

Spring Mills

A Collection of Newsy Happenings and Personals from Gregg Township's Metropolis.

Mrs. Anne Smith, Mrs. Sarah Corman, Miss Josephine Stover and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Corman on Sunday, motored through flood-stricken areas about Lock Haven, Blanchard, Millersburg, and up Bald Eagle to Marha Furnace where they called on David Richards, a nephew of the farmer, and then back home by way of State College. They saw plenty of evidence of high waters.

Contributions for Flood Sufferers—J. C. Robinson and Mr. Fetteroff have in charge the collecting of food and clothing for the flood sufferers in Sunbury. Contributions may be left at the Spring Milling Co. plant, Silk Mill, or Vocational School. A large supply of milk, canned foods, and other foodstuffs have already been trucked to Sunbury, but the need has not yet been fully supplied.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Stovler motored to Sunbury, Milton, Daville, Shamokin, and other points on Sunday, hoping to contact friends exposed to high waters, but were unable to do so.

Dr. and Mrs. G. C. Thomas, for a few days, were quartered at the Smith-Corman home, while their home close to Penns Creek was untenable.

B. Frank Osman and J. O. McCormick, of Sunbury, are among friends here since Sunday.

Miss Mabel Brown, daughter of Samuel Brown, of Spring Mills, had a message announced over the radio that she was safe in Sunbury and likewise her brother, Harry, in Williamsport.

Ivy Burtges, who had been with his son, Ralph Burtges, a bookkeeper in the Bobb Shirt factory, Sunbury, during the winter, came to his home here on Sunday.

H. F. Erdley, cashier of the First National bank, was one of a group to visit flood areas about Lewistown, Lewisburg, Sunbury, West Milton, New Columbia, Watsonstown, and other points. Some most horrid sights were observed. At New Columbia a barn with the stock in it was carried away, and on Sunday one of the horses was astride a beam where it had died. The owner of the stock was a Mr. Troxell.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Odenkirk, of Centre Hall, recently visited Mrs. Birdie Krape, their aunt.

Gloria, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Wingard, is being kept in bed but continues to improve and is gaining in weight.

Ross Smith, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Smith, of 406 Napoleon street, in a badly flooded section of Johnstown, has not been heard from by his aunt, Mrs. Annie Smith. Nor has she heard from her sister, Mrs. M. M. Overly, in Clearfield, although the Overly family lives in a section not heretofore touched by flood waters.

Early Sunday morning an auto truck picked up laborers about here and took them to Lock Haven to assist in cleaning up the city.

Schools were closed at Spring Mills on Friday and Saturday, but opened again on Monday.

A milk train picked up milk cars at Spring Mills and Ockburn on Monday afternoon, the first train over the branch since Tuesday noon. The train came in from Bellefonte and returned the same way. The Dairy-men's League transported their milk in large truck tanks.

Russell Mark did not purchase the Harold Stover home, but he will occupy it by April 1st. Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Shunk have already moved some of their household effects to Port Matilda.

W. C. Auman and family, to be comfortable, were obliged to leave their home for a few days and took up quarters with E. T. Jamison, a near neighbor. Before the sinking creek began to cut capers, Mr. Auman moved a pen of hogs to high ground, and it was well he did.

The loss through death of Jasper A. Wagner was lamented by many persons spoken to by your correspondent. During the last thirty years he had closely contacted many families in Gregg and Potter townships, and all became his friends.

William H. Homan, on Sunday, dined with E. T. Jamison, his brother-in-law.

Visited Mother, 84—Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lee, on Sunday motored to Shenandoah where they visited with Mrs. Lee's mother, Mrs. Bella Bowman, who has attained her 84th year and continues to be in comparatively good health. Although they did not see their son, Robert Lee, connected with the Revenue Department, Grandmother Bowman told them she had heard her great-granddaughter, Jean, sing over the radio that morning, which convinced them that all was well in the Lee home in Reading.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee also failed to hear from their daughters, Beatrice now Mrs. David Wachetter, Bethel, and Dorothy, Mrs. J. K. Phof, Sallisbury, N. C., but believe they are safe.

