

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT AND GOV. EARLE SPEAK TO-NIGHT

Tonight (Thursday), President Roosevelt will address a rally in Forbes Field, Pittsburgh. His speech will be broadcast over a Nation-wide network and a State network, together with an address by Governor Geo. H. Earle. Governor Earle starts speaking at 8:30 P. M. and President Roosevelt at 9:00 P. M.

Senator Robert F. Wagner, "Father of the Social Security Act," will reply to Governor Landon's attack on the measure in a broadcast address over a coast-to-coast network of the National Broadcasting Company, on Saturday, October 3, from 10:30 to 11:00 P. M.

Other notable public men to speak include: Former Governor Clark, of Ohio, Friday, Oct. 9, from 10:30 to 10:59 P. M. Interior Secretary Ickes, October 9, from 8:30 to 9:00 P. M.

Senator Warren R. Roberts, Democratic candidate for State Treasurer, over a state-wide hookup, Thursday, October 8, from 8:00 to 8:15 P. M.

MAJORITY OF BANKERS FAVOR NEW DEAL BANK LEGISLATION

The revelation that an overwhelming majority of the nation's bankers recognize what the Roosevelt Administration has done to rescue and to strengthen our banking system, is not surprising.

From the clamor out of Wall Street one might assume that all bankers look upon the New Deal with horror and loathing. Replies to a questionnaire sent by General Foods Corporation to 7400 members of the American Bankers' Association show a different—a very different picture:

65.3 percent of the bankers believe that New Deal banking legislation "has increased security of depositors and stockholders."

53.3 percent find that this legislation has assisted bankers in "rendering maximum service."

And 47.5 percent, a surprisingly large percentage, favors "increased governmental participation in banking."

"Astounding? All this may seem so, coming from the bankers of America. But it really isn't. It simply demonstrates anew that the men of finance most often in print—the big shots—do not represent the banking fraternity generally."

LANDON VIGOROUSLY OPPOSES INSURANCE BANK DEPOSITS

Of late the Governor has had little to say about Federal insurance of bank deposits. But before this measure had come to be recognized as one of the most beneficial acts ever passed by an American Congress, he had a great deal to say about it.

"There is no question," he told the American Bankers' Association on September 6, 1933, "but that the guaranty of bank deposits is a greater blow to the ultimate welfare of the American people than the wildest inflation of the currency could possibly be." In addition he appealed to Governor Capper of Kansas to vote against the bill, saying that it was "extremely injurious to State banks and threatens their very existence. . . . Urge your opposition to the guaranty system."

Thus, in his opposition to the New Deal, Governor Landon is on record as opposing only two features of President Roosevelt's program. It is of no small significance that his first quarrel is with a law taxing undistributed dividends, a measure which seeks to force the rich to pay a just tax and that his second is with one that aims to protect the meagre savings of the poor.

No other comment on Governor Landon's social philosophy seems necessary.

SMITH W. BROOKHART RAPS LANDON'S BOUNTY PLAN

Smith W. Brookhart, former Republican Senator from Iowa, and one-time foreign trade adviser of the Roosevelt Administration, expressed the opinion that Governor Alf M. Landon's farm bounty plan would result in lower farm prices.

In an address Brookhart discussed the Republican Presidential nominee's recent Des Moines, Ia., speech and said:

"Landon had a bill introduced by Congressman Hope. The first section of the bill reduces farm prices to the world level and the other sections connect it with bounty. With the present restrictions in world markets and a good crop year, these prices will almost certainly drop to the 1932 level.

"This means that the farmer will get 30 cents for his corn in the market and a 6-cent bounty. He will get three cents for his hogs and a 6-10 of one cent bounty. He will get 6 cents for his cotton and 1.2 cents bounty, or 7.2 cents total. Instead of family homes, this means family hovels for farmers."

Big business, during the last three years, invested $466,913 in tear gas. The gas is supposed to have the soothing effect on employees dissatisfied with their wages and hours of labor.

Dr. Clinton Wunder, former Townsend old age pension official, said he would support President Roosevelt for re-election. He predicted a "majority of the Townsend vote" will go to the President.

