

Spring Mills

A Collection of Newsy Happenings and Personals from Gregg Township's Metropolis.

Methodist-Reformed S. S. Officers—At a recent meeting of the Methodist and Reformed Sunday school—a union school—in operation for a few years, the following officers were elected: Superintendent, C. M. Watta; assistant superintendents, J. C. Lee and Paul Swabb; secretary, Ellsworth Stover; assistant secretary, Kenneth Albright; librarians, Russell Houser and Ralph Watts; pianist, Marie Long; treasurers, Mrs. Annie Smith and Austin Long; cradler superintendent, Mrs. Randall Meyer. The officers will serve during the 1937 calendar year.

Mr. and Mrs. Elaine Bitner and Miss Sarah Ennist spent Saturday evening in Bellefonte with Mr. and Mrs. Russell Nelson, formerly of Pottery Mills.

Misses Helen Zettler and Gladys Ziesler, employed at Laurelton State Village, were at their respective homes in Spring Mills over the week-end. Mrs. William Johnson and two children, Barbara and Billy, of Philadelphia, were recent guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bright Bitner.

Mrs. Mike Hammer, of New York City spent several days during last week with her uncle, W. S. Auman. The lady came here on both business and pleasure.

Snow Shoe Girls Win and Lose in Basketball—In games of basketball played Friday evening on the Vocational school floor, the girls' team from Snow Shoe high won over the local girls by a score of 45 to 42 while the boys' team from Vocational won over Snow Shoe by the heavy score of 60 to 7. For some reason, quite unaccountable, the Snow Shoe boys just couldn't get the ball in the basket. The same team has made good previous records.

Mrs. Mabel Smith, long employed as a bookkeeper at the Sheffield milk plant, was unable to attend to her regular duties for a few days due to illness. Her illness extended into the early part of the week.

A turkey dinner was greatly enjoyed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Lee last Friday evening, by relatives and friends.

A. C. Confer, the lumberman, for a few days last week took treatment at the Phillipsburg State hospital, but on Monday was looking after business.

Mrs. Miles Johnson and children Joseph, Miss Mabel, Francis and Lois motored to Hartleton where the former's mother, Mrs. Wm. Catherman and grandmother, Mrs. Daniel Catherman, both ill, were visited. The latter has attained her 96th year.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy L. Corman, on Wednesday morning of last week motored to Washington, D. C., returning home the following day. While in the Nation's capital city, the couple visited their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Clemmer, the latter being ill. She is being cared for by her mother, Mrs. M. M. Overly, of Clearfield. The young woman, prior to her illness, was employed in one of the Federal Departments while her husband is a bus driver for a railroad company.

C. B. Stover and family, on Sunday, motored to Tyrone where they visited with a cousin, J. A. Stover, a F. R. R. employe.

W. A. Neebe was at his home here over the week-end.

Samuel Brown is much elated over having been placed on the old age pension list, at 72 years. His check per month will be $22.00.

A. C. Confer is having a railing built along the steps from his lawn to the sidewalk. Ice-coated steps, Mr. Confer says, are not so easy to travel, either up or down.

The Past Tempers Association of Centre and Clinton counties will meet in the Eagle hall Tuesday evening of next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Swabb were Sunday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Meyer.

Mrs. Bruce Meyer, Mrs. C. B. Stover and Miss Josephine Stover, on Monday, were on a shopping tour to Williamsport.

Class in Home Economics—The class in home economics, made up of about a dozen ladies, will hold their next meeting this (Thursday) afternoon at the home of Mrs. Nestor Heckman. This is the fourth meeting and will be devoted to instruction in buying, as was also the last one. The first meeting candy making was the subject developed, and at the second the humble cookie got attention. Miss Eleanor Smith, home economics extension worker for Centre county, has the meetings in charge.

C. B. Stover will install a bathroom equipment in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Osman.

The Sick, Some Are Improving—There is considerable sickness in this vicinity, but most of the cases have not been serious. Probably the most serious is that of C. P. Long, whose greatest trouble arises from sleepless nights. Two members of the local I. O. O. F. lodge are assigned to stay at the home each night.

Richard Slack has recovered from a rather severe attack of pneumonia. Sherwood, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Decker, was taken to the Lewisburg hospital for treatment that may prevent mastoid development.

Lois Shook, youngest daughter of Ralph Shook, has recovered from a recent illness.

Mrs. Emma Hazel and Mrs. Nellie Gramley attended the funeral of Mrs. Mary Shaffer, sister-in-law of Mrs. Hazel, at Madisonburg. The funeral was held from the home of a son-in-law, John P. Royer, who is badly crippled due to an attack of arthritis. Mrs. Sylvia Gronoble, also a relative of Mrs. Shaffer, was another resident from Spring Mills to attend the funeral. Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Leitzel and son, Harry, of Lewisburg, visited among friends here on Sunday. Harry is recovering nicely from an appendectomy. The electric line will be extended from the Harry Wolfe farm home to that of Wallace Igen.

BOALSBURG
Miss Anna Dale spent Wednesday with her sister, Mrs. H. F. McGirk, in Bellefonte.

Mr. and Mrs. George Homan visited at the Waldo Homan home at Oak man confined to bed and at times suffering excruciating pain as the result of burns received late in November while burning brush.

Friends who visited Col. T. D. Boal in the Centre County hospital on Saturday found him quite cheerful but anxious to return home.

Mrs. Wm. Klinger is spending some time with her mother, Mrs. J. M. Wieland, in Palmyra. Mrs. Wieland has been seriously ill for many months.

Mr. and Mrs. Biddle and Miss Treasurer of Logan Grange, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Irvin, of Washington Grange, assisted in the installation of the Victor Grange officers on Monday evening. At the close of the meeting ice cream, cake and coffee were served.

