BOALSBURG

Mr. and Mrs. John Ham, of Leechburg, are visiting among friends in town.

Mrs. Margaret Kuhn, who is spending the winter with her sister, Mrs. Bartley, in Bellefonte, visited at the E. M. Kuhn home several days last week.

Mrs. George Jackson, Mrs. Thos. Smith, of State College, Mrs. F. M. Charles, were dinner guests of Mrs. Wilbur Houtz on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Houser, of Monaca, were visitors at the Luther Dale home from Thursday until Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. George Rimey, of Centre Hall, and Ralph Dale of Bellefonte, were also guests at the Dale home on Sunday.

Mrs. Wm. Ham reports the amount contributed for Red Cross flood relief, $35.00. The schools contributed $22.00; the Lutheran S. S., $15.00; the Fire Co., $2.00. The remainder was purely voluntary contributions from individuals, without solicitation.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerre Zettle and daughters, of Pleasant Gap, were in town Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Studebaker entertained several relatives over the weekend.

A number of people are confined to their homes with colds and grippe.

TUSSEYVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Martz, of Lewis town, were Tuesday callers at the W. S. Martz home.

Friday afternoon visitors at the S. T. Swartz home were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Swartz of State College.

Mrs. Fred Klinefelter returned home Saturday after being at the Ralph Treiser home for two weeks.

Carl, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Lingle, had the misfortune to be bitten on the jaw by a dog. He was taken to a physician where three stitches were required to close the gash.

Clarence Decker and family, of Centre Hall, were Sunday visitors at the Mrs. Anna Runkle home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Weaver and children, of State College, visited with Mrs. Weaver's parents, Wm. Meyers.

REPUBLICANS BANQUET.

Three hundred was the newspaper "count" of the satellites in the Republican party from Centre county to banquet at the Nittany Lion, State College, on the evening of Lincoln's birthday. Dr. Wm. Mosley Brown, of Arlington, Va., was the guest speaker, with County Judge M. Ward Fleming toastmaster. In the face of all the hullabaloo raised by the Republicans during the November '36 election, Dr. Brown claimed defeat of Landon was due to his party not "challenging the people."

Penn and Brush Valleys were well represented according to reports, but Ken Haines was the only one cited for "bravery" when the toastmaster introduced prominent party workers. Ken, the records show, as a candidate broke even in his township, gaining five votes in one district and losing the same number in the other. "There came forth a mouse!"

JOHN BROWN, AXE MANN,
70 YEARS, A SUICIDE

Suffering from the effects of a slight stroke recently, John Brown, aged 70 years, during an irrational moment snuffed off his life with a .25-.50 rifle, the projectile striking the forehead and passing through the head and lodging in the ceiling of the man's bedroom.

Mr. Brown lived with his son, Paul Brown, at Axe Mann, and Monday at about 5:00 o'clock, after amusing his grandchildren, went to his bedroom, where the tragedy was enacted.

The body was conveyed to the Goodhart morgue, Centre Hall, where Coroner Heaton held an inquest, the verdict rendered being suicide.

P. T. A. MEETING.

The regular monthly Parent-Teachers' Association meeting of the local organization will be held Monday evening, February 22, at 7:30 o'clock, in the high school auditorium.

The entertainment committee has arranged for a question box, the questions to be presented by members of the audience on some educational problem. There will also be presented a Washington-Lincoln Day program to which each rural school, the local town grades, and the high school Freshmen will contribute.

NO FEBRUARY COURT

Due largely to the number of defendants pleading guilty before Judge Fleming at a special court held after the grand jury finished its work, the regular court for February will be dispensed with. After the pleadings before the county judge only five cases remained to be heard, which number, considering their character and importance, did not warrant the holding of the February term, to open on next Monday.

CENTRE COUNTY FARMS TO BE SELECTED BY R. A.

The Resettlement Administration's land purchase program in north and central Pennsylvania for the moving of farmers from undesirable farming lands, is three-quarters completed.

The project calls for the purchase of 44 farms in good farming country, covering about 4,400 acres. The administration has purchased nearly 30,000 acres of poor or "submarginal" land, which is to be retired from agricultural purposes, recreational parks and wild life sanctuaries. For the 44 farm families to be moved thirty farms have already been optioned in Bedford, Tioga, Wyoming, Blair and Huntingdon counties.

The other fourteen or more units will be sought in the region located between the Bald Eagle and Jacks Mountains, a region which includes portions of Centre, Union, Lycoming, Clinton, Sullivan, Montour and Columbia counties.

ANNUAL MEETING CENTRE COUNTY POTATO GROWERS

The Centre County Potato Growers at their annual meeting held at Bellefonte last week, re-elected Charles Campbell, of Penna. Furnace, president for the coming year; J. J. Markle, of State College, vice-president, and L. P. Smeltzer, secretary-treasurer.

A car load of certified seed potatoes was ordered for the benefit of the Centre county growers. These potatoes will come from Maine, one of the best seed growing sections, and will cost delivered $2.10 per bushel for Russets and $2.20 per bushel for Cobblers.

L. T. Dennison, of the Extension Service from State College, urged the growers to follow the practice of spraying, using good seed, and good cultural methods in order to produce a better quality potato for the Pennsylvania consumers.

Within the past two weeks robins have become a less rarity about town.