L. W. HENNIGH IMPROVES AFTER BLOOD TRANSFUSION

On Saturday a blood transfusion was given Irvin W. Hennigh, in the Centre County hospital, who several weeks ago was severely injured by being pinned to the ground by a small tractor while operating it in a field near the Centre Hall railroad station. For some reason a wound on the leg began bleeding, during the latter part of last week, which had a very depressing effect on the patient.

The blood in the transfusion operation was taken from John Fohringer, a neighbor of Mr. Hennigh, in south Potter township. Others who offered the service for Mr. Hennigh's benefit were his brother-in-law, L. Maynard Barger, his brother, H. E. Hennigh, Richard Barger, a nephew, and Fred Klinefelter.

Since the blood transfusion, on Saturday, Mr. Hennigh began to recover, but, of course, his condition is not at all what his friends wish for.

CLOSING THE CURTAIN FUND.

To close the campaign for funds to buy a stage curtain for the new high school auditorium, the Alumni Association will hold a public penny bingo game at the high school Thursday night, October 1, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

Groceries and novelties will be given as prizes, and cocoa and cookies will be sold throughout the evening.

At the close of the bingo-playing the class of 1922 will chance off a Dresden Plate quilt.

The fund, which will be presented to the school board after the bingo accounts have been settled, at this time approximates two hundred dollars.

Additional contributors include Grace White, Mrs. Fred Morrill, William Bailey, Jack Bradford, Beatrice Baumgardner, Ralph Homan, Mrs. Robert Snyder, Fred Stover.

FIRST NUMBER ON LYCEUM COURSE, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 2

Pamhasick's Pets, the first number of the Lyceum Course, will be presented Friday, Oct. 2, at 8 o'clock, the single admission being 25c and 35 cents; season tickets are 75 cents and $1.25.

This number was the only show bought and paid for by the Century of Progress itself, both years. It consists of tricks by the cockatoos, canaries, hoop and barrel stunts by the dogs, and monkeys; and there is Bozo, the human monkey.

The climax will be a battle scene put on by the birds. The little Americans storm the enemy fort, actually fire the cannons and raise a ladder to rescue the American prisoner. The enemy flag is torn down and the American flag raised in victory.

This lyceum course of five numbers is being sponsored by the Centre Hall high school and has a group of local business men as guarantors.

CONTEST STILL OPEN FOR HARVEST QUEEN IN CENTRE CO.

The Bellefonte Elks Lodge plans for the Halloween celebration are progressing rapidly. At present there are twelve young ladies entered in the contest for Harvest Queen of Centre County. They are Thelma Holderman, Anna Belle Ward, Jo Jones, Margaret Weller, Pearl Harpster, Eleanor Yoey, Lorraine Hosband, Jane McCulley, all of Bellefonte; Hazel Reed of Yarnell; Mildred Reese, of Milesburg.

Any girl in Centre county between the ages of 15 and 25 years, not married, is eligible to enter the contest.

There will be three cash prizes—first, $50.00; second, $25.00; and third, $15.00. Closing date for entering the contest is October 10.

Registration and purchase of tickets in this community will be in charge of The Centre Reporter.

The contest closes Thursday, October 29, at 9:00 P. M. Watch for announcements in this paper.

95,000 IN PENNSYLVANIA ELIGIBLE TO OLD AGE FUND

Pennsylvania's old age assistance plan, under which approximately 95,000 men and women will be eligible for financial assistance, has just been approved by the Social Security Board. An average of $21.10 will go to the recipients monthly. The age requirement will be 70 until 1940 when it becomes 65. The program is to be administered by the board of trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund of the several counties of the state, under the supervision of the State Department of Welfare.

The Roosevelt-Garner caravan, now touring Pennsylvania, stopped in Centre Hall on Thursday evening long enough to permit Donald Hook, a youthful Allentown Democrat, to give one of his characteristic political addresses which dwell on the benefits of the New Deal, as applied nationally and locally. The caravan appeared without previous notice, and as a consequence the speaker's audience was not large. With the caravan were County Chairman E. R. Taylor and John W. Decker, present representative to the lower State house and candidate for re-election.

Judging from the conclusions arrived at by the jury on the Philadelphia murder and the Rearick damage cases, a "straw" vote on the result of a Centre county jury is even less reliable than the prediction of November election returns.

STANLEY BROOKS BECOMES OWNER OF BOOZER GARAGE

Monday morning the stock and fixtures in the Boozier garage, Centre Hall, became the property of Stanley Brooks, who for almost seven years was employed by J. S. Boozier, former owner of the Boozier garage, established in the early period of the automobile industry by the late D. A. Boozier.

