Every Woman Loves a Bargain*

NOW . . . THE BIGGEST BARGAIN IN TOWN IS ELECTRICITY!

EVERY woman loves a bargain whether it's hats or herrings, canned soup or kilowatts! Perhaps it's the excitement of the chase . . . the hope of acquiring an article of good quality at half price. Whatever the reason, women as the chief purchasing agents of the home like to find bargains, and they know a good one when they see it.

More and more women are coming to realize that electricity is the biggest bargain in the home today. While other living costs have consistently gone up—electricity has just as consistently gone down.

Electricity is the busiest servant in the home. It's on the job all day and all night . . . from the time it makes the breakfast toast and coffee until it lights the children's home work. And it stands guard all through the night ready for any emergency at a flick of a switch.

Yet this dependable servant works for the lowest wages: it operates a 1000-watt iron for one hour for as little as 1 3/4 cents . . . or a 100-watt I.E.S. lamp for an average evening for a fraction of a cent. Pretty cheap "help," isn't it?

Most articles are on sale at reduced prices only at certain times of the year—but electricity is a summer-and-winter, spring-and-autumn bargain. It's always there and it's always cheap! You can afford to use it to the fullest advantage to bring comfort and leisure to your home.

WITH West Penn's new low residential rate, electricity is now a bigger bargain than ever! Funny thing about it, too. The more you use, the less it costs, for as new uses are added in the home the average cost of each kilowatt hour decreases. The chart below gives an idea of how much electricity you can afford to put to work for you—and how little additional it costs to increase its use step by step until you have an ELECTRIC HOME.
