Farm Is Bachelor's Haven in Leap Year Excitement

Turn plowboy for the season and spend leap year on the farm was Prof. E. T. Hillier's advice to bachelors who want to stay that way during 1936. Are some SEEDS more intelligent than others?

Maybe you think it impossible to breed vegetable and flower seeds that know how to grow. Well, it isn't! For that's exactly what The Ferry-Morse Seed Breeding Institute is doing at its stations in Rochester, Mich., and Salinas, Cal.

Cucumbers eight inches long—no more, no less; solid red beets; carrots that are practically coreless; rust-resistant snapdragons. Just a few of our achievements!

Year-in, year-out, new strains, adapted to varying soil and climate conditions, are being developed... existing quality is being improved and protected. After thorough tests for germination and purity, progeny of the foundation stocks is offered for planting in your garden. You'll find them listed in your free copy of our Home Garden Catalog.

Look for the Ferry display in your local stores. Ferry-Morse Seed Co., Detroit and San Francisco.

Very Distant

It was a birthday party given by a wealthy young farmer, and one of the guests noticed a somewhat lonely looking and shabbily attired man in a corner of the room, and walked over to him.

"I was introduced to you," he said, "but I didn't catch your name."
"My name," replied the other, "is Burton."
"Oh, then you are a relative of our host?"
"Yes," was the reply. "I'm his cousin twenty thousand pounds removed."

Who'd Be a Teacher?

Teacher was instructing the infant class in the story of Lot's flight, and said: "Lot was warned to take his wife and flee out of the city, which was about to be destroyed. Lot and his wife got safely away. Now, children, have you any questions to ask?"
At last a little boy ventured to inquire: "Please, teacher, what happened to the flea?"
