

SPEEDING IN BOROUGH.

A number of boroughs in this section of the State are making an effort to better motor driving conditions through their municipalities and are adopting various means to accomplish it. The most common method is the speed trap, but towns doing so have gained exceptionally unsavory reputations for participation in that plan. It appears that on through streets and roads, motorists have the privilege of a forty-mile gait unless the street or road is posted as having a twenty-mile speed limit, provided, of course, that no less speed limit in the general law applies. State Highway patrolmen have an easy way of getting around speeds, and this is by making the charge against the motor operator one of reckless driving which may obtain regardless of speed. And so we find that for all practical purposes (except to establish speed traps) the various speeds designated in the general motor laws are not ineffective to produce sane driving within corporate limits.

ROOSEVELT NOT ASPIRING TO RE-ELECTION IN 1940

President Roosevelt in his radio talk last Thursday evening told his audience what he had been saying to members of Congress, that he aspires to no third term in 1940. His ambition, he said, is to turn over to his successors "a nation in a state of peace, a nation prosperous, a nation clear in its knowledge of that power it has to serve its own citizens; a nation that is in a position to use those powers to the full in order to move forward steadily to meet the modern needs of humanity—a nation which has thus proved that the democratic form and methods of national government can and will succeed."

VAN DYKE CLEANS UP RUBBISH IN HIGHWAY DEPT

Another, more drastic, personnel shakeup will rock the State Highway Department throughout the Commonwealth about April 1. The "quake" is somewhat tardy, earlier action would have prevented much friction. The new changes, about 100 in all, will follow by approximately one month last week's $5 Highway Department transfers, dismissals and promotions that touched 11 of the department's 12 engineering districts. The impending changes will reach into the next lower salary brackets—probably affecting jobs in the $1500-$2000 class.

Gov. George H. Earle himself was forced to intervene in the political sniping against Van Dyke's ballistics. And that the governor approved the veteran Democrat's policies was indicated by the fact that of the cabinet officers, Van Dyke alone was mentioned by name and praised in the governor's budget message last week for his "economical" and "energetic" direction.

CENTRE COUNTY HAS FIFTH HIGHWAY FATALITY IN DEATH OF BOY BY TRUCK, RUNVILLE

Centre county's fifth pedestrian fatality this year occurred Thursday afternoon when Ralph Gunsalus, aged 5 years, was instantly killed when struck by a truck on the highway near the home of his grandfather in Runville. Mrs. Richard Gunsalus, the child's mother, witnessed the accident from the porch of the home of her father, E. S. Bennett, well-known merchant, whom she and her son had been visiting. The child's father resides in Detroit, Mich. The boy is reported to have been thrown under the 10-ton truck after he had jumped from a teamster's wagon traveling along the road. The truck driver swerved his machine in an effort to avoid the accident. A coroner's jury Thursday afternoon exonerated the driver, P. H. Kahle, of Clarion, of any contributory negligence.

At the adjournment of civil court on Saturday a jury returned a verdict awarding damages totaling $744 in a case growing out of the fatal automobile accident which occurred last May 8 on route 322 between State College and Boalsburg when a car driven by William A. Thomas, Jr., of Potters Mills, upset, killing one occupant and injuring three others. Thomas was the defendant in the suit, brought by David E. Stringer of Potters Mills, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Stringer. The case began Thursday noon and was given to the jury at 5 p. m. Friday. David E. Stringer was awarded $446, itemized as follows: doctor bill, hospital, $116; clothing, $10; glasses and examination, $45; loss of earning power $150, while his parents were given $298 in their suit. A compulsory non-suit was granted by the court in action against Mrs. Ruth S. Thomas, mother of the defendant.

Stringer was one of three passengers injured when Reta Smith, 17-year-old Lewistown girl, was killed in the accident. Others injured were Phyllis Kahler, 17, and Dorothy Divan, 16, both of Lewistown. In another trespass suit growing out of an automobile accident, damages of $612.59 were awarded to A. C. Confer, Spring Mills, in his suit against W. C. and R. E. Meyer, of State College.

DEMENTED HAWK RUN MOTHER KILLS HER TWO CHILDREN

Mrs. Jenny Galley, 40, beat to death her two children, aged 17 and 5 years, while they lay in bed asleep on Friday morning at her home at Hawk Run, a mining town in Clearfield county. The woman is the wife of Turiff Galley, a miner, who with a son, 22, had left the home to go to work at about 7:45. The mother, after beating to death her children with a hammer, ran to the home of a neighbor and calmly told them: "I've killed my two babies. Come on over." Authorities say the mother is suffering from dementia praecox.

