McKinney of Philipsburg to pay like costs and a fine and in addition to post a $300 bond until fulfillment of sentences. In sentencing each of these four men the Court specified that they pay the usual fee to the plaintiffs over the customary period.

The turkey case was settled by attorneys making motions, which were accepted by the Court, permitting a direct verdict without a jury of not guilty, placing the cost on the county. The turkey was valued at $7.50. It was charged by H. A. Holter, of Nittany, that Lloyd Davy and Purley DeHaas, of Blanchard, had stolen the bird. The plan above adopted was due to lack of proper identification of the person supposed to have stolen the bird.

In the case of Roy Miller, Bellefonte, vs. Leroy Sayers, Yarboll, assault and battery against his sister, wife of the plaintiff. The controversy was said to have been over a gun. Not guilty the jury said, and divided the costs between prosecutor and defendant.

Pleading guilty to the violation of the motor vehicle code when driving under the influence of liquor, John A. Streib, state College, was ordered to pay the costs and a $25.00 fine, also undergo imprisonment in the county jail for ten days.

William H. Coleman, Esq., of McKeesport, will assist former Judge Arthur C. Dale in defending Joe Hine charged with having murdered Hugh Muirhead, at Bellefonte.

The 4839 undergraduates at Penn State College represent twenty-seven religious beliefs. The three predominant are Presbyterians, 906; Methodist, 800; Roman Catholics, 685; Lutherans, 550.

FOR SALE—1936 Chevrolet Town Sedan only 2,000 miles. Will sell for $500.00.—L. H. Garbrick, Centre Hall

Deaths

FROHM.—Mrs. James E. Frohm died at her home, two miles east of Centre Hall, at 5:40 o'clock Monday evening, from complications which kept her close to her home and in bed much of the time during the past year or more.

Mary Elizabeth Weaver was the daughter of George and Sallie Weaver, and was born in Potter township, August 12, 1887, making her age at death, 48 years, 6 months and 12 days. She is survived by her husband, previously named, and two children, Mrs. James Brooks, Centre Hall; Mrs. William Mills, Milesburg. A son, Bruce, is deceased. There also survive her mother, Mrs. Sallie E. Weaver, Spring Mills, and these brothers and sisters: Mrs. Irvin Ebert, Zion; Samuel, at home; Charles and Mrs. William Smith, Spring Mills; Mrs. Miles Vonada and Russell, Zion, and Mrs. Harry Gilmore, Yeagertown. Also, five grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at the home, Thursday morning at 10:00 o'clock, from where burial will be made at Centre Hall, and thereafter services in the Lutheran church, her pastor, Rev. L. A. Wagner, to officiate.

BLOOM.—After an illness lasting for five years, William Henry Bloom aged 67 years, of Waddle, died Wednesday morning of last week from a complication of diseases.

Mr. Bloom was born December 19, 1868, near State College, a son of Henry and Susan Corl Bloom, both deceased. He was married August 31, 1890, to Miss Margaret Jordan, who survives his death. He was a member of the Pine Hall Reformed church and the Centre Hall lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

Surviving children are: Charles, of State College; Mrs. Mary Carper, of Huntingdon; Mrs. Walter Johnson, of Fairview, and Wilbur, living at home. He also leaves the following brothers and sisters: Corl Bloom, of Bellefonte; George Bloom, of Bellefonte; Mrs. Susan Hubler, Miss Stella Bloom, and Mrs. William Fisher, all of State College.

Funeral services were held from the K&B Funeral Home in State College Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with the Rev. Howard L. Wink of Boalsburg officiating. Burial was made in the Pine Hall cemetery.

IMMEL.—James Immel, retired farmer, of Greengrove, Gregg township, and later of Rote, Clinton county, died Thursday night at the Centre County hospital, following an illness with a complication of diseases. He is survived by five sons and six daughters: William O. Oak Hall, Wallace J., Madisonburg; Edward J. Spring Mills; Paul R., Unionville; Henry P., Mrs. John E. Ripka, and Mrs. Boyd Rachau, of Pleasant Gap; Mrs. Frank Dava, Salona; Mrs. Robert Gill, New Lancaster Valley, Mifflin county, and Carrie, Buffalo Run.

Funeral services were held at the Goodhart Funeral Home at Centre Hall Monday afternoon, and burial was made in the Paradise cemetery, west of Coburn.

KREAMER.—Mrs. Alice Kreamer, widow of the late J. H. Kreamer, died at her home in Harrisburg, Friday evening Feb. 14. Mrs. Kreamer had been an invalid for the past nineteen years as the result of a paralytic stroke, but death was due to pneumonia. Her husband, John H. Kreamer, a native of Millheim and a brother of Mrs. A. A. Frank, passed away three years ago.

Mrs. Kreamer, nee Van Ormer, was a native of Mifflin county, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Van Ormer. Her father was the operator of a flour mill in Millheim over a half century ago.

The deceased is survived by a daughter, Mrs. J. A. Shergar, and one grandson, John Shergar, of Harrisburg.

