LOCAL HIGH STUDENTS ATTEND
PRESS CONFERENCE AT "STATE"

Members of the new and the retiring "Tiger" staffs from the Centre Hall high school, accompanied by their adviser, Mrs. Roy Jamison, traveled to State College, Saturday, to attend the annual State-wide press conference.
Geradine Bradford, retiring advertising manager, spoke before the sectional meeting of business men on the subject, "Some Advertising Problems We Have Met This Year."
The staffs consider this a distinction for the "Tiger," since all the other speakers came from large schools, such as Clearfield, Williamsport and Pittsburgh.
During the executive committee meeting Mrs. Jamison was assigned the duty of organizing a Centre regional press organization for next year to meet early in the fall.
After the meetings, the delegates were entertained at luncheon in the Sandwich Shop, at which time George A. Stewart of the Clearfield Progress and Howard R. Davis of the Williamsport Grit, spoke. Penn State's varsity quarter furnished additional entertainment before the groups went to the Villanova-Penn State baseball game.
Attendees from Centre Hall were Charles Ramer, Bob Wetzel, Kathryn Smith, Geradine Bradford, Jack Kirkpatrick, Mildred Homann, Ralph Arney, Robert Gerhart, Lois Rees, Mildred Meyer, and Mrs. Jamison.

Deaths

ELDER—Mrs. Annie Harpster Elder died at her home at Pine Grove Mills, Tuesday morning, aged 76 years, four months, 25 days. She was daughter of William and Fanny Gates Harpster. The husband, Henry Elder, and two children, Edward and Mrs. Grace Henry, both of Pine Grove Mills, survive her.
Burial will be made this (Thursday) afternoon at Pine Grove Mills.

CRAWFORD—William Crawford, 73, died at his home at Coleville, on Thursday, from complications. He was born in Spring township, a son of John and Mary Crawford. His wife is deceased but there survive him these children: Mrs. Clay Ritter, Mrs. Sherman Larue, Mrs. Emanuel Walters, all of Coleville; Mrs. Joseph Barnes, Bellefonte; Mrs. Andrew Tate and Elmer Crawford, of Pleasant Gap; William Crawford and Desales Crawford, both at home.

HASTINGS—Mrs. Jennie Rankin Hastings, widow of Daniel H. Hastings, who was governor from 1894 to 1898, died on Monday. She was 86 and had been an invalid for five years. Her husband died about thirty years ago. Mrs. Hastings is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Ross Hicok and Mrs. Samuel Fleming, both of Harrisburg, and a sister, Mrs. Bella McFarland, of Bellefonte.
The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at the Bellefonte Presbyterian church.

HOY—William Alfred Hoy, for 50 years a dairyman at State College a former Burgess of that borough, aged 75 years, died on Sunday. He is survived by a wife, formerly Emma Harrison, and four children.

GRENOBLE—Having reached the age of 93 years and two months, Mrs. Josephine Grenoble passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Victor Von Gunden, at Pleasant Gap, at 1:30 Wednesday afternoon of last week, as the result of general debility. A daughter of Joseph and Mary E. Flack Hinds, she was born in Williamsport Feb. 29, 1844. As a young woman she married William Grenoble and for many years they lived at Hocla Park. Over forty years ago they moved to Pleasant Gap where Mr. Grenoble, a veteran of the Civil War, was postmaster for a number of years. He passed away twenty years ago and since then Mrs. Grenoble had lived with her children four of whom survive, as follows: Kline Grenoble, of Lock Haven; Mrs. George H. Yarnell, Mifflinville; Luther Grenoble, of Avis, and Mrs. R. W. Beatty, of Sheridan Road, N.Y.
Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at the Von Gunden home by Rev. W. J. Wagner, of State College; burial in the Pleasant Gap cemetery.