Luther K. Dale attended a horse sale in Centre Hall on Monday. Although a retired farmer, Mr. Dale is interested in good horses.

Mrs. Hellman and Miss Harnish, of State College, were among the callers at the John Kimpert home on Friday.

Mrs. Wm. Brouse is caring for Mrs. Anna Patterson who is critically ill at the home of her son, D. Patterson.

Building among the ladies and auditing accounts among the men, appears to be the business of importance about town since the new year opened.

Ground was broken for the new school building, last week.

FARM CALENDAR.
Timely Reminders from Pennsylvania State College School of Agriculture

Attend State Show—Farm plans for next week will include a visit to the Pennsylvania Farm Show at Harrisburg. More than 10,000 exhibits will be housed in the big ten-acre show building. There will be 7,500 cash awards amounting to $39,212. Forty-one organizations cooperate in this great winter exposition and most of them will have business and educational meetings during the week.

Delicious Is Good Apple—Delicious is very popular as a dessert apple, especially with those who prefer a very mild sort. It is not considered good for cooking because of its mildness. It ripens in October and may be readily held through January and two months longer under best storage conditions, say Penn State fruit specialists.

New Flower Chosen—Among the 1937 All-American flower selections is Crown-of-Gold marigold. This is the first known marigold with odorless foliage, according to Penn State floriculturists. The flowers are orange-colored, early, and about two and one-half inches in diameter. The plant stands two and one-half feet tall.

Keep Houses Uniform—Overheated poultry houses are not conducive to high summer egg production; nor are cold, clammy houses in winter. Rapid temperature changes are most detrimental. To insure uniform conditions or gradual changes, the house should be tightly constructed, with insulated walls and ceilings, say Penn State agricultural engineers.

Farm Records Necessary—A farm business without some kind of records is like a clock without hands. You cannot tell whether it is gaining or losing, nor even where it stands at any one time. It pays to keep farm accounts, say State College farm management specialists.

TUSSEYVILLE
Mrs. A. L. Slaterbeck spent Tuesday at the Wm. McCormick home in Centre Hall.

Rev. and Mrs. L. A. Wagner and son were calling on friends Wednesday.

Mrs. Clarence Decker and son, of Centre Hall visited on Wednesday with Mrs. Decker's mother, Mrs. Anna Runkle.

A telephone meeting was held at the A. W. Holderman home Wednesday evening.

Charles Bodtorf, accompanied by a Milroy physician, called at the Mrs. Bodtorf home Wednesday.

Alfred Reiber, of Johnstown, who came here Friday to attend the funeral of G. M. Cooney, of Colyer was also a visitor at the Mrs. Bodtorf home Saturday.

William Dasher, employed at Warren, spent the week-end at his home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Grove and daughter of Huntingdon spent Sunday with the latter's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Mowery, of Newton Hamilton visited on Sunday at the Milton Kline home.

Miss Dorothy Brown resumed her teaching duties Monday, after an absence of four days, due to grippe.

John Weaver and family who occupied the Mrs. Wm. Meyer property, recently moved to State College.

Outlook Justifies State Participation in New York Fair

NEW YORK, (Special).—In a letter of invitation to the governors of 47 states, Grover Whalen, President of the New York World's Fair 1939 Corporation, points out that the commercial consequences of the international exposition under construction in New York City are so great an important that they alone would justify the active participation of every state in the nation.

"Fifty million persons from every walk in life, from every state in the United States, from every country in the world, are expected to attend the Fair," writes Mr. Whalen. "The great American market with its tremendous consumer purchasing power will be represented by these visitors. They will comprise a true cross-section of America."

The World's Fair, according to Mr. Whalen, will be a magnificent spectacle, entertaining and instructive. It will attempt to answer the questions: "What kind of a world have we built? What kind of a world are we building? What kind of a world can we build?" With collateral improvements, it will represent a total investment of more than $125,000,000 by the Fair Corporation and the governmental, industrial and other participants. The Fair site park is a tract of 121 1/2 acres, almost at the geographical and population centre of New York City.

Construction of buildings and roads, grading, dredging, planting and landscaping are already under way, based upon a schedule which calls for completion of all construction operations before January 1, 1935, to allow four months for final decorations and installation of exhibits preparatory to the opening of the Fair on April 30.

The opening date commemorates the inauguration, on April 30, 1789, of George Washington as the first President of the United States.

In the government area, and near an imposing federal hall to be erected by the United States Government, the Fair will provide a "Hall of States" in which the significant contributions of each state in laying the foundations for the better World of Tomorrow can be proudly displayed, says Mr. Whalen.

His letter supplements an invitation to participate in the Fair extended to the governors on November 30 by Governor Herbert H. Lehman of the host state of New York. Governor Lehman pointed out that the State of New York has already appropriated, to date, $2,150,000 for commencement of construction of boulevards, service roads, bridges, and certain other basic improvements the State will make at the exposition site or its approaches. The New York legislature, further, during 1936 passed an act creating the New York World's Fair Commission of 18 members and providing funds in aid of this body's preparation of plans for a state building and exhibit and for active state participation in the Fair.

MAGICIAN

"I'm a long distance operator. I don't know how many thousand calls I've handled, but I still get a kick out of it. Here I sit at my switchboard. You, in your home or office, decide that you want to talk to someone who may be many miles away. I say a few words, make a few simple movements with my hands and—Presto!—here's your party! Is it any wonder that I sometimes feel like a magician?"

Business men, too, have found magic in long distance service. Magic that gets more business done in shorter time at less cost. They use long distance to make appointments, secure orders, speed shipments, answer complaints, issue instructions—to make all kinds of business contacts. Long distance has many uses that you should know about. It has obtained results that may amaze you. Let us tell you about them. Call the Business Office.
