VAN DYKE FILLS PROMISE
MADE AT HECLA 2 YEARS AGO
In an address made by Warren Van Dyke, Secretary of Highways, at Hecla Park, two years ago, he promised the people in Penna Valley Road 45 would be rebuilt. He kept his promise. Last year a section east of Spring Mills was constructed, which proves to be one of the best roads of its kind in this section of the State. At present construction work on the Centre Hall-Spring Mills section is well on the way. Much of the road has already been rough graded. Fine grange material is being found at Farmers Mills where a power shovel and a large battery of trucks are in operation.

BORAH WANTS G. O. P.
"REACTIONARY" PURGE Certain forces in the Republican party, including Senator Borah of Idaho have launched a movement to toss what they consider the present "reactionary" leaders out of their key positions. It was learned recently that the plans embrace calling a convention some time before next year's elections. In effect, the purpose is to take over the party, inject new blood in its upper councils and rebuild the G. O. P. with an appeal to the masses that it has been "purged" of old guard control.

DEATHS.
CRIDER.—Burns W. Crider, a son of Fountain and Mary Adeline Sullivan Crider, died in Bellefonte Friday afternoon at the age of 68 years and 25 days. He is survived by a wife and two daughters, Misses Emily and Mae both at home. Also by two sisters, Mrs. Charles Dorworth, Bellefonte, and Mrs. Charles R. Rath, Elizabeth,

DR. H. F. BITNER RECALLS
SCHOOL DAYS OF '75 HERE
Rochester, N. Y. Aug. 20, 1937.
Mr. S. W. Smith:
I have just finished looking over the "Reporter" which I received this morning. I noticed the death of Jerry Miller the barber. How very few of the people of Centre Hall are now living who were there in 1875 when I came there. You, Sylvester, are one of the few remaining students. The Kurtzes are all gone, and the Boals except Sullie, and the Neff boys, James, Calvin and Will, and some of the Nolls, who came from Pleasant Gap, and the Greggs and the Harpers, and Millers.
I am beginning to think I must be old, although I do not like to. But the next time I get to Centre Hall I am coming to see you and have you tell me about the students that were mine almost sixty years ago.

LOCALS.
The senior member, of the Smith & Bailey firm will go to the Lewistown hospital this (Thursday) morning for observation. It is possible a major operation will follow.
Miss Betty Horner of Lewisburg, formerly of Boalsburg, is visiting her half-sister, Mrs. Edw. E. Bailey, in Centre Hall this week. Miss Betty is a junior in th Lewisburg high school.
Fred Hoffer, former internal revenue collector of this district, now holds a first lieutenant's commission, and is stationed at CCC camp Quantico, Va., as a commanding officer.

Mrs. F. V. Goodhart Robert Goodhart, Jane Musser and Barbara Potter, on Wednesday motored to Philadelphia to visit F. V. Goodhart in the Pennsylvania Hospital.
The Bellefonte lodge of Moose was robbed of $200 on Wednesday night of last week. An antiquated safe was forced open, but more than $100 of its contents was missed. Entrance was gained through a rear basement door.
Weather stripping of all windows, replacing weights and pulleys, and protecting the glass by placing heavy screens over windows, at the high school building, was done during the past week.

Mrs. Robert Mann, of Chicago, Ill., unexpectedly arrived at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Clark near town. She is quartered with her parents on the park and is meeting her many friends of school days, and later.
Mrs. Mary Flink is improving her dwelling house by building an addition to it in the rear to accommodate a kitchen and porch on the first floor and a bath on the second.
Mrs. Flink and her son, Harvey Flink, employed at the Kerin poultry plant, make up the family occupying it.

THE GRANGE FAIR.
Encampment and Fair site. Here the institution began expanding on a permanent basis.
Those writing of the organization today fall to give proper credit to Hon. Leonard Rhone as the levelling power in the movement. While he had associates, Mr. Rhone, and he alone dictated the policy that developed into its present glorious position among agricultural fairs, since gate money is collected the question of financing has become a simple matter compared to the requirements when everything on the ground was free except the spots occupied by the concessionaires.
Record-breaking crowds are attending the 64th annual Grange Encampment and Fair. Clear weather Saturday and Sunday brought out thousands. Monday night rain fell to put the park in a muddy condition, but Tuesday was fair and the grounds were soon in very good condition. As the Reporter goes to press Wednesday morning clear skies and warm weather bid fair to see the typical Grange Fair crowd.

School Lunches

Cup cakes dipped in chocolate icing are an exciting addition to the school lunch—and easy to make.

SCHOOL days again! And one of the problems for mother to solve is the daily filling of the lunch box, since in so many localities it is impossible for the children to come home every day for a warm lunch.
This year, why not invest in an attractive, sturdy lunch box for young Mary or Jack—one that will keep the foods appetizing and fresh looking? And, of course, a thermos bottle is a requirement if you don't already have one.
Sandwiches are usually the main stand-by and these should be dainty, yet satisfying. Try to vary the fillings. The children often enjoy rather sweet fillings for a change such as chopped dates and peanut butter—delicious on whole wheat bread. Chopped egg and olive sandwiches are also favorites, and there are countless variations of the cheese theme.
Don't put lettuce right in the sandwiches as it is apt to become unpleasantly limp. Wrap lettuce or celery separately in waxed paper. By the way, one of the oiled silk zipper bags you use in your refrigerator is excellent for packing the school lunch.
Fill the thermos with milk, or on cold days with soup, or cocoa.
A balanced lunch should include some sort of fruit—an apple, orange or banana is easy to pack and eat. Or a small covered glass jar of home canned fruit could be safely packed and would be a welcome addition.
To most children, the best part of the lunch is the dessert. This is sometimes difficult for mother to manage day after day, but this makes the lunch "extra special" if it includes a sweet of some sort. Cookies are always favor-