GRIMM—Charles Lincoln Grimm, a retired Centre county farmer, died at his home in Lock Haven. He suffered a stroke of paralysis in January and a heart condition developing caused his death.
He was a son of Reuben and Elizabeth Shaffer Grimm and was born in Miles township 75 years ago. For over a quarter of a century he occupied a farm near Madisonburg but retired twenty-eight years ago and shortly thereafter took up his residence in Lock Haven. His wife, Mrs. Carrie Grimm, preceded him in death, but surviving him are five sons and two daughters, Harry, Claude and Robert Grimm, Mrs. Frank Flaig and Mrs. Guy Poyle, all of Lock Haven; Ray, of St. Louis, Mo., and Walter, of Flemington. Burial was made at Lock Haven.

JOHN F. HAGAN BECAME EIGHTY-TWO, ON SUNDAY

On attaining the eighty-second anniversary of his birth, on Sunday, John F. Hagan was greeted by his children and friends who gathered at the Hagan home, Farmers Mills, to do him honor. Given an honored position was Mrs. Hagan, his wife.
A beautifully decorated cake adorned with 82 candles was the center piece on the table laden with delicious foods. The cake was baked by Mrs. James Kerstetter, Penn Hall, a niece.
The guests present included Mrs. Charles Hagan, Lois and Isabel Hagan; Franklin Clutcher, of Shamokin; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ream, Dorothy and Dick Ream; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hoy, William Hoy, Miss Blanche Hagan, Bruce Hagan, Anna and Lois Neff, of Bellefonte; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hagan, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hecker, Anna Mary and Buddy Hecker, of Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hagan, Mr. and Mrs. Ardell Myers and daughter Catharine, of Farmers Mills; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hagan and daughter Twila, Mrs. James Kerstetter and son Francis, of Penn Hall; Miss Verna Hagan, and Arch Hagan, at home.

PENNA. STATE GOVERNMENT
NOW 100 PER CT. DEMOCRATIC

The offices of State Treasurer and Auditor General in Pennsylvania are now filled by Democrats. The last Democratic treasurer was William H. Berry, 1906-1908. F. Clair Ross, inducted into the office for a four-year term, began his duties at noon on Monday.
On Tuesday, at noon, Warren R. Roberts, Bethlehem, succeeded Frank E. Baldwin, Potter county, as auditor general. As this office passes from a Republican to a Democrat, Pennsylvania's state government is 100 per cent under Democratic control.

COMMUNITY NIGHT PROGRAM CAPTURES CAPACITY HOUSE

The Community Night program, on Friday evening, was a signal success. The attendance was the largest of any gathering held in the new auditorium, and the program kept the audience on the edge of the bench from the initial number to the last—the Reish-Gerhart bout. The individuals and groups received the applause due them, and while the bouts were on there was evidence in all sections of the auditorium that similar sports had been witnessed heretofore, although this was the first of the kind ever staged here with high school students in the ring.
The program included numbers from all of the township and borough grade schools, and without exception were well rendered. The schools represented were Earlstown, Bertha Hasckell Wagner, teacher; Paters Mills, Perry Ober and Annie Wert, teachers; Tusseyville, Dorothy Brown, teacher; Tusseyville, Bertha Sharer, teacher; Colyer, George Sweeney, teacher; Centre Hill, Lila Brooks, teacher; Plum Grove, Ernest Wagner, teacher; Centre Hall Elementary Grades—1 and 2, Helen White; 3 and 4, Martha Yearick; 5 and 6, T. L. Moore; and 7 and 8, Russell Bohn, teachers.

The music, all numbers being vocal, were under the direction of Marjorie Fisher.
The last periods were given over to James A. Meyer, physical education director, and included calisthenics, pyramid building, boys and girls; wrestling, tumbling, and boxing.
Wrestlers were: Robert Homan and Kenneth Kunkle, Francis Snyder and James Meeker, Russell Reish and Reeder Sharer, Eugene Emerick and Jack Kirkpatrick.
Boxing: Lynn Ross and Dean Smith; Dean Bradford and Robert Foust, Don Smith and Wm. Thomas, Alfred Reish and Bob Gerhart.

