BELLEFONTE MAN ARRESTED FOR ROBBING MOOSE LODGE

Ernest Tate, of Bellefonte, was placed under arrest on the charge of robbing the Moose home in Bellefonte of over one hundred dollars in cash and six quarts of liquor. The robbery took place some time between 2 and 3 o'clock on Thursday morning, Aug. 26. When the steward, Wm. D. Lucas, entered the building at 8 o'clock on Friday morning he discovered that the old safe had been broken open and over a hundred dollars stolen. The robber missed $117 that was in another compartment. A fund of four dollars collected to send flowers to a sick member was also missing. Six bottles of liquor also disappeared.

State police were notified and private Charles DeWitt was assigned to the case. Suspicion pointed to Tate and his home being searched it is alleged that five bottles of the liquor stolen were found there.

He was placed under arrest and taken before justice Keichline, waived a hearing and was placed under $2000 bond for trial at court.

COUNTY COMMITTEE READY TO MEASURE CONSERVATION WORK

The Centre County Agricultural Conservation Committee is preparing to measure the amount of conservation work done by farmers who are taking part in the conservation program this year. W. F. Rishel, committee chairman says. That check-up will be the next step in the 1937 program.

The work will be done for the committee by the supervisors who earlier in the year have been discussing the program with farmers and helping them make out work-sheets. Training schools have been scheduled to familiarize supervisors with details of measuring conservation work accomplished.

Mr. Rishel says that each farmer who declared his intention to cooperate in the program this year will be visited by a supervisor. This supervisor and the farmer will go over the farm and determine the extent to which soil-building practices have been carried out and also will note how well each practice has been carried out.

On the basis of what the survey of the farm shows the supervisor will help the farmer make out a formal application for payment for soil conservation actually done under the terms of the program. Payments will represent part of the cost of using the practices.

The check-ups will begin about Sept. 10, Mr. Rishel says. He adds that visits to farms where late summer and fall practices are to be used will be made later.

Cloudburst at Zion.

Rain, on Friday, reached cloudburst proportions, and caused considerable damage by destroying late crops and depositing tons of mud in the low places. The storm covered an area of approximately two miles.

Mud and stones more than a foot deep washed from the fields and high places and lodged about homes in that vicinity. Parked cars were mired down in muck Saturday morning and silt and mud is said to have been several feet deep at the Stover farm, just west of Zion.

It was reported that an "easy-mark" was relieved of ninety dollars at one of the money tables operated at the Grange fair, last week. Capers—not one, but a half-dozen of them—were said to have been in on the kill at this particular stand, and the "sucker" finally got wise, rounded up a State policeman, with the result he got most of his loss back. The stand did little business thereafter and soon closed up.

Over 400 deaths—mostly on the highways—over Labor Day. What price holiday!

FARM CALENDAR. Timely Reminders from Pennsylvania State College School of Agriculture

Fall Fertilizing Pays — Grass responds best when fertilized in the fall, according to agronomists of the Pennsylvania State College. As in fertilizing a new lawn, the established lawn is most benefited by the application of a complete fertilizer, such as a 4-12-4, 5-10-5, or 5-12-3, or similar analysis. The rate is about 25 pounds to 1000 square feet.

Adequate Lunch Needed — Rural school children should have a good lunch in their dinner pails. This includes a hot dish, a pint of milk which may be used in the hot dish, two substantial sandwiches with one of whole wheat bread, a raw fruit or vegetable, and a simple sweet, say Penn State nutritionists.

Have a Flower Show—Flower shows are always an asset to the community, say Penn State floriculturists. They stimulate the interest of all flower lovers. Flower shows tend to draw a community together and develop the aesthetic sense in the individual.

Sow Legumes in Spring—It is better to sow alfalfa and clover in the spring rather than in the fall. Penn State agronomists believe. Legume seed is too expensive to run the risk of losing it in the fall seeding. Most if not all of the seedlings will be winter killed following fall seeding.

Ensilage Surplus Corn—A temporary silo can be built to hold the surplus ensilage corn. Such a silo is made of snow fencing material and lined with a treated rough paper, according to Penn State dairymen. It should be no higher than the diameter.

Use Clean Plants—It is poor economy for the grower to take new raspberry plants from his patch unless he knows they are free from disease, say Penn State specialists. There are numerous sources of certified disease-free stock in Pennsylvania.