The lease covers both the service station, the new structure on Main street, and the large storage sheds to the rear. The business will be conducted by Mr. Brooks along the lines followed heretofore.

Mr. Boozier took over the plant, during the lifetime of his father, April, 1927. The front building, a wooden structure, was destroyed by fire in December, 1923. Since then a substantial and convenient brick building was erected, and has since been in use.

Mr. Boozier, a few months ago, became a salesman for the Automotive Supply Company, which accounts for his willingness to dispose of his business here. The family will continue to live in Centre Hall and Mr. Boozier commutes to State College, headquarters of his employers.

The new owner will do business under the name of Brooks Service Station.

MEETING OF SOUTHSIDE DEMOCRATIC CLUB

The regular quarterly meeting of the Southside Democratic Club will be held next Wednesday evening in the Centre Hall I. O. O. F. Hall at 8:00 o'clock.

All registered Democrats of Centre Hall, Potter township and vicinity, are invited to attend this meeting. Plans will be made for active support of President Roosevelt and the other Democratic candidates. Possibly, a Rally of Democrats from all parts of the county, with a key speaker, will be arranged for during October.

All local Democrats who are interested in the Club may join for the remainder of the present year for fifty cents.

McCLELLAN—PENNYPACKER.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at Burnham, Wednesday evening of last week, when Miss Helen K. Pennypacker became the bride of J. Stanley McClellan, of Centre Hall, R. D. The officiating minister was Rev. Lester, pastor of the bride. The bride was very charmingly dressed in navy blue with matched accessories, and was attended by her sister, Mrs. Philip Smith, of Milroy. The groom wore a suit of brown and had as his attendant, Philip Smith, a brother-in-law. The beautiful ring ceremony of the Presbyterian church was used.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clay Pennypacker, of Milroy, and the groom the second son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McClellan, Centre Hall, R. D.

Others than those named above who attended the ceremony were Misses Emily Brown and Leone Reed, friends of the bride.

The young couple will be at home to their friends in State College in the near future. Mr. McClellan is operating a fleet of trucks.

191 PHILADELPHIANS SEE PENNS VALLEY, SUNDAY

At noon on Sunday a special train carrying 191 Philadelphians passed over the L. and T. and stopped at Centre Hall for fifteen minutes. The train was made up of six coaches, a diner and observation car.

The route selected, of course, was over P. R. R. lines and included Altoona, the "Mule" and "Horse Shoe" curves, and back over the Main Line by way of Lewistown.

JUDGE FLEMING SCORED JURY WHO FREED MRS. BEHMER

In charging a later jury, Judge M. Ward Fleming took occasion to refer to the verdict of the jury in the Behmer murder case in this manner:

"This is the first time that I have had occasion to charge a jury since instructing the jury in the recent homicide case, wherein a ludicrous verdict of not guilty, so clearly against the evidence, was rendered. I make reference to this verdict at this time so that you may become more deeply impressed as to your rights and duties as jurors. That verdict was not only a palpable miscarriage of justice but it has held up the fair name of Centre county and Centre county justice to ignominy and shame; that verdict will, perhaps, do more to render unstable the peace and dignity of our county than any thing that has happened for a long time."

63,000 TEACHERS FOR 2,036,000 SCHOOL PUPILS

The 1936-37 school year is in full swing in Pennsylvania with an enrollment of 2,036,000 pupils and 63,000 teachers employed to teach these youths in the state's public schools.

The 2,036,000 pupils, comprise 26,000 in kindergarten, 1,590,000 in elementary schools and 500,000 in secondary schools. This number does not include 300,000 students in private preparatory schools and 80,000 college students in Pennsylvania.

If you have cut down your political activities to going to but one political gathering, go hear Governor George H. Earle speak from the court house steps, Monday night, October 5th.

MRS. REARICK AWARDED $3690 DAMAGES DUE TO ROAD CHANGE

The damage suit brought against the County Commissioners for damage to property and business by Mrs. May K. Rearick resulted in a verdict in her favor for $3690. The case was an appeal by the commissioners from an action of road viewers in which they placed the damage at $3500. The property is better known as the Four Place, Seven Mountains, close to Route 322. In rebuilding the road the route was located some little distance to the east, but on land belonging to Mrs. Rearick.