PAST GRANDS MEET AT STATE COLLEGE

State College Lodge No. 1632, I. O. O. F., entertained the Centre County Past Grands Association, Monday evening. Forty-four members of the association, representing six lodges, attended the meeting. There were also 25 visitors present, including C. Paul Wagner, Williamsport, deputy grand master, who spoke on some of the important matters on the agenda of the annual Grand Lodge session at Philadelphia in June.
Chester A. Spyker, secretary of the association, reported that 75 persons attended the recent annual banquet of the association at Centre Hall.
During the subordinate lodge meeting, the degree team of Centre Hall lodge conferred the second degree on two candidates of the State College Lodge, Harry Morrell and Lee Glover. Following the session the Lady State Rebekah Lodge served lunch.
FRATERNAL ORGANIZATIONS
MUST MAKE SEPARATE
RETURN TO P. U. C. FUND
Fraternal, social and beneficial organizations, operating on a State-wide basis, were advised by Secretary of Labor and Industry Ralph M. Bashore, this week, that a separate return must be made for each branch lodge or society to the Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Fund.
Mr. Bashore reported that many branch lodges of fraternal organizations have failed to make a return on their 1936 payrolls, believing apparently that the State headquarters of the organizations are responsible for the contributions for all branch lodges. Such is not the case, Mr. Bashore said, pointing out that each lodge is a separate entity and that one return and contribution must be made by the State headquarters and one from each of the branch lodges.

Spring Cleaning For Lamps

By Louise Brown
REMEMBER lamp bulbs and shades at spring cleaning time. Don't just swish them with a cloth, but give them a careful dusting. Or better still, wash them thoroughly.
Hold the bulb by the metal screw end and wash the glass with soap suds, rinsing and drying carefully. Be sure the bulb, particularly the metal part, is dry before screwing it back in place.
Having them clean is not only a matter of housewifely pride—but a matter of economy, as well. A dirty bulb only gives a fraction of the light a clean one will, and of course it is using just as much current so that you are getting only part of the light you should for your money.
Be sure to check the empty sockets in the lamps and fixtures at spring housecleaning time. A fixture, for instance, with bulbs in three of the sockets and none in the other two, certainly looks anything but neat. And do see that all the lamp shades are straight—crooked ones make a room look untidy no matter how clean it is.
Lamp shades, too, need a spring cleaning. Plain parchment ones can be wiped off with a slightly damp cloth. Dust the pleated parchments or silk shades with a soft-bristled brush. Most silk shades can be dry cleaned or treated to a bath of soap suds. If you wash them, fancy trimmings should be removed. If the bindings are glued instead of sewed on, they should be removed because they will come off in the washing process. However, it is very easy to replace them with some simple binding.

CONSOLIDATED SCHOOL BUILDING IN LOGANTON

Erection of a consolidated school to house the students of Green and Logan townships and Loganton borough was agreed upon at a meeting of the joint school board of the three districts.
Present plans call for a one-story, six-room brick building to cost approximately $50,000. If finances will permit, a combination gymnasium and auditorium will be included, making the total cost about $60,000.
The building is dependent upon the acceptance of the project by P.W.A., and an action of voters to permit issuing of bonds, both of which are reasonably assured.

"Never Satisfied"

"Years ago, people used to have telephone trouble pretty often. Today there's mighty little repair work on telephones. I just fixed a worn out cord in one house and they told me it was the first telephone trouble they'd had in eleven years. I can't vouch for that, but I do know that telephone equipment is getting better every year because our research people are never satisfied. They're always trying to improve your service. Of course, it's not a hundred percent trouble-free yet—but when trouble does come, we get it fixed in a hurry. Nobody wants to be without telephone service these days."

Research that eliminates repairs also helps to keep down the cost of service. Today almost everyone can afford a telephone. You can have one in your home for less than a dime a day. Just call the Business Office.
