

Spring Mills

A Collection of Newsy Happenings and Personals from Gregg Township's Metropolis.

Students Enter College—Two boys and two girls, graduates from Gregg Township Vocational school, have entered college for the first year. The boys, Ellsworth Stover and J. Adam Condo, and one of the girls, Miss Twila Hagen, began their studies at Penn State, while Miss Margaret Grenoble became a student in Susquehanna University, Selingsgrove. They are promising college entrants, judging from their records made while in high school.

Five other young people, also all graduates of Gregg Vocational, resumed their studies in colleges of their choice. Miss Jane Campbell entered upon her senior year at Penn State, while Miss Jean Rishel and Robert Corman are sophomores. John Zuzler is a junior in the same institution, and Glenn Long, a junior at Franklin and Marshall, Lancaster. And so, to college they go, nine from Spring Mills Vocational.

Robert McCool, after treatment for two months or more at Mont Alto, returned to his home here Sunday. The results obtained at the sanitarium were greatly beneficial, as is attested to by the increase in his weight and appearance. He tips the beam at 142 pounds, a maximum record.

W. H. Lingle, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Eisenhuth and children Raymond and Jolsin, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Lingle and children, of Lockport, N. Y., George N. Wolfe, Mrs. W. H. Eisenhuth, Mr. and Mrs. John Ramon, Millmont, R. D., spent Sunday afternoon at Paddy Poa Park.

Miss Rae McCool was one of the large number of persons who attended the West End fair on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Finkle, of Newark, N. J. visited with his sisters, Mrs. Mabel Smith and Mrs. Paul Grove. Mr. Finkle is a barber and is engaged regularly at the chair at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Erdman, of Baltimore, Md., spent Labor Day with Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Bitner at their home at Spring Mills and at their cabin on Garrity road, Seven Mts.

Mr. and Mrs. James McDonald, small daughter, Sandra, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Johnson and children, Barbara and Billy, of Philadelphia, are spending several days at the parental home of the ladies having come here on Wednesday. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bright Bitner.

Mrs. Eva Grove, widow of Arthur Grove, made sale of her household effects on Saturday and will hereafter make her home with her daughter, Mrs. Ivan Lingle, at Spring Mills.

Miller Johnson and family of Conneautville, visited with the former's father, E. T. Jamison, over the week end. Mr. Jamison, according to reports, has not made good strides toward recovery, but Ed. has some real recuperative powers once he puts them to work which he will likely do before the gogg rings.

C. C. Smith and Nevin Keller motored to Harrisburg on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Barger, of Milroy were recent guests at the homes of James Zetle and A. D. Smith, near Spring Mills.

C. B. Stover has contracted to install a bathroom equipment in the D. M. Bradford home, Centre Hall.

The Locust Grove Evangelical church spire will shortly be rebuilt by D. A. Smith, who has contracted to furnish the material and labor. The design will be somewhat different from the one struck by lightning and burned during last summer. Mrs. Martha Corman was hostess to Mrs. J. P. Wetzel, Mrs. D. R. Keener, Mrs. Irvin Stover and Hattie Helms on a motor trip to Lock Haven, on Monday, where they went in the interest of the Eastern Star.

Mrs. (Dr.) W. M. Flegel, of Maywood, N. J., was with her father, W. A. Neese, over the week-end.

Miss Mabel Shore was a guest of Mrs. Guy Corman from Wednesday to Saturday, and before the former returned to her home near Huntingdon the ladies motored to Williamsport where they visited with a mutual friend, whose acquaintance was formed when the three attended a business college.

F. H. Erdley motored to Frackville, Shenandoah and other points in the coal regions, to be with relatives during the time banks were closed incident to Labor Day.

The opening of Vocational school brought back Wayne Biting and Miss Miriam Tsajady, members of the school's faculty, from their respective homes at Loysville and Lebanon.

Fished Off Virginia Shore—A second group of fishermen tried their luck in fishing in the Atlantic off the shore of Chincoteague Island, over the week-end, but had no great success in taking large numbers of fish, but did have royal good sport. The group was made up of Bruce Meyer, Lester Condo, Wm Smith, Alfred Crater, and Guyer Grove.

