POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

For Judge of Centre County. We are authorized to announce that Ivan Walker, of Bellefonte Borough, is a candidate for the office of Judge of the County of Centre County, subject to the decision of the voters of the Democratic Party as expressed at the Primary Election, Tues., September 14, 1937.

For District Attorney.

Philip H. Johnston, of Bellefonte announces he is a candidate, on the Democratic ticket, for re-election to the office of District Attorney of Centre County.

WHAT DO YOU THINK!

"One term is enough for any Judge." "One good term deserves another." This is the difference of opinion expressed by candidates for the judgeship of Centre county. Take your pick. When you remember that a term is for ten years, perhaps you'll think the first slogan is about right.

PLEASANT GAP DRIVER GIVES BAIL FOR COURT

Lee St. Clair, of Pleasant Gap, who was found guilty of negligence in connection with a motor accident at Pleasant Gap, in which John Savadage, aged 2½ years, of Centre Hall, lost his life, was held under $500 bail on charges of involuntary manslaughter before Justice of the Peace Freeman Hill of Pleasant Gap. He was released from custody upon furnishing the required bond.

St. Clair was driver of the car that crashed into a machine driven by the child's father, Thomas Savadage, of Centre Hall, at the Pleasant Gap intersection, more than two weeks ago. The child was thrown out of the car, sustaining head injuries which resulted in death that night in the Centre County hospital.

ALLENTOWN FAIR TO HAVE OUTSTANDING FEATURES

Visitors to the Great Allentown Fair, known as "America's Greatest County Fair," September 21, 22, 23, 24 and 25, will have an opportunity of seeing America's largest single herd of wild buffalo. Only eight miles away from the site of the Great Allentown Fair is the famous Trexler Game Preserve containing hundreds of buffalo and thousands of deer, elk and other animals roaming the hillsides and plains as they do in their native haunts. It was in 1909 that the late General Harry C. Trexler, really as a hobby, began his conservation of these interesting animals which were rapidly becoming extinct in American wild life. Since then, it has become one of the most interesting show places of the East, and each year many thousands of tourists visit this enormous game preserve.

Next to the towering herd of buffalo, the most interesting thing to see in this game preserve is the large herd of elk. Those who visit the Great Allentown Fair this year can visit this enormous game preserve and its interesting wild animals by merely taking a half hour's drive from the site of the Great Allentown Fair.

The great Allentown Fair is sponsored by the Lehigh County Agricultural Society. Next to the fair, the chief hobby of the late General Trexler was this game preserve, and when he died he bequeathed the entire tract, together with a trust fund, for its maintenance to Lehigh county. Thus the game preserve became public property, and since that time hundreds of thousands of dollars have been spent in improving the roads and highways which traverse it.

STATE REGISTRATION FIGURES SHOW REPUBLICAN LOSS IN EVERY COUNTY

Pennsylvania's vote in the coming municipal elections will total nearly 1,500,000 less than the 1936 ballot.

Registration figures from 66 of the State's 67 counties show a Republican loss of 924,811 voters, and a Democratic loss of 574,053. The 1937 registration is: Republican, 1,741,091; Democratic, 1,591,639—total, 3,332,730. The 1936 registration was: Republican, 2,665,902; Democratic, 2,065,692—total, 4,731,594.

This year, the Republicans lost in every county while the Democrats gained in six. In addition, the 1936 Republican registration lead of 600,000 has been cut to about 150,000. David L. Lawrence, Democratic State chairman, expressed satisfaction with the figures.

"They show a great deal," he said. "The slash in the G. O. P. lead indicates people who vote Democratic are registering Democratic this year. We won with Roosevelt last year, despite the 600,000 handicap. What can we do with this greatly reduced handicap?"

Centre county figures on the permanent registration are: 1937: Democratic, 9,176; Republican, 10,915.

In 1936 the registration showed 11,195 Democrats and 14,297 Republicans. Democratic loss is 2,019; Republican loss, 4,292.

DAMAGE TO VARIOUS CARS IN COLLISIONS ON ROAD

A sedan owned by Carlott Tyson of Rebersburg parked along route 445, one mile north of Millheim, and sedans driven by Lillian Lloyd of Scranton and G. G. Neff, of Millheim were damaged when they collided while passing the Tyson car. Ruth Lloyd, a passenger in the Lloyd car, received a fractured nose and bruises about the eye. Total damage was about $50.

Damage to cars operated by Phillip A. Mark of Boalsburg and Phillip J. Swanger of Reading resulted from a crash Saturday morning on route 322 at the intersection in Boalsburg. The two machines were traveling in opposite directions when the collision occurred. Total damage was approximately $200.

Dr. Townsend to Be in Bellefonte.

Dr. Francis E. Townsend, the author and founder of the movement known as the Townsend retirement and recovery plan now pending in Congress as "The General Welfare Act of 1937, No. 4199," will pay this Congressional district a visit. It is the intention of the leaders to put on an intensive drive in every congressional district in the nation. The Doctor will speak in the Bellefonte Court House Saturday, September 11, at 7:30 p. m.

NEW HIGH REACHED IN STATES' HIGHWAY DEATH RATE, JULY

Pennsylvania's highway death rate mounted to a new high for the year during July, the Department of Revenue disclosed this week.

In July there were 26.4 deaths per 100,000 population, Secretary of Revenue J. Griffith Boardman said. The rate for the first six months of the year was 26.2.

During the month there were 230 accidents, which resulted in 210 deaths and 5,819 injuries. The total for the year to the end of July was 28,611 accidents, 1,469 deaths and 33,014 injuries.

Seth Gordon, Executive Director of the Pennsylvania Game Commission, center, W. C. Shaffer, Director of the Bureau of Protection, left, and Judd Turner, Assistant Director of the Commission, right, destroying unsafe firearms, confiscated during the past year from careless and illegal hunters. Under a new State game law, guns, which are in poor condition are to be junked in the interest of safety. In commenting on the new provision, Director Gordon said, "It is one of the most important safety-first regulations ever placed on the statute books of the Commonwealth." At the same time he cautioned all hunters to put their guns in shape and to segregate to the scrap heap, or to the collector's cabinet, any weapon too old or unsafe for use this fall. A number of hunters have already been killed through the use of defective firearms, and every effort will be made to discourage the use of such obsolete implements. Gordon also called attention to the three-shot limit for firearms to hunt small game this fall and urged all hunters to insert plugs in the magazines of their repeating weapons immediately both for the sake of safety and to avoid unintentional violations.

LOWER MEAT PRICES EXPECTED SHORTLY

Housewives who have been complaining about the high cost of meat have the word of Government experts that prices have reached a peak and declines will follow shortly. The economists said high prices were caused by droughts and business recovery. The decline will come, they predicted, as a result of larger crops and protests by the public over high costs.
