Captures Two 'Coons'

Wayne Bittling, assistant supervisor of agriculture in the Gregg Twp. Vocational school, had the good fortune to kill two racoons, one of which weighed 17 and the other 18 pounds. The members of the Procyonidae family, of course, were taken at night—to be exact, Friday night. By the way, Mr. Bittling was at the family home, at Loyville, over the week-end, and had the good fortune to be at the old home following successful hunting by both his father and brother, each of whom had killed a wild turkey.

Carol Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Noll, is ill with scarlet fever. The familiar quarantine sign is on the home.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Grace Reformed church held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Miles Bressler.

Miss Gladys Ziegler and Miss Lena Bressler, employed at the Laurelton State Village, spent the week-end at their respective homes.

Success of Local Hunters.—Small game in this section appears to be rather scarce, at least that is the conclusion one must come to when the game bag is searched as the hunter returns, weary, tired. Seven sportsmen killed ring-necked pheasants, namely, Nestor Heckman, Aaron Helsey, Robert Meyer, John Heckman, Spurleon Condo, Elwood Wolfe, Newell Miller. A number of rabbits were also killed, but the hunters who got the limit (4) are not so plentiful. A farm hand employed by John D. Biddle, killed a 15-lb. turkey.

Jeremiah Zettle opened his fur establishment, at the old stand, at the J. C. Lee place, and is ready to deal squarely with all who have pelts to sell.

The reader will be pleased to learn that W. F. MacMorran is improving. Mrs. MacMorran was at her home on Friday and reported her husband to be getting along as well as could be expected following two operations—removal of the appendix and gall bladder stones—in the Sayre hospital. "Mac" is 38, in the prime of life.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Weaver, of Altoona, were guests of Mrs. Annie Smith, a sister of Mrs. Weaver. From here the couple went to Rebersburg where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bartzes, the latter being a sister of Mr. Weaver, a retired railroad employe.

Miss Eleanor Smith, home economics extension worker, was about town during last week and arranged to open the 1936-37 school in home economics on Friday, 20th inst., at the home of Mrs. Roy Searson. Last year the class was made up of eight members, and it is hoped that a larger number of young women will avail themselves of the opportunity to benefit from the teaching of the varied subjects of great import to the housekeeper.

P. F. A. Banquet, Friday, 19th.—The Past Templars Association of Centre and Clinton counties will hold their annual fall banquet, in the Pleasant Gap grange hall, Friday evening, 20th inst. The chief amusements will be cards and dancing.

Mrs. Bruce Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCool and Miss Ruth Ripka spent Sunday evening in Williamsport. Work on the new road was on the standstill during much of last week. The election, rain and the opening of the hunting season were accountable for the loss of time. The steam shovel began in dead earnest on Monday, when it was working a short distance east of the Decker saw mill.

Preparing to Make Road Ballast.—Preparations are under way to manufacture something like 300,000 tons of limestone road ballast at the Allison quarry, near Spring Mills. The quarry has a breast of approximately 150 feet wide with a depth of about 30 feet. Kohl Bros. have almost completed the drilling of the first series of twenty-four 6-inch holes, 30 feet deep, for blasting. The blast is expected to cut loose many tons of stone. A second series of openings will be made later.

Miles Bressler visited Poe Valley CCC camp on Monday, but is not able to resume work. The CCC foreman is obliged to use a cane to locomote, due to a severe attack of rheumatism.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Condo, C. E. Ziegler and housekeeper, Mrs. Lulu Brungart, greatly enjoyed a chicken dinner, on Sunday, at the Loganton hotel.

The remodeling of the Sheffield milk plant is about completed. The operation included the removal from one place to another of much heavy machinery, the construction of an ice field, and repainting of the entire interior of the building and machinery. The painting was the last feature of the work and was almost finished on Monday.

Mrs. Bruce Meyer acted chaperon for her daughter, Lena, also Dolores Condo and Dorothy Miller, on Monday evening and transported them to Bellefonte where they began their second term of lessons in tap and other dances under Miss Burns.

Kenneth Lingle was granted a motor vehicle driver's license at a recent test given him.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Martin and son, Oliver, of Lewisburg, and Mrs. Emma Young, of Boalsburg, were among those who attended the opening of the Condo grocery store.

John Heckman, Jr., is suffering from an infection on the hand. He is employed in the Whiterock quarries and while working there a spall from a stone struck his hand, cutting the knuckle of the first finger on one of his hands. Little was thought of the injury until an infection developed. He has not been able to work since.

Mrs. George Weaver Suffered Stroke. Mrs. George Weaver suffered a stroke of apoplexy at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Irvin Evert, near Zion. Mrs. Weaver, whose home is at Spring Mills, several months ago fell down a stairway and broke a leg. She was taken to the Centre County hospital and from there to the home of the daughter where she is now ill. Mrs. Weaver is a sister of John H. Bare, also of Spring Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Breen, of Aaronsburg, were guests of their son, Foster Breen, and family for a week.

Mrs. Howard Confer died at her home near Potters Mills. She was a sister of George Breen and was reared in Georges Valley on the Breen homestead now occupied by the brother. A further notice of the death appears under the death head.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. A. Heckman prominent Gregg township farmers, gave one of their elaborate dinners at an early butchering at which all the Heckman children, except Mrs. Matter, attended. The children are Mrs. Willis Breen, Mrs. Carrie Lingle, Mrs. Foster Breen, John, Robert and William. Margaret and Robert Matter represented their mother at the feast.