The case opened Tuesday afternoon and closed Thursday evening, and a verdict was rendered Friday morning.

A large number of witnesses were heard, and their estimate of the value of the property and damage varied greatly. The highest value was placed by S. Ward Gramley, Millheim, who testified that the property was worth $10,000 before the road was changed and but $500 thereafter, making the damage $9500. Former Sheriff A. B. Lee valued the property at $5500 and the damage at $8000. Eugene H. Lederer, State College, made his estimate $6000 and $1700.

R. M. Smith, a witness for the county, placed the valuation at $6000 and the damage $500. Other witnesses held the value lower and the damage as low as $200.

The verdict, $3690, is thought by many to be exorbitant.

LOCAL RELIEF CONTROL THRU BI-PARTISAN BOARD

A test of the merits of the local control plan for direct relief got underway on Thursday in six Pennsylvania counties.

All but two of the 24 men and women who will serve on the bipartisan boards in the test counties were appointed by the State Emergency Relief Board. The experiment is to determine if local relief control should be adapted throughout the State.

The test counties are Butler, Clarion, Centre, Chester, Carbon and Cumberland. In each, relief will be dispensed out of State funds, although it will be administered by a local unsalaried board of two Republicans and two Democrats.

The Democratic appointees were named by the Democratic members of the S. E. R. B., and the Republican members by State Treasurer Charles A. Waters and Auditor General Frank E. Baldwin, Republican members of the same organization.

The board in Centre county is made up of former sheriff A. B. Lee, Spring Mills, and Swengie Smith, of Bellefonte, Democrats; Mrs. James M. Williams and W. L. Swann, Republicans.

In addressing the board members, the Governor said:

"I want you to remember that politics is entirely apart from politics. Politics is a thing to be absolutely forgotten in this experiment. Human misery and politics don't mix. The test boards will have absolute carte blanche, because it would not be an absolute test if they did not. They will have full supervision over their allocations, to expend them as they see fit."

J. C. VONADA WILL BUILD BARN ON OLD SITE

J. C. Vonada is preparing to build a plank frame barn with dimensions of 24x48 feet, on approximately the old barn site on his farm north of Red Mill. The barn, it will be recalled, was struck by lightning a few months ago and was totally destroyed.

Lumber for the structure will be cut from a tract of timber on the Kerr farm, now owned by Mr. Vonada, and saved at the Ernest Treaster mill along Sinking Creek.

Mr. Vonada was long perplexed as to the most convenient site on which to build, and finally the barn was staked out at his home along the Red Mill road, some distance from the farm building site. The proposed site lacked one essential feature—water—found at the old site, and as a consequence the stakes were pulled and driven along the walls of the original barn and it is there the new structure will be erected.

17,582 PENNSYLVANIANS IN CCC CAMPS IN U. S.

At the present time there are 106 CCC camps operating in 44 counties of Pennsylvania. 12,307 Pennsylvania enrollees are working in these camps. A total of 17,582 Pennsylvanians are enrolled in CCC camps throughout the United States. Much valuable work has been done in our forests by the enrollees and the money they send home monthly has been an important contribution to the solution of the relief problem.

In the five CCC camps in Centre county, there are 538 Pennsylvania enrollees.

It cost the neat sum of $50.00 to draw the additional fifty jurors before the required men counted fit to pass on the guilt or innocence of Mrs. Behmer could be secured. The sum was divided equally between J. Thomas Mitchell and Orvis Harvey, attorneys, who acted for Sheriff Keeler and Coroner Heaton as jurors, or substitutes, during their absence. Our readers as a rule are not acquainted with how much labor and effort are required to draw an extra juror, but they will be pretty thoroughly in accord with the writer's views that a dollar a head is too d— much.

DURST AND JAMISON NAMED ALL-STAR PITCHERS

The following is reprinted from the Centre Daily Times State College:

Managers of five of the six teams in the Tri-Valley League today cooperate with George A. Scott, Centre Daily Times sports editor in naming the first all-star Tri-Valley League team, based on the players' performance during the 1936 season. Each manager in the league was requested to submit his selection of an all-star team and the results were compiled by Mr. Scott.

