Marcellus McClellan, of Tusseyville, aged 25 years, out of school for nine years, took the examination for entrance to the Centre Hall high school, as the test given here Saturday. The youngest pupil to appear was aged 12 years.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Arbogast, of Harrisburg, spent Monday and Tuesday at the home of Prof. and Mrs. J. F. Wetzel, Monday evening Mrs. Arbogast visited Centre Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star, Mr. Wetzel and Mrs. Arbogast are cousins.

Trinity Reformed church, Centre Hall, on Friday night, held a social confined to the membership of the congregation and church school. The attendance was very good, and the occasion was greatly enjoyed by all. Entertainment of a fitting character was furnished by members of various classes, and later refreshments were served.

The grist mill at Farmers Mills is advertised at Sheriff's sale to be held Saturday, May 23, one o'clock, at the court house. The property is that of the estate of Samuel Fredericks. The mill was formerly owned by the late Major J. B. Fisher and was the first mill in Centre county to be equipped with the roller process for making flour.

Irvin Stover, who with Mrs. Stover was in town on Monday evening, the latter to attend an Eastern Star meeting, informs the Reporter that one unit of the Lewistown Viscose plant has been in operation for two weeks or more, and that he was called back to work there after having been off duty for but one week. Mr. and Mrs. Stover live in Yeagertown.

The annual spring meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the West Susquehanna Classes held in Millersburg, Pa., Thursday, was attended by Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Fisher, Mrs. W. F. Bradford, Mrs. J. W. Bradford, Mrs. W. F. Keller, Mrs. J. S. Boozer, and Mrs. Mattie Boozer, of Centre Hall. A brief account of the meeting appears elsewhere in this issue.

A service and gas station, 20x20 ft. is being erected at what was formerly known as the Shamokin hunting camp, a short distance south of the big fill on Route 322 in Seven Mountains. The improvement is being made by Harry E. Brown, the proprietor of Brownie's Place. The old stand will be conducted as a night club. The Brown family now live in the Shamokin camp, recently purchased by Mr. Brown.

Lloyd W. Worrell, of Trenton, N. J., accompanied by his wife and two sons, Blair, living with his parents and Donald, of Reedsville, made a motor trip through Penna. Valley, stopping at Centre Hall and Boalsburg, having lived at both places. Mr. Worrell is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James Worrell, who lived in Centre Hall almost fifty years ago. During the past twelve years, Mr. Worrell has lived in Trenton, where he is engaged as an upholsterer.

W. R. Tressler, of College township, was a caller at this office Monday evening, having accompanied Mrs. Treasurer to Centre Hall to attend a meeting of the Eastern Star, an organization she is deeply interested in. Mr. Tressler is one of the progressive agriculturists in his community and follows general farming, but in a more intense manner than is practiced by most farmers. He is an extensive grower of alfalfa on both permanent plots and in regular crop routine.

On Monday evening, the Centre Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, met in regular session, in Centre Hall. Installation of a large class of candidates and installation were in order. Final plans for the annual May anniversary banquet to be held at the Nitzany Country Club, May 14th, were made at this meeting. After the regular meeting a lovely Mother's Day program was presented. Many out-of-town guests were present, some journeying from Altoona, Hollidaysburg, Harrisburg and Jersey Shore.

St. Luke's Lutheran church, Centre Hall, will celebrate its 50th anniversary during the latter part of June. A history of the congregation is being compiled, and a pageant is being arranged for presentation. Any person having interesting information concerning the various pastors, organizations, etc. connected with this church can be of great help in making the celebration a success. This aid will be particularly appreciated and any person who has anything to offer may present their information to Rev. L. Arthur Wagner, Ernest A. Frank, or Harvey W. Fink.

Musser, of Pleasant Gap, on Wednesday took the examination in Philadelphia for admission to the Scholarship Annapolis, and at the same time Harry Jones, of Bellefonte, and Glenn Hangrave, of Bellefonte, through competitive examination seek admittance to the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Congressman Don Gingery and State Assemblyman John W. Decker will head the speaking program at the Phillipsburg Young Men's Democratic Club birthday party which will be held at the Mathilda Philips, formerly Flat Rock, Friday evening, May 15 at 7 o'clock. Other speakers will be Hon. E. J. Thompson, State Senator, Dr. F. K. White, State Committeeman. The program will also include refreshments and instrumental music.

Here and there, in the local rural district, where electric light and power lines have not yet found their way, appears a peculiar contraption atop the dwelling house roof similar in appearance to a windmill. It is an air-charger, which makes possible the use of a radio without the heavy cost of frequent new batteries. The wind turns the fan, directly behind which is a generator; this in turn charges the radio battery, and also the automobile battery, if the farmer is so minded.

GIRLS' CONFERENCE HELD AT LOCK HAVEN, SATURDAY

The first older girls' conference of Tri-Hi-Y groups of the North Central Y. M. C. A. District was held Saturday at the Lock Haven State Teachers' College, with 164 girls from 21 communities present. Officers for another year were elected as follows: Dorothy Whitman, Lock Haven, president; Geraldine Bradford, Centre Hall, vice-president; Ruth Van Sickle, Bloomsburg, secretary and Doris Campbell, Wellsboro, treasurer.

The general theme of the conference was "My Life" and the principal speakers were: Mrs. Ruth Moulton, headmistress of the Birmingham School for Girls, Mrs. John Catron, Mrs. William R. North, Miss Pauline Graden.

Four groups met for discussions on "Hobbies," "How we can put more into and get more out of the Tri-Hi-Y," "How to acquire a satisfactory working faith" and "How to build a year-round Tri-Hi-Y program."

At the evening session which followed the banquet in the college dining-room, Dr. Dallas W. Armstrong, president of the host college, spoke on "Education and the Good Life."

At the installation, conducted by District Y. M. C. A. secretary, John G. Catron, an impressive candle-light service was used.

The gathering was attended from the Centre Hall Tri-Hi-Y by Misses Roberta Smith, Geraldine Bradford, Mabel Fouse, Martha Brooks, Louise Miller, Frances Bunkle, Miriam Homan, Lois Reese. They were accompanied by their counselor, Mrs. F. V. Goodhart.

The local organization is indebted to Mrs. W. A. Homan and Mrs. H. W. Potter for transportation facilities to and from Lock Haven.

FARM CALENDAR.

Timely Reminders from Pennsylvania State College School of Agriculture

GRASS MUST GROW.—A well developed root system is necessary for good growth of pasture grasses. For the growth of a strong root system there must be good top or leaf growth. Close pasturing in early spring interferes with full growth later in the year.

GROW GARDEN HERBS.—Many culinary herbs can be grown in the home garden for adding flavor and aroma to foods. Ask your county agent about the possibilities of growing these plants.

CHERRIES HAVE CHOICE.—Cherries show a decided preference for well-drained soil, even more than apples, but only produce the best crops where sufficient growth is possible, say Penn State fruit specialists. Special precautions should be taken to obtain uniform flowering plants.

INSECTS ATTACK FLOWERS.—Growers of ornamental plants face troubles as well as joys. One of the problems is insect control. A new circular on the subject has just been prepared by the extension entomologists of the Penna. State College. It may be obtained from your county agent or from the Agricultural Mailing Room, State College, Pa.

AFTER THE FLOOD.—Fields which have been damaged by flood waters will require special treatment. In some cases different crops must be planted, other than originally planned. Some fields will need lime, others fertilizer and manure.

DRY POULTRY LITTER.—Some poultrymen dry litter after it is wet and then use it again. Peat moss litter can be handled that way, drying about one-third of the litter at a time in piles while the rest is in use.