The stable remodeled into a gymnasium and served as such for a number of years for the Vocational school pupils, was offered at public sale on Saturday. The best bid obtained was $82.50, which was regarded as not high enough to warrant a sale.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schwarm, of Lewisburg, Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Leshar, Jonestown, the former assistant cashier of the Jonestown State Bank and Speaker Hartman, of Milton, were guests over Sunday of H. F. Erdley, Mr. and Mrs. Leshar, after motoring to Union county on Monday, continued their visit at the Erdley home.

Laying of brick for the new residence being erected by Ardell Myers was begun a few days ago. Joe Wolf is doing the work. Watsonstown No. 3 special brick are being used and laid in double (chocolate) colored mortar. The walls are fortified with concrete ties.

Charles F. Auman, caretaker of State highways in Gregg township, is storing crushed stone for repairing purposes back of the Fetterolf grist mill.

Residents about here are anxiously awaiting the result of the letting for rebuilding a portion of State Highway Route 45. They are hoping an acceptable bid will be made, the contract let and work begun in a reasonable time.

It is reported Mrs. Mabel Erdley, of Milton, has leased the Spring Mills restaurant. Miss Siegal, R. N., who was about to lease the place, was offered a position and consequently accepted it in preference to entering a new line of work.

Carl Meyer, on Monday night, went to New Jersey for his fifth load of peaches.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Stover and daughter, Miss Josephine, recently motored to Holsopple to visit with the Castler families, relatives of Mrs. Stover. On the return they came by way of Bedford where Rev. Walter Williams and family were visited. Rev. Williams was a former Methodist minister to serve the Spring Mills charge.

Gym-Auditorium Searing Completion—Contractor W. L. Fry of Tyrone is rapidly pushing to completion the work on the gym-auditorium at the Vocational school. The greater part of the work incomplete is on the outside for which Mr. Fry is responsible. The heating and electrical features, are also incomplete. These are separate contracts.

The auditorium dimensions are 66 by 55 feet, the greater number being the width, with a stage 4x20 feet, the front opening being 23 feet.

Miss Laurabel Sinkabine and gentleman friend, of Berryville, Va., spent a few days with the former's sister, Mrs. H. S. Meyer, last week.

Last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Fetterolf and daughter, Miss Mary, of Harrisburg, were met at Old Fort by Chas. F. Bartiges, who accompanied them to State College, Rockview Penitentiary, Bellefonte and then to Pleasant Gap, across Nitany mountain down to Spring Mills, apparently enjoying the sights very much.

BOALSBURG

Mr. and Mrs. James Atherton and sons James and George, of Numedia, were guests of Mrs. Charles Kuhn on Sunday and also attended services in the Lutheran church.

Misses Mary Reish and Nora Miller were motor guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Rossman on a drive to Yeagerstown to spend Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Stover.

Mrs. Katherine Moore and Miss Elizabeth Harpster, of Harrisburg, visited their sister, Mrs. Ella Barr, last week.

Perry Sweet and a friend, from Warren, were week-end visitors at the home of Mrs. Sara Sweet.

M. A. Clark recently purchased a fine new delivery truck.

A new high school building for Harris township is a subject very much discussed about town. The site has not yet been selected.

Miss Anna Dale visited friends in Bellefonte, Friday and Saturday.

Miss Anna Sweeney came up from Centre Hall Friday, spending the time until Sunday evening in her apartment and with friends.

Dr. Wm. R. Ham, wife and sons, Frank and Nelson, returned last week after spending the summer at their home in Maline and will occupy the new home built by M. W. Goheen.

Messrs. Howard Swank and Richard Lindaman drove to Philadelphia Saturday night and returned Sunday night.

The Harris Township schools opened last Tuesday with a large attendance.

Mrs. George Homan Mrs. Charles Faxon, Mrs. Nevin Meyer, Mrs. Brouse, Mrs. E. H. Dale, Mrs. Shutt, Misses Margaret Dale and Roselle Meyer, Margaret Klimport, attended the Rebekah Assembly at State College, Thursday afternoon and evening.