Managers submitting their choices were Harold Durst, Centre Hall; Jas. Schreck, Lemont; Harold Stover, Spring Mills; Ernest Gilliland, Pine Grove Mills, and Forrest Benford, of Pleasant Gap. The result of their voting is as follows:

Catcher—Earl Burd, Rebersburg.

Pitchers—Harold Durst and Roy Jamison, both of Centre Hall.

First Base—Joe Herman, Pleasant Gap.

Second Base—Newton Crawford, Centre Hall.

Shortstop—Wayne Kline, Pine Grove Mills.

Third Base—Clair Brunhart, Rebersburg.

Centre Field—Dean Zeigler, Spring Mills.

Right Field—Albert Foster, Lemont.

Honorable mention goes to the following catchers: Harry Meyers, Lemont; Harry Gearhart, Pine Grove Mills; and Clarence Walker, Centre Hall. Infielders: Stan Bierly and Paul Bierly, Rebersburg; John Gilliland, Pine Grove Mills; Jay McCool and Ellsworth Stover, Spring Mills; Russell Spicer and Evan Bilger, Pleasant Gap; Ike Abramson, Lemont, and Wilbur Stover and George Goodhart, Centre Hall. Outfielders: Roy Brunhart, Rebersburg; George Burwell and Wilson Henry, Pine Grove Mills; Chan Houser and Joe Meyers, Pleasant Gap, and Earl Grove, Lemont.

Pitchers: Earl Rider, Spring Mills, and Albert Foster, Lemont.

All but three members of the all-star team, including the pitchers, finished the season with a batting average of better than .300. Foster, batting champion of the league, tops the list with a .387 average, followed by Herman, .358; Crawford, .337; C. Brunhart, .321; Jamison, .316; Zeigler, .310; Knarr, .304; Burd, .284; W. Kline, .278, and Durst, .220.

Durst and Jamison led the league pitchers for the season, Durst winning 13 and losing only one for the best record in the league, while Jamison won 12 and lost two. Jamison also led the league in strikeouts.

18TH ANNUAL CONVENTION LUTHERAN MISS. SOCIETY

The thirteenth annual convention of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Susquehanna Synod of the United Lutheran Church of America, has been called to convene from October 4 to 6, in Trinity Lutheran church, Selinsgrove, Rev. Dallas C. Baer, pastor.

Outstanding speakers at the various sessions are listed:

Sunday, 2:30—Mrs. Miriam Treon Miller, returned from Africa; Miss Christie Zimmerman, India. The latter will also speak at the Monday morning session.

Monday, 1:30—Rev. Kiyoshi Watanabe, Japan.

Monday, 7:15—Rev. Patrick Magale, British Guiana.

Tuesday, 8:30—Mrs. Miller, Africa; Mrs. E. L. Bottiger, West Milton; Mildred Winter, Williamsport; Pearl Eckard, Lewistown.

Tuesday, 1:30—Miss Frieda Hop, Porto Rico; Mrs. L. G. Shannon, Williamsport.

The president of the society is Mrs. W. A. Moser, Liberty, Tioga county; vice president, Mrs. Harry W. Miller, Williamsport; recording secretary, Mrs. N. A. Yeany, Bloomsburg.

BINGO TONIGHT.

The High School Alumni Association is sponsoring bingo games at the high school building this (Thursday) evening. The evening's entertainment is open to all interested in securing funds to procure a suitable curtain for the auditorium stage.

The sponsors announce that a quilt will be chanced off during the evening and consequently all books should be turned in.

MINISTERS AND LAYMEN DISCUSS CHURCH CONSTITUTION

Pastors and elders from Reformed churches in Lycoming, Clinton, Centre, Snyder and Union counties met in Williamsport on Tuesday and Wednesday for the annual Fall session of the West Susquehanna Classes of the Evangelical and Reformed Churches.

Approval of the new constitution of the church, drawn up at the national meeting of the General Synod last June in Fort Wayne, Ind., was a principal item of business.

Those in attendance from Centre Hall were Rev. D. R. Keene, and Elders B. E. Runkle and D. K. Keller.

Plan to give Monday evening, October 5th, to the furthering of placing Pennsylvania in the Democratic column and increasing by its thirty-six electoral votes Roosevelt's majority for President. Governor George H. Earle will be the chief speaker, a campaign speaker who deals in facts and convincing arguments. Speaking will be from the Court House steps, favorable weather permitting, otherwise in the main court room.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST FROM ALL PARTS

25 degrees of cold last Friday night brought the first frost of the fall season.

