

DEMOCRATIC STANDARD BEARERS FOR SECOND TIME

ROOSEVELT AND GARNER.—President Roosevelt and Vice President Garner were renominated by acclamation by the Democrats at their National convention held in Philadelphia last week, and Saturday evening both were officially notified at Franklin Field in the presence of 110,000 persons.

HIGHLIGHTS OF PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S SPEECH

Accepting the Democratic Renomination follows—

"It was to win freedom from the tyranny of political autocracy that the American Revolution was fought.

"Out of this modern civilization economic royalists carved new dynasties. New Kingdoms were built upon the concentrations of control over material things. There was no place among this royalty for our many thousands of small business men and merchants."

"It was natural and perhaps human that the privileged princes of these new economic dynasties, thirsting for power, reached out for control of government itself. In its service, new mercenaries sought to regiment the people."

"Throughout the nation, opportunity was limited by monopoly. Individual initiative was crushed in the cogs of a great machine. Private enterprise became too private."

"THE SMOKER"

The smoker held Saturday evening in the Odd Fellows hall is counted a success. The acceptance speech by President Roosevelt was most attentively listened to, and applauded. There was no other form of entertainment. After the Roosevelt speech, Messrs. G. H. McCormick, Herbert Stover and F. V. Goodhart gave their impressions of the Democratic convention in a very delightful manner. Many of the outstanding incidents of the convention were recalled and commented on.

Dollar and more contributions to the National Democratic campaign fund were made by everyone present, although no obligation was demanded before entering. The fund to date is up to a point where it is a credit to Centre Hall and community. You may yet be called on to swell the sum, and if you are, take your place as a supporting Democrat.

LOYSVILLE ORPHAN BAND ATTRACTION B. B. FESTIVAL THURSDAY EVENING, JULY 10

One of the attractions at the festival to be sponsored by the Centre Hall baseball club on Thursday evening July 10, will be the Loysville Orphan Home band of forty pieces. Of course, there will be many other features, which will be announced later. The festival will be held on the high school athletic field.

The band has a previous engagement at State College on Tuesday and one at Boalsburg on Wednesday.

SUPREME COURT SAYS REVENUE DEPT. MAY REVOKE LICENSE

The State Supreme Court reversed the decision of Judge M. Ward Fleming, who ruled on Dec. 30, 1935, that the supervision by the Department of Revenue of an operator's license was a violation of both the State and Federal constitutions.

The case was that of R. L. Funk charged with operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated. At a court trial Funk was declared not guilty. Later the Revenue Department revoked Funk's license, and it is this action the Supreme Court sustained.

Contractor J. W. Henszey suddenly became imbued with the idea that he must see the Louis-Schmeling contract, and accordingly packed a grip, jumped into his car and rushed to New York. While passing through the East River tunnel, he heard a radio description of the third round. The gentleman had not taken Daylight saving time into account.

STRAW STACK BURNS, BUT BARN NOT IGNITED

For the second time in the barn's history, a straw stack standing close to it burned without igniting the barn. The last stack burned was on Monday evening, at about 6:45 o'clock. The barn that made these almost miraculous escapes was that on the P. P. Henshall farm, a mile west of Old Fort on the Boalsburg Pinchot road.

The tenant, Clarence Blazer, and helpers were unloading hay in the barn when one of them observed the flames from the side of a stack, the height of which was about ten to twelve feet. A bucket brigade was immediately formed, and a telephone message sent to Centre Hall. The local fire company pumper, in charge of Stanley Brooks, soon took the place of the bucket brigade and was able to keep the fire from shooting flames skyward. The pumper, well manned, stood by all night.

The stack stood within eight or ten feet of the barn, which faces south. The straw was packed hard and had the familiar ring at the base caused by cattle chasing around it.

There is a division of opinion as to the origin of the fire. Spontaneous combustion, some say; others claim it was due to some other agency. Mr. Blazer, tenant, carries no insurance on his personal property.

