

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

Samuel Lingle, of Spring Mills, R. D. is at present with his daughter, Mrs. John W. Whitman. Mr. Lingle is badly crippled from rheumatism.

Among the Reporter's callers on Saturday was Mrs. Ellen Coltrone Royer of State College, who while in town visited with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lee, of Newark, N. J., visited with the parents of the former, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lee, at Centre Hill.

Mrs. John Rudy accompanied Chester Wagner and Miss Edith Potter on a recent pleasure trip to Phoenixville and other points in that section.

Misses Bess and Breeze Benner have returned home after a short visit in Philadelphia and Atlantic City, places in which they were employed some years ago.

John Bechtel, of the U. S. Coast Artillery, stationed at Fort Hancock, N. J., was a week-end guest at the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. George Bechtel, Woodward, R. D.

Allen Beaver, of Allentown, was a week-end guest of Miss Betty Ebricht at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Ebricht, in town. Both the young people are seniors in Penn State College.

Stage Show at "State" Theatre
The National Barn Dance (Radio Station WLS, Chicago), will be at the State Theatre, Bellefonte, Monday, September 21, matinee and evening. This is too good to miss, so don't fail to see it.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Auman, of Newark, N. J., were called to Coburn on account of the illness of P. A. Auman, father of the former. Mrs. Auman, in the meantime, visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Goodhart, in Centre Hall.

Mrs. Sarah E. Smith had as week-end guests Mr. and Mrs. Robert I. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Miller, of Tyrone, and on Sunday entertaining at dinner Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Wooster and daughters Grace, of Boalsburg, and Mrs. John Ham, of Pittsburgh.

R. A. Lepley, State College, won $30,000 in the Canadian Veterans' Hospital sweepstakes, as reported by a Pittsburgh paper. Mr. Lepley is employed in the office of the treasurer of Penn State College, and is the husband of Lulu Homan, sister of W. A. Homan, of Centre Hall.

William Miller, since leaving the Centre County hospital where he underwent an operation has been at the home of Mrs. Robert Bloom, west of town, where Mrs. Miller and daughter, Mildred, are also staying for the present. Mr. Miller is steadily improving, the Reporter is pleased to note.

Hugh Smith, one of the Smith brothers until recently doing business in State College, is temporarily conducting a gas station at Milesburg, E. M. (Jack) Smith, the senior of the former State College firm, informs the Reporter that he rumor he purposes locating in Centre Hall is without any foundation whatever.

Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Smith, of Loganville, were week-end guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Walker. Rev. and Mrs. Smith are most kindly remembered by many residents in the valley, the former having served the Evangelical pastorate covering this section and lived in Centre Hall.

Mrs. Werner Jarchow, of Columbus, Ohio, is at present at the home of her father, F. E. Wieland, at Linden Hall. Mr. and Mrs. Jarchow will probably change their location from the Ohio city to Chester, this state, where the head of the family has been offered a position. In the meantime Mrs. Jarchow will remain with her father.

Coming to State College to attend a conference of home economics extension workers, Mrs. Robert Hamilton, of Wellsboro, Tioga county, took advantage of the opportunity to visit her mother, Mrs. C. E. Neff, west of town, Miss Sarah Nelson, a Penn State student, also of Wellsboro, accompanied Mrs. Hamilton to her former home.

In a letter to the Reporter from Mrs. W. A. Fleisher, of Buffalo, N. Y., the statement is made that Mr. and Mrs. Fleisher are "now engaged in the grocery business, having purchased a store and we are lined up with the Red and White. We are doing very nicely." Mr. Fleisher's friends in Penns Valley will be pleased to hear the good news.

A Carbon county farmer whose home was about to be sold for debts last spring, is a happy man today. He made a loan of $4900 from the re- settlement administration, and was also able to make reduction on his outstanding debts. There is every indication he will be able to meet the first repayment on December 1st, from an oats crop of 3500 bushels, and a prospective potato crop of 20,000 bushels. The borrower is a Pennsylvania Dutch farmer.

Mr. and Mrs. George K. Rimmy and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph D. Dale, the latter couple of Bellefonte, recently spent a week-end in Philadelphia visiting many sections of historical interest in and close by the city.

F. E. Wieland, Linden Hall, is suffering from a severe burn caused by the use of carbolic acid as a remedy for ivy poison on the wrist. Mr. Wieland expects to go to Norristown about the first of next month to superintend the remodeling of a farm home purchased by his son-in-law, E. Fred Brouse, a forester located in Montgomery. It is the forester's intention to establish a plantation of twenty acres on his farm as soon as practical.
