APPETITE TEMPTERS

This molded salmon ring can be prepared early in the morning and stored in the electric refrigerator until dinner time. Serve garnished with tomato slices, deviled eggs and ripe olives, and accompany with hot biscuits for a tempting spring supper.

By Louise Brown

DOES your family get "finicky" about meals this time of year? Don't let it discourage you—turn to your electric refrigerator for help. It's a never-failing aid when you want to cook something just a little different. And it saves time and last-minute worry, for you can prepare things early in the morning, knowing the refrigerator will keep them just right until serving time.

In the spring, the heavy meals you have served all winter are apt to pall on the appetite, so it's time to try something lighter—something crisp and cool. A molded meat loaf or salad, garnished attractively and served with hot biscuits is a good appetite "pepper-upper." Get out your salad bowl, too, and toss together a "mess of greens" with a smooth French dressing. And if you've neglected refrigerator desserts this winter, the family will welcome them again with joy. Try this recipe on one of the first really warm spring days.

Refrigerator Salmon Ring

1st Part
1 package lime gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 cup ice water
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ teaspoon salt
1 cucumber chopped fine

Dissolve the gelatin in boiling water, add the ice water, lemon juice, salt, and cool. When mixture begins to congeal, add the chopped cucumber and pour into a ring mold that has been rinsed in cold water. Place in electric refrigerator. When entirely firm add the following mixture:

2nd Part
1 tablespoon gelatin
2 tablespoons water
1½ cups salmon
1 cup mayonnaise
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup diced celery
½ cup finely diced pickle
1½ tablespoons vinegar

Soak gelatin in cold water, then melt over hot water. Remove skin and bones from fish. Add mayonnaise, salt, celery, pickles, vinegar and melted gelatin. Spread this mixture in mold on top of lime gelatin. Place on coldest shelf of refrigerator for several hours to thoroughly congeal. Remove to large round plate, garnish with tomato slices, deviled eggs and ripe olives. The center may be filled with shredded lettuce or endive and topped with mayonnaise.

"Nation's Fair" Their Objective

Mrs. Vincent Astor
Winthrop W. Aldrich
NEW YORK (Special).—Mrs. Vincent Astor, society leader and civic worker, has been appointed Chairman of a National Women's Advisory Committee for the New York World's Fair of 1939. Winthrop W. Aldrich, Chairman of the Chase National Bank, is heading the men's National Committee. Together they will enlist more than 10,000 committee workers in a nationwide campaign to arouse interest in and create support for the New York Fair. Grover Whalen, President of the Fair Corporation, has announced that State Chairmen will be named later and that every state will be brought into active participation in the New York Fair, making it truly national.

BUILDING TESTS WALLS FOR FAIR

NEW YORK (Special).—Although the opening date of the New York World's Fair is still almost two years away, the Fair site already has one building that mystifies all persons who pass that way and one that is of great interest to the contractors and builders of the whole country. The big sign says it is the "test building." The building can be made to do a lot of things just short of late dance step. It can be made to twist, heave, buckle, sag or otherwise contort, all at the will of the Fair's engineers. It has a sawed-off tower arrangement on one end. Some sections of its walls are dazzling under the sun and are, obviously, encrusted with bits of broken glass. Its four walls, in fact, comprise 43 different set-ups of material, supports and surface coatings. When its day is done it will be made to collapse by the turn of a screw. The unique building is typical of nothing other than itself, say Fair officials, since it is just a set of walls, upon which to try out the merits of various types of wall coating and stucco treatments. The durability, appearance and structural peculiarities of walls are of great importance to the Fair, since its 300 buildings will require around 15,000,000 square feet of such enclosures. The interior of this "wall laboratory" is given over to the Corporation's illumination engineers and their experimentation with new lighting devices.