Funeral services were held from the late home last Wednesday afternoon; interment at Harrisburg.

DeLONG.—Dr. John F. DeLong, retired minister and a former pastor of the Bellefonte Reformed church, died at his home in Bethlehem. A graduate of Franklin and Marshall College, he was one of the church's best pastors.

Linden Hall.

Visitors at the Wm. Messmer home Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Messmer and children, of Loganton; Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Grassmyer and two daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Heckman, all of Spring Mills; Mr. and Mrs. Roy McClintic and children, of Centre Hill.

Edward Carper, of Unionville, visited Sunday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Carper.

Freda Horner, of Tusseyville, spent the week-end with her cousin, Bernadine Horner.

Charles Ross and John Reifensnyder made a business trip to Bellefonte on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy McClintic and children, of Centre Hill, were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClintic, Sunday evening.

Rev. and Mrs. West, of State College were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Messmer, Wednesday.

STUDENT NURSES' TRAINING IN CENTRE HALL HIGH SCHOOL

Not since 1927 has there been a nurses' training course taught in the local high school, and none at any time as efficiently as the elective course now available with Mrs. F. P. Geary as instructress.

More than thirty pupils are enrolled in the course which will continue for the remainder of the school year, during which time it is expected to cover the text being used, that of "Home Hygiene," published under the supervision of the American Red Cross.

The text includes information on general home cares such as bed making, baths, symptoms, and care of babies and adults. Special stress will be given communicable diseases.

As a significant part of the course, Mrs. Jamison plans to take the class to her home to teach them bed making and how to give a bath to a sick patient.

One of the major factors to be considered is how to substitute ordinary home appliances for professional needs; how to make a drinking tube out of a straw; how to make a bed tray out of an ironing board.

The object of the course is not to influence the pupils toward becoming nurses but to better acquaint them with the responsibilities of a home; how to detect diseases and how to prevent their spreading; how to care for an invalid in the family; what precautions to take in regard to contagious diseases.

The following girls are taking the course: Margaret Ross, Alice Spyster, Roberta Smith, Inez Luse, Martha Brooks, Louise Miller, Sara Homan, Mabel Foust, Agnes Neff, Bernice Frazier, Sara Slack, Marie Snyder, Ardah Ishler, Miriam Homan, Mildred Homan, Mildred Meyers, Lois Reese, Anna May Martz, Iona Barger, Miriam Fetterolf, Jean Slack, Darline Faust, Ethyl Meyer, Catherine Smith, Mildred Smith.

Notice, Odd Fellows.

The regular March meeting of the Centre County Past Grands' Association, I. O. O. F., will be held at the lodge rooms of State College lodge Monday, March 2, at eight o'clock.

The meeting will feature two interesting matters, namely, a debate between two teams from the Penn State College will be held on the subject: "Is the veto power exercised by the United States Supreme Court an impediment to our national progress?" There will also be an initiation of all past grands elected to membership in the association. Refreshments will follow the debate.

All Odd Fellows, whether members of the association or not are cordially invited and urged to attend. Let us make this a banner meeting.—Comm.

Potters, M.M.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Foust spent Thursday with friends in Lewistown.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. McCormick, Mrs. Laura McCormick, Miss Carolin McCluskey, Mrs. F. F. Palmer visited on Sunday afternoon at the home of J. T. McCormick, at State College.

Coleman Wingard and family took supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Carson, parents of Mrs. Wingard, on Sunday evening.

C. T. Miller and family, of near Tusseyville, accompanied by M. N. Miller, spent Saturday in Lewistown.

A wreck occurred on Saturday morning at the turn south of the village. Cars driven by Coleman Wingard of Spring Mills and James Frohm of Centre Hall, collided. No one was "at home," but both cars were damaged.

Mrs. John Meeker is visiting with friends in Altoona.

A total of 5,153 students are enrolled at Penn State for the second semester, according to the final report released by the Registrar's office on Wednesday. This is $62 more than last year's figure of 4,791.

COM. REFUSE TO APPOINT ATTORNEY FOR SHERIFF

County commissioners of a number of seventh class counties among which Centre county is numbered, are awaiting the outcome of a test case pending in the Bedford county courts, to be used as a guide in the administration of the new law regarding the Sheriff's office, according to John G. Love, of Bellefonte, attorney for the Centre county commissioners.

The commissioners of Bradford county, and a number of other counties in the same class, contend that when they have paid their Sheriff a salary of $3000 yearly, that is all the money to which he is entitled, and that expenses incurred in traveling will be paid by the county.

The Sheriff contends that he is entitled to collect mileage for the use of his car in carrying out the duties of his office.

Another contention that has developed in some counties, Centre county included, is over the question of a solicitor for the Sheriff. The new law makes no provision for the appointment of a solicitor of the Sheriff's office, and the commissioners are protesting. Centre County Commissioners object to appointing a solicitor but agree to pay for legal counsel to represent the Sheriff in any litigation in which he may become involved.

The outcome of the Bradford county
