Mr. and Mrs. Clair Houser and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Bailey motored to Youngstown, Ohio, and brought back with them, on Sunday, Mrs. Amanda Bailey, who became ill while at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Grover Beaver. On returning home, Mrs. Bailey was obliged to take her bed, but nothing serious is anticipated. The Housers and Baileys while in Youngstown also visited with the Frank Bailey family, and motored to Akron where the mammoth hangar, rubber works and other places of interest were inspected.

Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Fleigel, of Maywood, N. J., arrived in Spring Mills the latter part of last week, and visited with W. A. Neese, Mrs. Fleigel's father. While here the trio took daily motor trips to some place of interest.

Those who witnessed the stage performance in the Plaza theatre, on Wednesday night, no doubt recognized among the very graceful acts those of Dolores Condo, Lera Meyer, Arline Grove and Dorothy Miller, of Spring Mills. Although quite youthful they gave a good account of themselves, especially so when one considers it having been their first appearance in the role of dancers. Altogether there were about 50 children in the Revue, the second conducted at the Plaza by Miss Louise Burns.
