

Teach Them to Cook

Boys, as well as girls, are invading the kitchen nowadays and finding out that cooking is fun

By Louise Brown

YOU KNOW, when I hear a young girl say smilingly that she "really can't cook a thing," I'm appalled. The idea of a future homemaker not knowing at least the rudiments of cooking!

Doesn't it seem that mothers are overlooking an important part of child training? Dancing and music lessons are part of the training of almost every child today—but how many girls, or boys for that matter, can act as boys over the kitchen range.

Children Find Cooking Fun

Children really love to cook. They get a tremendous thrill from helping mother—and when they can follow a simple recipe and cook something all by themselves they are as pleased as punch.

Teach the boys to cook as well as the girls. In this day and age there's no more reason for a boy to think it unmanly to know how to prepare a simple meal than for a girl to be considered unwomanly because she plays a good game of tennis. Actually many boys are joining the cooking and sewing classes in the schools and finding them lots of fun.

Of course, every good scout learns camp cooking. And while cooking outdoors may seem more play than work, it's excellent training and just a step from that to cooking in a kitchen.

It would be foolish to expect the children to become expert cooks, but surely they need't regard cooking as a mystery. They can at least learn a few simple things, such as how to make toast and cocoa or cook an egg, so that when the necessity arises to get themselves something to eat, they won't be perfectly helpless.

Begin With Easy Recipes

Have them begin, of course, with some very simple recipes. The ones we use today are so clearly written and measurements are so accurate that the children can easily follow them. And modern cooking equipment is easy to handle and dependable so that even quite small cooks can have results of which to be proud. Modern equipment is safe for the children to use, too. For instance, in using an electric range the heat is turned on and off just as easily and safely as you would flick the light switch.

Let the children make a gala occasion of serving and sampling their cooking efforts and you'll find you don't have to coax them to try. All children love a party, so allow them to invite their playmates in. What if they do make a mess of your kitchen! They are learning something that may be more useful to them in later life than any number of arts and graces—and tidying up can be made part of the game.

Since all children have a sweet tooth, here's a recipe they'll like:

Chocolate Cream Pudding

- 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 3 tablespoons cornstarch
- 2 cups milk
- 2 square chocolate, grated, or
- 4 tablespoons cocoa
- Few grains of salt
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix first six ingredients in a saucepan or frying pan. Place the saucepan on the surface unit, turn the heat to Low. Stir once in a while until the mixture begins to steam then stir continually until the pudding is thick. Add the vanilla. Pour into a serving dish or sherbet glasses. Chill and serve with whipped cream or plain cream.

"I'M CAREFUL OF CHRYSANTHEMUMS"

"I've been doing telephone work in this part of town for fifteen years. Most everybody knows I'm the telephone man. I hope they know they can trust me to be careful of their property.

"One day last Fall I was fixing a wire over a lady's flower garden. As I was leaving she said, 'Thanks for being so careful of my chrysanthemums.'

"Don't mention it, ma'am," I said, 'That's part of my job to be careful. Besides I got a garden at home myself, so I know how you feel about it.'"

This kind of personal interest is typical of telephone employees—both men and women. For instance, we aim to handle every telephone call as though it were marked "Emergency!" Try a long distance call tonight and see how quickly and accurately your connection will be made... how clearly that distant voice spans the miles. And see how inexpensive it is—especially at the reduced rates in effect every night after seven and all day Sunday.

BEATING BOOMS

"I'm foreman of a construction crew for the telephone company. With all the millions we've already spent for telephone plant, you might think there wouldn't be much left for us to do. The fact is, however, that we've never stopped growing. We're always planning ahead—to anticipate the needs of each community and be ready to render the service as soon as it's needed. So when a new development starts to boom—when new houses, stores, factories or offices are going up—you'll find telephone trucks there soon after the first steam shovel."

It's good business to plan ahead. If your business is growing, your telephone service should grow with it. Perhaps your facilities for handling calls are already lagging behind your needs. How many "busy signals" are your customers getting when they call your office? We can tell you. Why not let us check your telephone traffic? It may improve your sales and service. No obligation. Just call the Business Office.

Alka-Seltzer

The New Pain-Relieving, Alkalizing, Effervescent Tablet

Watch it bubble up, then drink it. You will be amazed at the almost instant relief.

It is called Alka-Seltzer because it makes a sparkling alkaline drink, and as it contains an analgesic (Acetyl-Salicylate) it first relieves the pain of everyday ailments and then by restoring the alkaline balance corrects the cause when due to excess acid.

After trying many brands of medicines—so-called relief for gas, and all of them a failure, gave up hopes. By chance I tried Alka-Seltzer—I am more than satisfied. Geo. Bennett, New York, N. Y.