LOCAL SCHOOL AFFAIRS DOOMED BY CONSOLIDATION AND COUNTY BOARDS

Passage of the Brownfield-Ruth bill for the consolidation of school districts was forecast by Representative Albert L. O'Connor, of Cambria county, as "the entering wedge for destruction of local school affairs." Mr. O'Connor is a member of the House committee, on education and himself a school director in his home community of Loretto. He is also president of the Cambria County School Directors' Association with 57 Fourth Class District and 3 Third Class Districts. The Cambria county legislator says he is not opposed to consolidation of school districts but feels it should be on a voluntary basis. By forced consolidation, he says, local districts lose jurisdiction over school affairs and also control over taxation. The bill before the legislature, Representative O'Connor added, provides for the compulsory consolidation of all school districts employing five or less teachers by July 1941. It also provides for the appointment of county school boards to administer the affairs. These county boards, he pointed out, are subject to rules and regulations of the department of public instruction or the State Council of Education. The Conference of Allied Local Officials of Pennsylvania also has gone on record as opposing the enactment of the Brownfield-Ruth bill. "The Brownfield-Ruth bill is the vicious entering wedge for destruction of local school affairs," O'Connor said. "The affairs of these schools would be placed in the hands of county boards and the department of public instruction or the State Council of Education through confirming powers. The bill also provides for consolidation of small districts, but it should be done only with the approval of those affected. Personally I am not opposed to consolidation of small districts, but it should be done only with the approval of those affected. Wide powers are conferred on the proposed county boards. Once powers are conferred on any agency they are never restricted but always increased. This move is the beginning of the end of local affairs. It is all done under the cloak of better education for children. We all favor better education for children but still feel some control of this education and taxation should rest with local authorities."

SCHOOL DISTRICT RECEIVES $3,360, FINAL PWA PAYMENT ON HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING

G. Douglas Andrews, state PWA Director, announces the payment of $3,360 to the directors of the school district of the borough of Centre Hall. This amount represents the third and final of a series of grant payments which were made by the Public Works Administration in the fulfillment of its promise to contribute $15,120, or 45 per cent. of the total cost of the project which estimates show will amount to approximately $33,600. This last payment brought the amount paid by the Federal government through the Public Works Administration to the promised $15,120.

This useful Public Works Administration project, which was only recently completed, made possible the construction of an important addition to the Centre Hall high school building, which brought the students and community an auditorium and gymnasium and two new classrooms. Although it is estimated that this new school addition cost approximately $33,600, the cost to the taxpayers of Centre Hall will be only $18,480, or 55 per cent. of the total cost of the project, the balance having been contributed by the Public Works Administration. This project provided over 8,000 man-hours of useful employment both for workers living in Centre Hall and vicinity and for many others in other communities who were engaged in preparing, fabricating and transporting the materials and equipment which were used in this construction.

PAST GRANDS I. O. O. F. MEET WITH LEMONT LODGE

Lemont Lodge No. 717, I. O. O. F. was host to the monthly meeting of the Centre County Past Grands Association Thursday night, March 4. Auman, Centre Hall; John H. Frizzell, State College; and Girard Altenderfer, Millsburg took charge. A spelling contest, using words from the ritual, and a period of questions and answers on the work of the order comprised the program which was enjoyable and instructive. It was reported that memorials are to be prepared for Past Grand E. T. Jamison, Spring Mills, and E. S. Erb, State College, recently deceased. The association was invited to attend the meeting of the Lyncoln County Past Grands Association at Jersey Shore, March 15. The invitation was accepted. ## TIGERS AND CUBS WIN

Friday evening the high school basketball five defeated a team from the Y. M. C. A. of Bellefonte, 24-17. At only one time during the game did the visitors seriously threaten to tie the score. This happened in the first quarter while the local shock team was playing, but an added spurt put the Tigers again in the lead, a feat that gave them a fairly easy victory. Perhaps a more exciting game for the spectators was the preliminary fray which pitted the Centre Hall Junior varsity against a versatile Junior Y. M. C. A. club. Although not quite so decisive, this game proved to faithful fans that Centre Hall high is going to have some very capable boys to carry on for the orange and black in future years. The local cubs won by the score of 25-24.

SHERIFF INVESTIGATES EXPLOSION AT POTTERS MILLS

The following is reprinted from the Centre Daily Times of Monday: Sheriff Harry V. Keeler today was investigating an explosion which rocked the house occupied by John Bitner at the gas station owned by Edward H. Loughner on Route 222 near Potters Mills early Saturday morning. No one was injured in the explosion, presumably caused by dynamite, but the ground 15 or 20 feet away from the house was torn up and about 20 window panes in the house were broken, pieces of the glass flying on Bitner's bed. The explosion occurred about 2:20 a. m. Loughner, who is employed by the Titan Metal company at Bellefonte, lives in a house about 500 feet distant from the gas station. The examination for Junior Visitors to have been held Mar 6, under the joint auspices of the Bureau of Assistance, Department of Welfare, and the State Emergency Relief Administration, has been postponed until the form of relief administration has been definitely decided on through legislation.
