

Spring Mills

A Collection of Newsy Happenings and Personals from Gregg Township's Metropolis.

The Sick—There are a large number of sick-children and adults—in the community. While most of those afflicted are nursing severe colds, some are bordering on flu and other ailments of more or less serious character. Among the most serious patients are Richard, two years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Condo, who is slightly improved from bronchial pneumonia. He was taken to the Lewistown hospital Tuesday of last week and brought back on Sunday. His nurse, Miss Marion Smith, R. N., continues to wait on him.

Asher C. Confer, the lumberman afflicted with stomach trouble and a heart condition, continues in about the same condition as a week ago. Miss Slegel, R. N., is nurse in charge.

Two families at Penn Hall, those of Lester Condo and George Harter, are sorely afflicted. Mrs. Condo, her daughter, Florence, and son, Lawrence, are in bed from flu. The father left the sick bed before he should have, so that one of the family might aid in waiting on the others.

Seven or eight of the Harter children are ill, some of them are not serious—bad colds—but need attention. The mother has been in the Centre County hospital since September.

Mrs. P. A. Fetterolf, mother of H. W. Fetterolf, has been confined to bed due to a ruptured blood vessel in the nose. Her condition on Monday was reported improved.

Ear Operation—David, youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bressler on Saturday, was operated on for ear trouble by Dr. J. V. Foster at his private hospital, at State College. The lad is improving.

Among persons ill who have about recovered from light or serious illnesses include Mrs. C. B. Stover and daughter, Miss Josephine, W. Adam Neese, Mrs. D. M. McCool and daughter, Miss Ray McCool, Miss Dolores Condo, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McCool and children, Ruth and Clarence.

C. E. Ziegler and housekeeper, Mrs. Lulu Brungart, on Sunday, spent the day at the Loganton Hotel where they were dinner guests.

Communion service was held in the Methodist church on Sunday. Rev. Seth Russell, the pastor, administered the sacraments.

Red Cross Flood Fund Boosted—The Spring Mills community Red Cross flood fund was boosted to $188.22 with contributions received from Paul Swabb, Harry Wagner, and Lee Vonada. The community is to be congratulated for its generous giving.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Gorman motored to Altoona Tuesday of last week and in the evening participated in a banquet at the Penn Alto sponsored by the Grunow Electric Company, manufacturers of refrigerators and radios. An evening dinner was served to about 200 guests, and after that there was music and other entertainment.

W. Bright Bitter is quoted as having secured his usual supply of Valentines.

Mrs. Annie Smith, during last week, quietly passed a birthday. She received elaborate bouquets and other evidences from persons interested in her well being.

I. O. O. F. Card Party—To further swell the splendid total for Red Cross flood fund, the I. O. O. F. (Thursday) night will sponsor a card party the net receipts to go to that fund. The party will be held in the I. O. O. F. hall. A very pleasant evening is guaranteed to all who respond to the invitation to play for the flood sufferers.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Brungart, of Centre Hall, Miss Lottie McCool and Mrs. Janet Keen, of Millheim, motored to Altoona on Sunday where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roland McCool.

A most unusual publication was displayed to the writer by Mrs. G. C. King, on a visit to her home on Monday. It was a well-preserved copy of The Hammond Gazette, published at Point Lookout, Md., and devoted to the inmates of Hammond Hospital, an institution caring for Civil War veterans. The data here by the paper was July 2, 1862, and was mailed by Alexander Brown Ross, a veteran serving in the 148th Reg't, to his mother, Sara McNitt Ross, then living in Gregg township.

After a long illness, Charles P. Long, who lived all or nearly all his life in Gregg township, died on Sunday. An account of the death appears under the proper head in another column of this paper.

Rufus Hettlinger, of Shamokin; Miss Hazel Watts, of Lewistown, and Mr. and Mrs. Miles Decker took supper at the E. C. Hettlinger home.

Prof. and Mrs. Conley Hayes, of Petersburg, were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Russell Condo. Prof. Hayes was a teacher here in the Vocational school several years ago.

Mrs. Charles Bilger and daughters, Misses Bertha and Alta, and son Evans, of Pleasant Gap, were visiting friends here last week.

E. C. Hettlinger and son purchased a registered Holstein bull from John Ware, at Millfordsburg, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Peck of Lewistown brought Chas. F. Beertges to his parental home on Sunday. Mr. Beertges is located at Washington, D. C. and this was his first visit since he left several months ago. He is employed as an express messenger and runs between Washington, Harrisburg and Philadelphia.

BOALSBURG

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Homan and Richard Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Charles

Jordan, of State College, attended services in the Lutheran church on Sunday evening.

Stoy Sunday, of Shamokin, was a week-end visitor at the home of his parents.

GREYHOUND

NO SISSY

"I'm a Chief Operator and I'd like to tell you something about these girls who work with me. For instance, during the flood last Spring, when we were swamped with calls, some of these girls worked many hours at a stretch without sleep. Finally I thought one slim little operator was going to crack, so I sent her home. She left, but an hour later I found her back at the switchboard, working like fury. She said she didn't want to be a sissy. That's typical of the spirit of service these girls have—and it doesn't take a flood to bring it out."

Thousands of people have found the telephone a priceless aid in emergencies. Millions more find it indispensable for the everyday business of living—for running errands, shopping, making appointments and friendly calls. No modern home is complete without at least one telephone. You can have one in your home for less than a dime a day and two or three cents a day pays for an extension. Just call the Business Office—or ask any telephone employee.
