Frank Wion, of Bellefonte, visited for a few days with his sister, Mrs. Richard Brooks.

Sunday a forest fire broke out in Greens Valley, east of the State house, and another on Nittany Mountain at its southwestern terminus.

Jay Rachau, one of the young progressive farmers in Gregg township, was in town during last week and spilled a bit of joy in the lap of the Reporter proprietors.

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Smith, L. J. Kanitz, sales manager of the Lycoming Manufacturing Co., and Mrs. Kanitz, all of Williamsport, and Mrs. Le Cuyer, of Chicago, were guests of Miss Grace Smith and Mrs. Levan Smith, on Sunday.

A class of six graduated from the nurses' training school of the Centre County hospital on Monday evening. They were Irene McClellan, Lovell Spangler, Bellefonte; Madeline Shuey, August McAleery, Hazel Kreamer, of State College, and Lucille Neal, of Altoona.

The eleventh annual Kiwanis-Farmer Picnic of College, Ferguson, Half-Moon, Harris and Potter townships will be held in Grange Park, Thursday, June 18. The residents of towns and boroughs in these townships are also included in the invitation to attend.

Grover C. Rhodes, poultryman at Woodland, Mifflin county, suffered a $3000 loss when a fire destroyed a 90 by 18-foot building, practically his entire summer supply of feed and 2000 young chickens. The cause of the fire is a mystery, although it is believed to have started from a hot water brooder.

Miss Anna Lauman was demitted as superintendent of the Phillipsburg State hospital effective June 15, after a service of ten and one-half years. The action was taken at a meeting of the board of trustees on Friday evening. The superintendent says she is a "victim of circumstances." That's what they all say when fired.

At the meeting of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States today (Thursday) in Syracuse, New York, an effort will be made to change the method of electing ministers. The movement will result in official church control of only those congregations receiving financial aid from the Mission Board—or to 2,700 congregations out of a total of 5000.

The Lewistown Airport has purchased a new Waco airplane for long flights. It has a capacity of four passengers and a pilot. The ship will be used for pleasure and commercial purposes. The cabin of the big biplane is noise-proof, perfectly heated and ventilated. Once in the air and set on its course, the ship will fly without further attention unless it is desired to change the direction or land.

H. L. Ebricht enjoyed an hour and a half airplane ride with "Hen" Noll, Pleasant Gap pilot, on Monday morning, with two other passengers (students) in the new cabin plane. The plane made a large circle at an altitude of 4,000 feet, and Mr. Ebricht says that while the voyage was rough, it was nevertheless delightful. One of the students got "sea" sick and went to the "rail."

The annual commencement of the East Penn's Valley high school will be held in the Municipal theatre, Millheim, this (Thursday) evening. The graduate class includes Harold Gilmore, Margie Acker, Elmer Alters, Warren Hosterman, Lester Auman, Russell Miller, Lulu Bartges, Iva Orndorf, Pearl Dingus, Paul Paulhanus, Ruth Fryer, Marian Roam, Maxine Fiedler, Frances Shawver, Edna Gramley, Lowell Stover, Olive Wilcox, Jay Wingard, and Mildred Wingard.

Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Goodhart, on Thursday morning, motored to Philadelphia, and that evening witnessed the graduation exercises of a large class in the school for nurses connected with the Presbyterian hospital. One of the graduates was Miss Beatrice Baumgardner, who closed her schooling in Centre Hall, a ward of the Goodharts. They were accompanied on the trip by Mrs. D. W. Geiss, of Bellefonte, and Friday evening she and Mrs. Goodhart were brought home by David Geiss, Mr. Goodhart having come home earlier in the day.

The executive committee of the Grange Encampment and Fair met in Grange Arcadia on Thursday evening to further discuss plans for Centre county's greatest gathering. Among the improvements contemplated is the erection of a new, larger and more substantial grandstand. The extending and further improving the water system; building an additional section of fence on the south side of the grounds; repairing the roofs of buildings, etc. The premium list is also to be revised with a view of making it more easily understood by exhibitors and others.

The barn of what was long known as the Geiss farm along the Old Fort-Bonalsburg road, near Linden Hall, now owned by Mrs. Mary Kidder Stuart, is being razed. The lumber will be used in constructing a straw shed on the former J. D. Meyer farm, now owned by the Stuarts, located along the Potters Mills-Bonalsburg road. Rain, on Sunday, caused a bit of alarm at the T. P. Delaney farm house when the pipe forming an outside conduit filled with water and caused a short in the electric wiring. The tiny flame was noticed and at once corrected.

LOCALS.

Mrs. Paul Moser and Mrs. Daniel Moser, of Wilkesbarre, were guests on Sunday of their aunt, Mrs. Lizzie Jacobs.

R. C. Heckman, Spring Mills, a son of J. C. A. Heckman, and employed by him on the farm, on Saturday afternoon paid his respects to the Reporter office.

Boyd W. Carner, a Walker township farmer living near Hublersburg, while assisting to load a potato planter on a truck, was struck on the leg by a falling plank with sufficient force to break it.

Paul Wasson was accompanied to Lebanon, on Saturday, by Earl Frazier for a two-ton truck load of fertilizer to be used on spring crops by Mr. Wasson. The farmers live neighbors along Sinking creek, east of Centre Hill.

Brian W. Kauffman's appointment for postmaster at Middleburg was approved. The commission of M. G. Weyzel expired in February. At Beaver Springs M. K. Schambach succeeds L. W. Stevens, whose commission expires next Monday, as postmaster.