The first stack burned at this barn was undoubtedly of incendiary origin. The barn was saved by hanging horse blankets, then numerous, from the overshoot, and keeping them wet, relying on a bucket brigade to supply the water. This was something like 65 years ago.

PREPARING FOR GRANGE FAIR

The committee in charge of Grange Encampment and Centre County Fair at its last meeting authorized definite repairs and improvements to buildings and grounds in preparation for the 1936 fair which will open on Thursday morning, August 27. A tour of the park indicates satisfactory progress is being made in advancing these plans. And there is also convincing proof the park each year grows more beautiful and its fitness for fair purposes more apparent.

Additional equipment has been purchased, including a limited number of tents and new stage fittings. Organization of the camp is under way and copy is in readiness for the premium book which will be issued this season.

All having part in the pageant, "Time Lost and Redeemed," are requested to be at the high school building Wednesday and Friday nights for rehearsal.

FOREST DEPT. OFFICIAL AND PWA WORKER COLLIDE

Collision of cars sent Calvin Coble, of Colyer, to the Centre county hospital Friday afternoon, 1:30 o'clock, where it was found the PWA worker Coble had a bad bruise and cut over the bridge of the nose and another on the forehead over the right eye. It required eleven stitches to bring the wide-open gashes together. Coble, on Saturday, said, "Everything felt knocked loose in my head," but was consoled that it was not worse. The right arm, below the elbow, was also lacerated.

Mr. Coble was traveling south over the Tusseyville-Colyer road and on crossing the concrete road the rear end of his car was hit by a car operated by Robert Moore, connected with the State Forestry Department, who was traveling in the direction of Pottery Mills. The Coble car was turned completely around and over.

Mr. Moore was injured about the knees, also received a number of body bruises.

The car damage is estimated at $350; $200 for the Coble car, and $150 for the Moore car.

CELEBRATE 3RD ANNIVERSARY

The two hundred members making up CCC Camp No. 113, in Lancaster Valley, fittingly celebrated the third anniversary of the opening of the camp, last week. There were a series of events, the opening being a banquet, then followed a show staged by the variety of artists among camp members, a night for stunts, and then closed with one of the well regulated dances in which the young people of the community freely attend, on Friday night.

Capt. R. R. Boyer, camp commander, continues to hold the complete respect of his men and consequently is able to permit them to engage in such sports without protest from the citizenry.

"PATHWAY OF SERVICE" TITLE CHILDREN'S DAY CANTATA

"The Pathway of Service," the children's cantata which was presented in Trinity Reformed church, Sunday evening, told the following story: The inquirer started up a path which she was in doubt whether it was the right one to take. As time went on she discovered for herself that she had chosen the path which God himself had made beautiful and would be happy if all who pretend to follow Him, would take.

We people take too much for granted. We think we must look away above us to get the full meaning of life. We forget that God shows His love through the dainty little flowers, the dusty buttercups and daisies by the roadside, the beautiful roses of the summer, the wee blades of grass and the leaves of the trees, the busy little bee, the rain and its glorious rainbow, the babbling brook, the starlight and moonlight that gives the dark of night beauty.

All these things were portrayed to the inquirer by the children through speaking and singing. The inquirer knelt before her host of God's helpers and thanked God for the blessings of the path which she chose and set out to follow them.

Here's a comeback worth the while: Said a liberal Republican—"You remember what candidate Hoover said about grass growing on city streets? Well, had Hoover been re-elected, by this time there wouldn't be a sprig of grass on city streets or parks. The unemployed would have been obliged to eat it, or at least tramp it out of root."

C.H.S. ALUMNI ASSOCIATION PLANS TO RAISE FUNDS FOR CURTAIN FOR STAGE AT H. S.

With the intention of buying a curtain for the stage of the new high school auditorium, the Centre Hall High School Alumni Association is launching a campaign for funds this week by having a chairman from each graduating class contact each of his classmates for a contribution.

Two hundred fifty dollars is a conservative estimate of the cost of a curtain which will meet the State fire-proof requirements.

This is the first time in the history of the association that the alumni have been asked for gifts toward a school project, and the committee anticipates willing cooperation on the part of the Centre Hall graduates.

