PLENTY OF ENTERTAINMENT AT HECLA PARK, JULY 3

A gala holiday spirit will prevail at Hecla Park over the July Fourth period. Continuing the policy started the beginning of this season, the park will present a number of outstanding free acts for the holiday guests. By popular request Chief Lone Fox and his American Indians will return to the park grounds, with their Indian Village and give a new and interesting program.

For those who like thrilling and sensational acts Hecla has contracted Captain Ted Townsend, nationally famous high net diver. Capt. Townsend jumps 100 feet into a small net. Townsend during the close of the season last year lost his balance while preparing to make his dive and fell, striking the edge of the net. Severely injured, he was taken to a hospital and remained there during most of last winter. The fall did not affect his desire to do the act and Capt. Townsend will make his first 1936 appearance at Hecla Park. The act along with the Indians will be presented twice daily, starting Friday, July 3, and will continue for the next two days. Baseball games 3 p. m., Mifflin County All-Stars vs. Utica Indians.

Louisiana King's Orchestra will play for the dances to be held both afternoon and evening on July 4. Many new and novel concessions as well as an up-to-date kiddie ride will be additions to the park grounds over the holiday season.

Dr. W. R. Heaton, corner of Centre county, and Mrs. Heaton, yesterday (Wednesday) sailed on the Italian liner Roma for a two months' tour of the Mediterranean countries, expecting to return by the 27th of next month. Dr. Heaton expects to visit clinics in Rome and Jerusalem and also to study the political, economic and social conditions of the foreign countries. During the coroner's absence, George R. Raines of Phillipsburg, deputy coroner, will be in charge of the office.

DR. DORNBLAZER TO RETURN TO OLD STAMPING-GROUND

Dr. Thomas Franklin Dornblazer, now a resident of Nowakow, Germany, is contemplating a visit to the States this summer regardless of his age, 95 years. Dr. Dornblazer is a native of lower Nittany Valley, and on returning from the battlefields of the Civil War, resumed his schooling. He graduated from Selmsgrove University and later from a seminary, and became a minister in the Lutheran church. Capt. John Harpster, who also became a Lutheran minister was reared in Centre Hall, opposite the Reporter office, was a room-mate of Dr. Dornblazer when at college, and was instrumental in bringing about his introduction to Miss Annie Shannon, Dr. Harpster's cousin, also a resident of this place, who later became his wife, who had much to do in making him a success in the ministry in what was then the far west. Mrs. Dornblazer departed this life many years ago.

During the Doctor's courtship he had stout contenders, among them a promising young man who was aiming to become an attorney and at the same time had political aspirations. He is yet living in the county seat as a retired attorney.

CENTRE COUNTY MERCHANTS DID $250,000 MORE BUSINESS DURING 1935 THAN IN 1934

Phillipsburg Ranked First With Bellefonte Second and State College a Close Third.

In these times when everybody talks in terms of millions and billions as glibly as they did of hundreds and thousands a quarter of a century ago, a quarter of a million dollars does not seem so large, but when it means that the merchants of Centre county did that much more business during 1935 than they did in 1934, it is rather impressive. According to figures revealed by the mercantile appraisalment the total of the retail and restaurant business done in the county in 1935 was $12,564,113.35, while that of 1934 was $12,277,167.95.

Phillipsburg stands at the head of the list in the volume of its business, $2,926,875.74, which is accounted for through its wholesale houses which did a business in excess of $1,900,000. Bellefonte had a total of $2,142,442.79, with State College a close third with $2,074,040.81. The total of the State College business was boosted by its restaurant trade which was almost a quarter of a million dollars.

Centre Hall merchants did a business of $450,223.62; Millheim, $268,056.56; Port Matilda, $173,210.85; Howard, $149,296.48; Mifflinburg, $131,025.48; Clarence, $113,993.51; Snow Shoe, $115,482.29; Lemont, $106,775.63, and Coburn, $101,936.69. The smallest business of any was at Smulltown, $346.26, with Martha Furnace next, with $1,256. The total amount of tax paid to the State was $15,486.12.

PA. OLD AGE SECURITY BILL SIGNED BY EARLE

The Old Age Security bill was signed by Governor Earle on Friday. The measure enables the state to take advantage of Federal legislation to provide up to $30 a month for persons over 70. By 1940, the age limit will be reduced to 65. It is expected to become active about July 1.