Dad's Day at Penn State will be observed Saturday and Sunday, October 3rd and 4th.

Simeon Bathurst, the only Civil War veteran in Milesburg, became 97 years old during last week.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Wyland, September 12th, at their home along Sinking Creek, near Poters Mills.

Homer Comley, Robert Breon, Jack Kirkpatrick, Esop, Arvey and Roberts, Wetzell, and Madeline Emerick, Centre Hall, were granted licenses to operate motor vehicles.

Hear Governor George H. Earle, Monday evening, 7:30 o'clock, from the Centre County Court House steps. He has a message of special interest to Pennsylvanians.

Exclusive of students enrolled in graduate, special, extension centers and practice teaching course, who have not yet been counted, Registrar Hoffman said that a recent summary disclosed a gross enrollment of 5491 young men and women registered for the school year which began a few weeks ago at Penn State.

On an anniversary of her birth on Thursday, Mrs. S. W. Smith received a large number of congratulatory messages, by mail and otherwise, and in the evening a dinner was tendered her by Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Kerlin, William Kerlin, Jr., with Mr. Smith as a guest, at Woodward Inn. The table was appropriately decorated and a birthday cake, properly candied, was conspicuous.

Three Milroy youths were lodged in the Centre County jail on failure to post bond in the sum of $500 each, following a hearing before Squire John M. Boob, Millheim. The young men are Clayton Aumiller, 16, John Baumgardner, 18, and Leroy Wilson, 21. The prosecutor is L. L. Weaver, superintendent of Po Valley CCC Camp. It is charged the trio had taken gas from a storage tank on several occasions.

George E. Wells, during this month will move to near Murray school house, in Gregg township, onto the Charles Weaver property, which was purchased by him. The place contains about one hundred acres of woodland and fifteen acres under cultivation. The young man contemplates trucking and reducing unpromising trees to firewood. Mr. Wells and family now lives west of Old Fort, in the Snyder property.

The Automotive Supply Company State College, on Friday evening entertained a large number of their customers in Centre county in the Odd Fellows hall, State College. The line of talk to the gentlemen and employees was on the superiority of "Everready Prestone" as an anti-freeze. Later light refreshments were served. Centre Hall was represented by Messrs. Ralph Whiteman, James Foust, Lynn Breon and Vernon Garbrick, Hagan Garage employees.

Work has begun on the construction of both houses at Halfway Dam in the Fourteen Mile Narrows. Paths will be made from the bathhouses to the parking area west of the dam and a pavilion will be erected east of the houses. The work is being done by members of the Halfway CCC camp. At Joyce Kilmer camp in the Seven Mile Narrows a survey is being made with a view to the development of a large recreational area.

A $12,000 garage is to be built by E. E. Weiser, Chevrolet dealer, on the northeast corner of Allegheny and Howard streets, Bellefonte. The location is the former Dr. Hale property, opposite the new Bellefonte post office. Plans for the garage will be furnished by the General Motors Corporation, and the structure will be one story high with entrance from Allegheny and Howard streets and on an alley. It will be set well back from the curb along the street and have a length of 160 feet and width of 70 feet.

Through the winning of a Chevrolet sales contest, E. W. Miller, of the Miller Motor company, Centre Hall, and W. F. McClellan, a Chevrolet dealer of State College, will be able to be in New York City, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, with all expenses for transportation, hotel bills at the Pennsylvania, and tickets for the World series baseball games paid for by the Chevrolet Division of the General Motors Corp. The gentlemen will motor to Harrisburg this (Thursday) evening, where they will board a P. R. Pullman for the metropolitan city.

As has been their custom for a number of years, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley S. Hosterman, of Woodward, will spend the winter in Florida, somewhere along the eastern coast. Each year a new location is selected as the headquarters city, from where the particular section of the State is given a thorough combing for sight-seeing. The couple anticipate meeting a Wisconsin couple, met on a previous Florida trip, who will join them at their favored city. The popular Woodward Inn, conducted during the summer months by Mr. and Mrs. Hosterman will be closed shortly after the hunting season and then a visit to a daughter in New York State will precede the Florida outing.
