The Centre Hall Independents will play a Milroy basketball team on the high school floor on Friday evening.

Miss Laura Runkle, who for the past four weeks has been ill with brenchitis and grippe, shows marked improvement in her condition.

About two inches of snow fell Sunday night during a high wind. There was, however, no drifting of consequence, but motoring was miserable.

Mrs F. V. Jodon became ill a few days ago, and while suffering from the flu had the misfortune to fall which was in no way beneficial.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Fisher during last week, quietly observed the forty-#fth anniversary of their marriage The marriage took place at the James A. Keller home, east of Centre Hall.

E. M. (Jack) Smith, State College auctioneer, has been named the official dealer in that place for Dodge cars. His place of business will be located at 1191/2 S. Burrows street.

Merchant C. F. Emery has about recovered from the flu, having left his bed Monday. Mrs. Emery, during last week, also had a touch of the same disease, confining her to bed for a few davs.

Ernest Frank, teacher in the Spring township school at Axe Mann, became ill while at school on Friday and has since been confined to bed. Quinsy developed, a disease hehas been subject to for some time.

Burton Snyder, back from U. S. moved he is not getting the recognition he desired when going to the capital.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Spyker, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Wert, Jr., Miss Vivian Doty and Fred Spyker were among the large number who heard Dr. E. Stanley Jones on Tuesday evening in a lecture on foreign missions, in Altoona. Dr. Jones expects to return to India.

I WONDER how the girls are coming out that studied how to cook in school. There has always jokes about brides and the been way they can't cook, although I never could understand why being a bride would make anybody cook wrong.

Anyhow, there was one bride that never took cooking at school. She served lamb chops and her husband acted awful funny about eating them.

"Well, they just taste funny," he said. "I'd like to eat them, but you know that taste is just a little queer. You must have done something to them lamb chops, because no lumb ever tasted like that on its own hook.

"Why, John," she says, cooked them lamb chops awful careful. I burned them a litle bit here and there, but I remembered what the radio woman said about what to do for burns, and I put a little soda and witch hazel whereever I'd burned 'em. They ought to be good."

25 HEAD YOUNG DRAFT HORSES & MULES

These have been collected by me personally, and I have just returned from the West with FOUR CARLOADS-all direct from the farms of Yakama Valley, Wash. You will find these all young, with more shape, bone and quality than you will find at most sales later this spring. Don't overlook the fact that high prices in the wheat and corn markets has encouraged the Western farmer to work every horse
