Former Pastors Take Part in 50th Anniversary Celebration

The services incident to the fiftieth anniversary of the dedication of the present Lutheran church in Centre Hall were three in number, held Sunday morning, Sunday evening and Monday evening.

The Sunday morning service was conducted by Dr. W. E. Fischer, pastor at the time of the building and dedication of the church, and Rev. J. M. Rearick, his successor on the Penns Valley Lutheran church.

Dr. Fischer in his address was reminiscent. He referred to the large number who had passed to the beyond since the dedication, and also to the financial struggle the congregation experienced in building three edifices each one more elegant than the last.

Rev. Rearick devoted his time to the spiritual church; Christ sent into the world for the salvation of man; creation is finished; redemption completed, but the work of the Holy Spirit goes on.

Monday evening a psalm, by Harvey W. Flink, entitled "The Turn of a Dial," depicting early Lutheranism under Martin Luther, and then through the local Lutheran church beginning with the organization of the congregation in 1854. The church history was nicely worked out, and was greatly enjoyed by the audience.

COUNTY COMMITTEE TO SET RATES FOR INDIVIDUAL FARMS

County Agricultural Conservation Committees are preparing to establish rates of the soil-conserving payments for individual farms in Centre county.

"The Pathway of Service," a children's cantata, will be given Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Trinity Reformed church. The public is cordially invited.

MILLHEIM SCHOOL TEACHERS

The board of directors of Millheim schools re-elected the same staff of teachers that were employed in 1935-36; E. A. Tyson, principal; Wm. H. Duck, 5th and 6th grades; Miss Margaret Cunningham, 3rd and 4th grades; Miss Jennie Renninger, 1st and 2nd.

John D. Neese, of Millheim, was named janitor of the Millheim grade school building.

"UNDER TWO FLAGS" SHOWING AT "THE PLAZA"

A cast of 30,000, starring: Ronald Colman, Victor McLaglen, Claudette Colbert, and Rosalind Russell, makes "Under Two Flags" one of the really big pictures of the year.

The House passed the Hoely bill restricting government contracts to firms paying prevailing wages and maintaining a 40-hour week.

DAILY VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL WHAT IS BEING DONE BY THE THREE PRINCIPALS

The three principals heading the groups of the Daily Vacation Bible School, in Centre Hall, have been invited to tell the readers of this paper what they and their helpers are doing at the half-day sessions for three weeks.

The program which is used as a guide for teacher and helper is: 9:00-9:30 Opening. 9:30-10:16 Study and discussion. 10:15-10:35 Play. 10:35-11:35 Handwork. 11:35-12:00 Worship.

The opening consists of the entire group. During this period the children sing. If any new song is to be learned, it is done then. They make preparation for next period. In the "study and discussion" period the children learn a Bible verse which they write in their little booklets. Roll is called. A story which has been chosen by the teacher of the group is told and used as a basis for their discussion.

The second week's study will be centered about Cooperating with God to Make the World a Better and Happier Place. The third week, Sharing Our Experiences with Others, we will use missionary materials.

The worship period is devoted to quiet music, songs, Bible reading, and Bible stories. Picture study and music appreciation also have a place during worship at least once a week. Anyone who wishes to visit and observe the children at work and play may feel free to do so.

The students of this department are Clara Lou Wetzel; Isabel Musser; Ruth Spiker; Beryl Shaffer; Arlene Corman; Dorothy Crater; Miriam Faust; Mildred Lingle; Margaret Spotts; Joan Alexander; Eleanor Potter; Betty Lou Sweeney; Marjorie Emery; Lucille Alexander; Helen Hironimus; Gloria Brooks; Dale Confer; Donald Wagner; Carl Weaver; Paul Hironimus; Robert Moyer and James Reish.

Beginner's Department, Miss Helen White, principal: The Beginner's Department of the daily vacation church school which is conducted for a period of three weeks, is being held in the Evangelical church.

The text book: "Let's Go Out-of-Doors," by Jennie Lou Milton, has an abundance of first-class material.

The course is divided into four teaching units, namely, "Working Out-of-Doors," "Living Out-of-Doors," "Homes for All," and "Sharing With Father and Mother."

The first two units mentioned were used the year prior, and since the present group is pretty much the same as last year's, the work was taken up with "Homes for All."

Naturally each section has its own aims and to avoid any break in the use of material in the book it was necessary to carefully review in connection with the new work.

The purpose as a whole is to help every child:

- (1) Realize that he is living in a sociable world, which is taken care of by a kindly Father who intercedes everything.
(2) See through close observation how God works so that the child's beliefs will have a sound foundation with a strong backing, not false conceptions concerning God's work and care.
(3) Talk freely and often with God.
(4) Sharing past and present experiences with others.
(5) Grow to be able to happily work and play with each other.
(6) Experience the sight and thought of beauty in world of nature and associating this with God, the Maker.
(7) Fully appreciate the parents and home, and try harder to help at home.

Junior and Intermediate Dept.—The Junior and Intermediate departments have been combined this year, and this combined department now possesses an enrollment of 45-26 girls and 19 boys. This department is composed of those pupils above the fifth grade in public school.

JARCHOW-WIELAND.

The ceremony uniting in marriage Mr. Warner Christian Jarchow, of Columbus, Ohio, and Miss Mildred Lucille Wieland, of Linden Hall, was performed by Rev. Frederick Stamm, Brooklyn, N. Y., on Saturday, June 20.

