HIGHLIGHTS IN ROOSEVELT'S NEW YORK SPEECH

It was a great speech President Roosevelt made in New York Saturday, a speech which summed up splendidly his entire liberal philosophy. Particularly, it was addressed to two groups of his critics: 1. The people who orate about "our great nation" and "this indivisible union" on Flag Day—and argue that agriculture, child labor, minimum wages are "local problems" on the other days of the year; 2. The plikers who are always yapping about the high cost of recovery. Because the Tories have distorted that truth; because they have preached national disunity to serve their own selfish purposes; because they have applauded such absurd notions as the declaration of the United States that "agriculture is a local problem."

What's all this howling about appointing Democrats to State and Federal positions? Who, among the living today, can recall a Democrat having been appointed to office during a Republican administration in the State or Nation. Republicans are doing the baby act in howling for the seat, when in or out. Just now, the seat is ours after a long patient wait.

DR. MARY WOLFE JUMPS FROM G. O. P. TO F. D. R. FOLD

Leaders in the State Republican councils are much exercised over the apparently sudden somersaulting of Dr. Mary M. Wolfe from the Republican to the Democratic fold, and took with her her assistant, Dr. Van Uzen. Dr. Wolfe is superintendent of the Laurelton State Village; salary, $7,000. Her assistant's salary is $2,000 less. John M. Cummings, a political writer, remarks: "There is something wrong when voters of this type get away from the Republican party."

"Either they have lost confidence in the principles enunciated by Lincoln and the first Roosevelt, or, in good faith, they have become enamored of the New Deal at Washington or its shadow at Harrisburg. It is up to Republican Chairman Taylor and his associates to determine why such high-minded voters desert the party overnight and embrace the Democratic idols. Nothing is to be gained from generalizing. There has been too much of that and the Republican Party has suffered as a result. So, to be specific, it might be well for the Republican leadership on this Sabbath morn to ponder the case of Dr. Mary M. Wolfe."

"Here is an elector above average in intelligence, a recognized leader in the field of humanitarian effort. Since the advent of woman suffrage Dr. Wolfe had been an active figure in Republican politics. She was a member of the board of directors of the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women. This organization recommended her for Secretary of Welfare in one of the Pinchot administrations."

"Dr. Wolfe, who has been superintendent of the institution since its founding, was among those to accept the invitation. Her assistant, Dr. Van Uzen, also accepted as did many of the minor employees of the institution. "Now it is all right for the Republicans to say the small salaried employees lined up with the Democrats primarily because of the bread and butter consideration. But what of Dr. Wolfe? Was she coerced. Was she sandbagged, bludgeoned and driven into line?"

"It is not to be supposed the factor of friendship influenced Dr. Wolfe. She seemed to be such a practical, hard-boiled Republican that many of her admirers find it difficult to comprehend her altered political viewpoint. "As a Republican she was known for her strong convictions and her readiness to stand up and battle for what she thought was right. Her political skipping about cannot be attributed to some sudden emotion, for she is not of the emotional type. "Yet there she is, a registered Democrat. . . ."

MRS. SHRECKENGAST UNDEGOES KNIFE—SLACK AND DELANEY CHILDREN MUCH IMPROVED

Mrs. Harry Shreckengast of Farmers Mills, on Thursday was operated on for the removal of an abdominal tumor at the Centre County hospital. She was taken to the institution on the day previous. Her condition on Wednesday morning was reported from the hospital as doing very nicely. The Fred Slack family has been sorely afflicted during the past two weeks. Mrs. Slack, suffering from a case of grip, was able to leave her bed on Monday.

Allice, 12, a quinsy patient, was relieved Tuesday when a lanceet was used; a second operation was planned for Wednesday. Her condition prior to Tuesday was very bad. Betty, 10, since Saturday was confined to bed with pneumonia, and Sarah, a C. H. H. S. student, was out of school for two weeks due to a beating in the head.

Agnes Delaney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Delaney, who developed a severe case of rheumatic fever two weeks ago, on Wednesday was reported much improved, but is likely to be confined to bed for some time to come. Miss Mary Garver, R. N., is the nurse in charge.
