

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

Dr. P. H. Dale, State College, is attending the College of Physicians in Detroit, this week.

George R. Dunlap, Pine Grove Mills, was named supervisor in the Welfare Department at a salary of $2400 a year.

Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Longwell, of Tyrone, and Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Barrett, of Pleasant Gap, were in Centre Hall on Sunday.

Miss Anna Jane Musser, of Rock Springs, visited for a few days with her aunts, Mrs. F. V. Goodhart and Mrs. H. W. Potter, in town.

Mrs. Franklin Sharer of Potters Mills is at the Jacob Sharer home at Centre Hall while under the care of a physician for boaling in the head.

Lynn Breon mashed the middle finger of the left hand while helping in brick laying at the grade school building, on Saturday. A physician dressed the injury.

Rev. W. K. Hosterman, pastor of the Evangelical church, on Wednesday, went to Red Lion, York county, where the annual Evangelical Conference is in session and will continue until next Monday.

Mrs. F. V. Jodon and daughters, Mrs. George L. Goodhart, and Mrs. A. L. Emery, on Thursday, attended a quilting in Millheim at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. L. Edgar Jodon.

A car driven by Albert L. Emery, rural mail carrier from Centre Hall post office, and a truck operated by Miles Barger, of West Brush Valley, collided on Monday evening, doing much damage to the Emery Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Spyker, during the latter part of last week attended the funeral of Samuel Spyker, Esq., an uncle of Mr. Spyker, in Huntingdon. The deceased attorney was prominent in political and legal affairs of Huntingdon county. His funeral was largely attended and the Huntingdon Bar association drew up and passed resolutions following the death of one of their members.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Hosterman, James and George Lutz, all of town, on Sunday, motored to Amity Hall to look over the ice jams along the Juniata river and flooding of sections along the river caused by them. The large restaurant at Amity Hall was surrounded by several feet of water, but the high water mark on the building was only a few inches—high enough.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Frazier, with their young son, motored to Philipsburg, on Wednesday, where Dr. Galbraith further examined the results of an operation for a foot correction made by him some months ago. The lad is just a year old. As was anticipated, the operation was entirely successful. John Wy'lan, ten, of near Potters Mills, accompanied the Fraziers to the Philipsburg State hospital, where he will undergo some form of operation for the correction of a condition in the feet.

Hugh Morrow, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Morrow, of Centre Hall, and for a year or more reporter of the Centre Daily Times, State College, has purchased the news service at Lewisburg conducted for several years by Walter Ruch, graduate of Bucknell University and former editor of the Bucknellian. Mr. Morrow takes possession immediately. He will serve daily newspapers in Philadelphia, New York, Harrisburg and Williamsport, with news happenings in Central Pennsylvania.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Emery, on Sunday entertained in honor of their youngest daughter, Mrs. W. F. McClellan, of State College, whose birthday anniversary fell on that day. Besides Mrs. McClellan and her three children, there were also present Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Finkel and daughter, Dorothy Ann, and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Barnett, all of Millifflingburg. Mr. Barnett is a friend of the Emery family through his thirty-five years' association with the merchant as candy salesman.

The Clover club held its February meeting at the home of Mrs. W. W. Kerlin, on Thursday evening, and was attended by Mrs. J. M. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. F. M. Fisher, Mrs. W. F. Bradford, Miss Grace Smith, Mrs. F. V. Goodhart, Mrs. Levan Smith, Mrs. Carrie Lieb, Mrs. W. F. Keller, Mrs. C. H. Homan, with Mrs. E. W. Durst as a guest. The light attendance was partially due to sickness on the part of members. No special business was transacted or questions discussed. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Logan Decker, born and reared in Decker Valley, who has made wild life somewhat of a study, predicts the grouse in Seven Mountains will nearly if not altogether become extinct unless more attention is given to the placing of food for them. On his way to Centre Hall, on Saturday morning, he was obliged to stop his car to permit one of the almost famished birds struggle out of the car's path. A few days previous, while in his fields, he discovered several grouse that had been partially eaten by some enemy, captured, no doubt, because of their inability to fly due to reduced vitality following insufficient food. This all indicates there is yet much wild life feeding to be done if any of our well-known game birds are to be preserved.

DISTRICT REBEKAH MEETING SPONSORED BY C. H. LODGE

The Rebekahs of Centre Hall entertained the four lodges of the southern district, Tuesday night at their bi-weekly district meeting, in Centre Hall. Approximately seventy members were present for the regular session. The lodges included in the southern district are those of Boalsburg, State College, Millheim, Spring Mills, and Centre Hall.

The officers of the district lodge are: Noble Grand, Sara Bailey; Vice Grand, Beatrice Homan; Secretary, Madaline Dutrow, Treasurer, Martha Mark, Warden, Ruth Reiber, Conductor, Margaret Stover; Chaplain Elizabeth Fiedler; Pianist, Della Reiber.

After the formal meeting the various lodges put on individual programs.

The Tussey Lodge put on a play entitled "Tax on Bachelors," with a cast as follows: Esther Homan, Margaret Faxon, Kathryn Gingrich, Emma Eliza Stuart, Margaret Dale, Bernadine Korman and Margaret Gingrich.

This was followed by a play, "Looking Out for Louisa," by the Valley Queen lodge, of Millheim, in which the following played: Virginia Kreamer, Hattie Bame, Sarah Kersavetter and Marion Slack.

Rhoda Dillon of State College gave a reading, "Me and My Downtrodden Sex," in which she analyzed the character of the male sex.

The Lady of the Valley lodge of Centre Hall presented a play, "The Henpecked Hollar Gossip," with the following players: Mrs. Sara Bailey, Mrs. Jane Knarr, Doris Moltz, Mrs. Lillian Moore, Mrs. Madaline Dutrow, Mrs. Fred Homan, Mrs. Edward Vogt, Mrs. Harvey Mark and Mrs. W. F. MacMorran.

The next district meeting will be held at Pine Grove Mills, March 16, Mrs. E. S. Erb, district deputy, announced.

WPA AUDITION BOARD COMMITTEE TO MEET SAT

The Works Progress Administration Board Committee for Centre county will meet in the auditorium of the Bellefonte high school at 1:00 p. m., Saturday, March 7.

The purpose of the meeting of this committee is to lay the foundation for an All-Pennsylvania Folk Festival to be held later this year. Specifically, at the time of this meeting, this audition board committee will judge the quality of the performance of those persons who are applicants for positions on this program.

Centre county has been allocated nine teachers for this work. It is important to note that only relief personnel is eligible for employment on this program. Persons appearing before the audition board committee are required to bring instruments, music or any other equipment or material necessary to enable the audition committee to grade the quality of their performance.

Ray A. Miller is Project Head of Education.

LOCALS

After continuing for two days, the second and last week of court adjourned on Tuesday.

LIMERICK.

I went out sliding at three
 I landed on top of a tree;
 And now I'm in bed
 With a patch on my head,
 And that's enough sliding for me.
