FOUR-RUN RALLY IN 7TH BRINGS VICTORY OVER "GAP"

Centre Hall clinched the first-half championship in the Tri-Valley League in a heated battle with Pleasant Gap, Thursday, which was not decided until the last moment of play, in the seventh inning. Jamison, reliable southpaw of the locals, received a "quit" notice in the 5th when the Gap went on a batting spree that resulted in 5 runs, thus leading the locals 5 to 2. Manager Durst went to the mound and while found for a run in the 7th, gets credit for the victory because Centre Hall staged a beautiful come-back in their half to put across four runs to win the game. It happened thusly: Durst led off with a single and Packer advanced him with a hit of the same size; Crawford was safe on a fielder's choice; Gross got a single; Stover was given a pass; Walker struck out, but Goodhart laced one to the center field, scoring a pair of runs, and deciding the game in the locals' favor. ACHIEVEMENT WAS STIMULANT ENOUGH

Arthur Brisbane editorially said on May 16, 1935—
"AMELIA EARHART... is not a good shot with champagne bottles. She tried to christen a new airplane, 'hurled' the bottle and missed. The second time she broke the bottle and released the foam."
"There are more important things than knowing how to throw a champagne bottle. Miss Earhart, who drinks nothing with alcohol in it, started from Hawaii, flying to this country, over 2,400 miles of Pacific Ocean water, and she did not miss the road. When... she flew from Mexico City to New York, first man or woman that ever did it, in one hop and alone, she found her way across seven hundred miles of the Gulf of Mexico and above lonesome forests...
"Such an American girl need not know how to throw a champagne bottle."
Here was history in the making... wonderful personal achievement, contributions to science and progress, splendid examples of ability and courage.
Could this or any great success have been achieved without clear thinking? The human mind refuses to associate cool scientific daring or achievement with drinking of alcohol.
Drinking habits, lightly entered upon, may be slowly but inexorably closing the door of achievement against you.
