EDITORIAL COMMENT ON F. D. R. "It is evident that if Roosevelt is re-elected it will be chiefly because millions of people believe he has made a humanitarian effort to improve their condition. Talk with the cab drivers and scrubwomen. They'll say: 'There have been mistakes but he's tried to help us.'"

"The quality of creativeness President Roosevelt has demonstrated and Candidate Landon seems to have utterly ignored. That is why we believe Candidate Landon deserves to run a good second to President Roosevelt next November."

"The issue of this campaign is quite clear. It is whether the people want Roosevelt, who has rescued them from despair and privation, or Landon, whose nomination was dictated by the political agents of the despisers."

"Governor Landon said the American people want homes, a chance for their children, reasonable security. They do, which explains why they elected Mr. Roosevelt."

"Gov. Landon in accepting the Republican nomination showed too much of an unimpaired plainness for leadership in this age that particularly demands a high order of leadership; too great a simplicity for a comprehending and effective grappling with the involved and innumerable matters that confront a President."

COLORFUL GYPSY WEDDING OBSERVED BY LOCAL PEOPLE

Gypsy tribes encamped in a pine grove near Mexico, Juniata county, spent two weeks in preparation for the wedding of Lenna Miller, of Brazil, and Nick Nickolas, American-born gypsy.

The bride was purchased by the groom's father for $1800 and two automobiles. All the gypsies made merry for three days but the actual ceremony consisted of the feasting of the groom's family at the bride's tent, the "stealing" of the bride to her new home, and finally, the feasting of the bride's people at the groom's tent.

The bride, a beautiful dark gypsy girl, wore white satin, fashioned in the traditional gypsy style. Her veil of tulle and flowers in the hair were gifts from the groom. The bride's seven sisters were her attendants. They wore dresses of beautiful colors—rose, green, yellow and red, all fashioned in the gypsy style, with eleven yards of material in the skirts.

The actual cost of the wedding was $500, including lamb and young pig roasted on spits over the fire, Vienna bread, a truckload of beer, and the Port Royal orchestra.

As observers, we found the gowns were made of real silks and that gypsies slept on feather beds containing thirty pounds of softest "down" costing $5.00 per pound.

[Editor's Note—The gypsy wedding ceremony was witnessed by Mrs. H. L. Ehrhart and daughter, Miss Betty, and the above account was written by Miss Betty Ehrhart.]

300 ATTEND BRUNGART FAMILY REUNION AT GRANGE PARK

The following accounts of the Brungart reunion reached us too late for publication last week: The thirteenth annual reunion of the Brungart clan was held at Centre Hall August 8. It was the kind of day when one feels like going somewhere and enjoying the pure country atmosphere of which Centre county has an abundance.

One thing that occasioned a tinge of sadness was the fact that the leading spirit, president, and efficient genealogist, Jasper R. Brungart, was absent from the hospital. His first absence since the inception of these reunions.

The gathering commemorated the 134th year since the arrival of the first ancestor, Johan Jacob Brungart, coming in the ship Halifax to the port at Philadelphia, Sept. 22, 1752.

Well filled lunch baskets and healthy appetites were in evidence on every hand. After all the food was consumed that could possibly be stored away, and the rest packed away for supper, which many remained to enjoy, the business session was held.

The first matter of business was the reading of the minutes of the last meeting held a year ago at the same place. The president was able to gather the following statistics during the year: Births, 14; marriages, 18; number of descendants recorded, 5217; joined by marriage, 2122; total names recorded, 7329.

The clan's faithful and efficient historian, Vera C. Brungart, an attorney from Washington, D. C. gave a report and offered suggestions which will be helpful when the history will be published, which it is hoped will be during the year.

The members of the clan are urged to send notices of births, marriages, deaths and other information to the secretary for the present year.

The following officers were elected for the current year: President emeritus, Jasper Royer Brungart, Rebersburg; president, W. Harrison Walker, Bellefonte; vice-presidents, Dr. G. S. Frank, Millheim; John H. Wert, Centre Hall; Luther M. Brungart, Logan; Noah S. Sellers, Linesboro; N. K. Sullivan, Hershey; William Baum, Marietta; D. A. McKibben, Howard; J. Wallace Brumart, Glenn Rock; A. Frank Hockman, Mingo; treasurer, C. M. Bieri, Rebersburg; secretary, E. M. Brungart, Sellingsrove. Greetings from Frank M. Zeller, North Hills, Philadelphia, were read to the assembly. He is a leading spirit among the Zellers, who hope to dedicate a bronze tablet at Fort Zeller, which will be a replica of the Indian deed to that property.

It was voted that next year's reunion be held at Hecla Park on the second Saturday in August.

SEVENTH STRAIGHT VICTORY FOR LOCALS; TRIM REBERSBURG

When Centre Hall invaded Rebersburg territory, last Thursday evening, and pounded out a 6-2 victory, with twelve smashing hits, it was the seventh straight victory for Centre Hall and gave the team a commanding lead in the league standing.

Roy Jamison had a good day, allowing only six hits to the hard-hitting Rebersburg lads, Centre Hall knocked Diehl from the box and found Wert no great puzzle. Three-base hits were scored by Walker and Bron of the locals. The box score is appended:

HARD HITTING WINS OVER LEMONT, 9 TO 4

Sheer clubbing won for Centre Hall over Lemont, on Saturday, 9 to 4, in a game in which the locals collected 14 hits while the opposition could gather only 5 in nine innings off Durst. Durst, by the way, got all the bad stuff out of his system in the first few innings and then settled down to mow 'em down in good order. After the 4th inning Lemont failed to score. The visitors had the pleasure of being in the lead 4 to 3, in the fourth, and the fair rosters who accompanied the team thought it was "all up" for Centre Hall and voted their belief most vociferously. But the bats of the locals would not be denied and hit after hit rang out with telling effect—2 runs in the 6th and 4 in the 8th, making the score one-sided.

Fetterolf, Crawford, Stover, Knarr, and Johnson had two hits each. Lemont used Foster, Homan and Whitehill in an effort to stem the tide of defeat.