The contributions should be made before August 1 and the names of all the donors as well as the classes which have one hundred per cent contributions, will appear in the first August issue of The Reporter.

Mrs. Agnes Jamison is the chairman of the committee composed of Elizabeth Bartholomew, Harold Bradford, Carl Burkholder, Mary Delinda Potter, George Sweeney, Mrs. Myla Wert, and J. F. Wetzel, an advisory member.

RECEIVES APPOINTMENT AS EXTRA CLERK IN LOCAL P. O.

G. Alfred Crawford, ex-service man, was appointed by the Civil Service Commission to the position of extra clerk in the Centre Hall post office, effective July 1.

He was one of a number to take the examination in Centre Hall some weeks ago.

WIDENING TUSSEYVILLE ROAD.

The widening of the several sharp turns on the Tusseyville road is in process, the work being done under Earl Lutz and a small force of men.

At one of the curves, the first approached on entering from the north, it is much eased, and to do so required setting back of a fence on the right side, removing a bank and building up a driveable section on the left side.

THREE SENT TO HOSPITAL DUE TO WRECK ON R. 220

An automobile accident occurring two miles east of Nittany on Route 220, on Thursday morning, resulted in sending to the hospital Miss Miriam Beck, of Nittany, the driver of one of the cars, her sister, Mrs. Mildred Wenske, of Columbus, Ohio, and John Bailey, of Pine Grove Mills, the driver of the second car. It has not been determined what caused the accident.

Mrs. Wenske sustained a broken leg, a possible skull fracture and lacerations; Miss Beck suffered shock and possible internal injuries from being thrown thru the windshield. The ladies were taken to Bellefonte hospital, while Mr. Bailey was removed to the Lock Haven hospital.

TWO SMASHUPS ON SAME CURVE ON OLD FORT ROAD

Harold Breen, of State College, and Paul Fisher, of Milesburg, failed to properly negotiate one of the short curves on the Old Fort road, at a point about two miles below Boalsburg, resulting in the former landing in the Centre County hospital and the latter getting off with treatment by a surgeon.

The accident occurred Thursday night at about 10:00 o'clock. Breen sustained injuries about the chest when his car dashed into trees on the left-hand side of the road.

Less than a half hour later the Fisher car plunged off the road at the same place and crashed into the badly wrecked Breen car.

CHILD DIES FROM BURNS.

Vincent Boldin died in the Centre County Hospital Wednesday of last week from burns received the same day. He was aged three years, was a son of Evan and Lucy Boldin, and lived near Bellefonte. The child and a brother, 5, while playing in a stable set straw on fire, which ignited the child's clothing.

Donald Bloom, William Confer and Theodore Rudy have filed their first application papers at the Lewistown U. S. Army recruiting office to enter army service, selecting service in Hawaii. The young men are physically fit so far as the layman can observe and also have the spirit a prospective armor-bearer for Uncle Sam should have.

The traffic regulations in Bellefonte, presented by the fire and police committee, and adopted by the council, became effective yesterday. During its first week auto drivers who blunder are regarded as non-offenders, but thereafter—wow! How long the regulations will stand, how completely adhered to, how impartially enforced, is variously predicted.

Miss Sarah Odenkirk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Odenkirk, Centre Hall, is about to enter University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, for a six weeks' course covering a scholarship obtained for work done at Penn State, where she will become a senior at the opening of the college in September. Mr. and Mrs. George Boggs, of Hermintie, in the Pittsburgh district have been located in the Rowe bungalow in the north section of town, for two weeks. Mr. Boggs, as many of our readers know, is teaching in a high school at Hermintie, and brought with him Miss Florence Caesar, a teacher in the grade schools at the same place, and her mother, Mrs. Caesar. The Boggs regret the great speed of time, making their vacation appear almost like a week-end. They returned home beginning of the week.

Miss Bertha Shaver is further preparing herself for teaching in the public schools and is now taking a three weeks course at Lock Haven Teachers' College, where the work she is doing bears particularly on requirements in the grade school room.