The groom is a son of Prof. and Mrs. Heinrich Jarchow, residents of Kiel, Germany. He is an engineer and is employed with the Bonny-Floyd Steel Corporation, Columbus, Ohio.

The bride is a graduate of State College high school and of Penn State College and for several years has been teaching in Norristown.

FORTNEY-CARVER.

The wedding of Miss Grace Eleanor Carver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Carver, to James L. Fortney, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Fortney, was solemnized Friday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, in State College.

The only attendants were Miss Charlotte Moch, of Pine Grove Mills, and Edward Sarson, of State College.

EISENHUTH-BOWER.

Reuben T. Eisenhuth and Mrs. Sarah E. Bower, of Coburn, were united in marriage at noon on Friday, June 12, by the Rev. Simon, at Hagerstown, Md.

The couple, who were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Hentz, of Johnstown, will make their home in Coburn.

SHIVELY-HENNINGER.

The young couple were attended by James Weaver, of Millheim, and Miss Kathleen Hoy, of State College.

The young couple are planning to live in Millheim in the near future the groom being employed at the Jan-Arrow Silk Spinning Mill.

CENTRE COUNTIANS IN PHILA. HOLD THEIR ANNUAL PICNIC

The 32nd Annual Basket Picnic of the Centre County Association of Philadelphia was held at Belmont Mansion, Fairmount Park, as usual on the third Saturday of June.

This association was organized in 1904 with Dr. Roland G. Curtin as its first president, and has been an active organization ever since.

President, Warner Underwood; vice president, Gordon W. Ardell; secretary, John C. Beale; treasurer, Paul G. Mattern.

All Centre countians and their families, living in Philadelphia and vicinity, are urged to join the association, and to enjoy its fellowship.

LOCAL YOUNG PEOPLE IN AUTO ACCIDENT

On the return home from Hershey on Friday night, of the class of '36 Centre Hall high school, the car driven by Donald Coldron struck a culvert and injured to some extent three of the four passengers in it.

Miss Sarah Slack and Miss Margaret Ross, who were sitting on the back seat, received cuts on the forehead, and the latter a leg injury, but it has been determined that neither of the injuries were serious.

Although Centre Hall is the best painted town in Central Pennsylvania, a few barrels of paint could be spilled over spots in it without doing damage.

Mr. and Mrs. J.F. Wetzel and daughter Clara Lou are visiting several days with the brother and family of Mrs. Wetzel—Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hughes, at Cortland, N. Y.

Corn and oats have been making rapid growth since the recent rains while grass and clover are making a struggle. The prospects for a hay crop are not at all rosy. Alfalfa is doing fine.

A three-pound carp was caught in the McMullin mill dam. The flood is supposed to have brought it from the Moyer mill dam at Centre Mills where they are not rare, to the Millheim dam.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Foss of Pleasant Gap, and the former's mother, Mrs. (Rev.) F. H. Foss, were evening dinner guests recently of the Junior Mrs. Foss' parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Emery, in Centre Hall.

A hearing will be held July 25th to establish a legal presumption of the death of Andrew R. McNitt, who left his home in Bellefonte, Feb. 25, 1929, for Miami, Fla., since which time no trace of his whereabouts has been discovered.

Come out to the smoker in the I. O. O. F. hall, Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Arrangements will be made to hear President Roosevelt's speech of acceptance. Here is an opportunity to spend an evening pleasantly, profitably, comfortably.

The West End Fair Association, a newly incorporated institution, but in operation at Laurelton for nine years, was presented with a deed to the grounds known as the Lincoln Park, by Mrs. Carrie Lincoln, the owner. It was an outright gift.

Seven boys were sent to Camp Susquehanna at Susquehanna University, Pottsville, on Monday, June 15, by the Rev. Simon, of that city. The young men were: Jack Duck, Harry and Richard Hosterman, James Herman, William Nelding, and Richard Thomas.

Z. A. Weaver, field man for the Sheffield Farms company, was a brief caller at this office on Saturday. He stated that while there was an abundance of milk produced to take care of the demand, the supply is dropping due to the pasture lots becoming less productive of succulent grasses.

To unearth the traditional "tall stories" of this State, the Pennsylvania Folk Festival, at Bucknell University, Lewisburg, July 30 to August 2, has launched a state-wide contest in which it solicits your cooperation. If you have a good one, notify Col. Henry W. Shoemaker, chairman, Active Committee, Lewisburg.

Guy W. Jacobs visited his mother, Mrs. Lizzie Jacobs, on Friday, and hurried back to New York City where he held a ringside seat at the Louis-Schmeling prize fight, and was one of the many thousands surprised at the outcome, resulting in the colored "bomber's" knockout in the 12th round.

Swallows and bats are here defended. Both are friends of farmers, working partners, and as beneficial birds are protected by both State and Federal law. Neither of these carry the hated bedbug. They are infested sometimes by an insect of the general appearance of bedbugs, but their habits are dissimilar, and they do not attack persons.

Rain lessened the number to attend the picnic and business meeting of the Senior Service class of the Lutheran Sunday school, but not the ardor of the group. The gathering was held at the H. E. Fye farm, east of town, Mr. Fye having long been a faithful member of the class. When the rain set in, shelter was found in the Fye home, where the program and the evening picnic dinner was served.