Mrs. Blanche Diehl, of Millinburg, recently visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Dunlap.

Willard Hettlinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hettlinger, of Farmers Mills, underwent a hernia operation in the Centre County hospital. His condition since, considering the seriousness of the operation, is very fair.

Much of the top of the slide street along the rear yard and garden belonging to C. B. Stover was washed onto the Stover property. It was neatly piled, having the appearance of having been placed there for some particular purpose. The fence about the lot was also pushed over.

A farewell party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Skiles Monday evening at which there were present a large number of neighbors and friends, as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Brown Hackett and children, Mr. and Mrs. Bloomer Weaver and two sons, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Frazier and children; Mrs. Anna Frazier, Mr. and Mrs. George Hackett and two sons; Harry Hettlinger, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Burtges and son Charles E., Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Skiles and sons Wallace and Marvin. The latter two furnished string music during the evening. Lots of refreshments were furnished. The pleasant evening reflected the good will existing among the neighbors.

Tusseyville.

Mr. and Mrs. George Donabey and children, and Beulah Fohringer, of State College, called at the A. W. Holderman home Wednesday.

Mrs. Annie Rossman, having spent several months with her daughter, Mrs. Charles Geary, in Altoona, has again returned home.

C. P. Ramer, the local merchant, recently purchased a Ford car.

Many persons from this vicinity motored to Lewistown and nearby towns to see the flooded areas.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Grove and daughter, from Huntingdon, spent Sunday at the Wm. Martz home.

A. L. Slaterdeck purchased a horse at the Greenwald horse sale in Centre Hall on Monday.

Mark Fetteroff and family moved Monday from the Stoner home to the former Wm. Strong home at Colyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Eye of Bellefonte, and Charles Stoner and daughter Mary moved to the former Mrs. Henry Stoner home, purchased by Mr. Stoner recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Smith and baby daughter of near Rebersburg were Monday callers at the Wm Martz home.

Historic Gal!

Marion Rodgers, of Dallas, is the great-great-granddaughter of a Texas soldier who died in the famous "lottery of beans," after the battle of Mier in 1842. Of the 176 Texans captured by the Mexicans, 17 drew black beans from an earthen bowl and were shot to death, 159 drew white beans and were sent to a Mexican prison. Miss Rodgers, whose grandfather, Horace Isa Houston, was a first-cousin of Gen. Sam Houston, is a rangerette for the Texas Centennial Exposition opening in Dallas June 6.

Texas Exposition Gathers Speed In Exhibitors' Rush

Building Program Takes Form As 5,000 Workmen Labor 24 Hours a Day

DALLAS, Texas.—Three shifts of workmen—close to 5,000 men working 24 hours a day—are rushing the Texas Centennial Exposition's buildings to ward completion by the opening date, June 6.

The Exposition's own $15,000,000 construction program is well under way. The City of Dallas has broken ground on its $3,500,000 program, constituting seven permanent buildings which will form a vast civic cultural center when the Exposition is over.

The State of Texas is racing work on the $1,200,000 Hall of State, one of the show pieces of the fair. The Federal Government has its two buildings—the Federal Building and the Hall of Negro Life and Culture—ready to leave the drafting room stage and become realities.

The Midway, probably the greatest the United States has ever seen, is taking a tentative form as entertainment concessionaires fight for choice sites.

Not far from the industrial exhibits—where the latest exhibits of industry and science will be shown—the Exposition two Livestock Buildings are rising.

Here the greatest livestock show the nation ever has seen will be housed.

The buildings alone will cost $400,000, complete with a veterinarians' hospital and every modern device for the care of livestock.

The value of the stock which will be exhibited here between June 6 and Nov. 29 cannot be estimated.

Paul M. Massmann, in charge of the Exposition's exhibit department, already has laid before General Manager William A. Webb contracts for more than 80 per cent of the available Exposition display space.

Included among the exhibitors with whom negotiations have been completed are:
