PWA PROJECTS IN PROGRESS

Some sixty relief men were working on the PWA project calling for the widening of Route 45, at the western approach to Spring Mills, on Monday. The men are under the direction of A. B. Lee, foreman. It is intended to make the highway three-car width along the high ledge of rocks. Much of the material is being hauled to the road leading from the Sinking Creek bridge, at Corman's, to the Gregg Twp. Vocational school athletic field, which piece of road was badly damaged by the recent high water in Sinking Creek. This portion of road will be built considerably higher than heretofore.

During the coming summer the Sinking Creek road will be improved westward to Centre Hall. This is a Pinchot path. Nothing was done on it during the Pinchot administration, and but slightly more since, but it appears something will be done about it under the Potter, Gregg, Penn and Haines townships road PWA project.

A half-dozen men are taking measurements from the center of highways in various sections of Spring Mills to the nearest building—house, barn, or shed—immediately opposite. The width of the driveable or finished top is also being taken at the same points. The purpose of the measurements does not seem to be clear to the residents.

Taking all the projects, including that under the direction of the Gregg township road supervisors, close to one hundred men were at work in Gregg township on Monday.

Mrs. Pauline Rossmann, assistant to Mrs. Coleman Wingard, postmistress at Spring Mills, visited her daughters, Dorothy and Jean, at the Masonic home, Elizabethtown, over the weekend. She made the trip east by the Greyhound bus, but returned by rail and auto.

Mrs. Joseph Schwartz, of Fairmont, W. Va. visited in Spring Mills, her former home, at the Noll and Musser homes, returning home on Thursday. Mr. Schwartz is a merchant in the West Virginia city.

F. F. A. Sponsor Shooting Match—The Gregg Township Vocational school pupils who have done school and project work entitling them to wear the coveted letters, F. F. A., designating them as Future Farmers of America, are sponsoring a shooting match with the idea of enriching their treasury and permitting them to take their annual educational trip in June. The shooting match will be held in the vacant Roseman store building this (Thursday) evening, April 9, and will be well conducted. Prizes will include potatoes, flour, sugar, turkeys. Each contestant winning one-half or more number of rounds will be entitled to one chance for the floor prize. The young men earnestly solicit the patronage of the public and assure them the funds will be applied to further their educational work along F. F. A. lines. Give the boys a break.

The A. B. Lee water company pipe line, from Long's corner to Dunlap's, is being lowered under the frost line to prevent a recurrence of freezing like was the case during the past winter.

S. L. Condo, one of the few merchants in Centre county to handle heavy harness, had a run on sales of them since the beginning of April. Customers to buy complete sets were Adam Relah and Frank White, both farming in Brush, valley in the vicinity of Rebersburg. John McCool, also dressed up a team in new leather.

Three Coble Children Sick; One in Hospital—Three of the children of Charles Coble are seriously ill, the eldest, Gladys, having been taken to the Centre County hospital on Saturday. The other children, Dorothy, 8, and Betty, 7, are suffering from throat trouble. On Monday Betty was reported to be improving, but Dorothy's condition was regarded serious. The children live with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Beaten, Sherwood, 15 months old, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Decker, continues to be a patient in the Lewistown hospital. He is reported to be improving, but the parents were not permitted to remove him from the hospital on Saturday, on which day they visited him.

The Miles Johnson children, three of them, Mabel, 13; Francis, 9, and Louis, 6, are afflicted with tonsillitis, their condition, however, is improving.

Another person, on the "hill," who has been ill for several weeks, is Mrs. Vernon Godshall, who is suffering from a sinus condition. She and her husband are living with Mrs. Godshall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Shook.

On Monday morning Mrs. Godshall was taken to the Lewistown hospital where she has since been under observation, and probably by the time this issue of the Reporter reaches its readers she will have undergone an extensive mastoid operation.

Stover and daughter, Miss Josephine, on Wednesday, attended the funeral of Fred Burrow, at York, who is the husband of Mrs. Stover's sister, Mr. Burrow is well known about here, having frequently visited the Stover family and Mrs. Burrow's father, George N.
