JUST THIRTY MINUTES.

"Just thirty minutes" a man of the streets of London will answer you. An utterance of this kind puts one in a quandary until he learns the question which has prompted such an answer or the inner thoughts of the one who utters it.

Germany is only a half hour's distance, as a bird would fly from the heart of London and at this very minute Hitler has an army of five hundred bombing planes ready to embark upon a journey of destruction which in a half hour, or thirty minutes, will bring their cargoes of death to London and reduce the largest city of the world to a state of death, destruction and chaos. Then too as one drives South along the sea coast of England he observes the huge hangars and is informed that in these are waiting the greatest army of anti-aircraft equipment in the world. The latter trying to maintain a state of peace. Thus in short we have it: The VULTURES and the DOVES. The one ready to soar and descend upon a peace loving nation; a nation and an Empire whose laws and statutes have been the basic principle of all sane governments of the world. A Nation whose Dominion of Canada maintains a boundary line of three thousand miles along the northern states of our beloved America, and along which there has never been a soldier, a gun or the least misunderstanding. How much better and how much further on in the DIVINE plan of things if this Londoner were able to have upon his lips as an answer to your question and mine: "In a moment," or "In the twinkling of an eye."

TUSSEYVILLE

Mr. Swayne of Harrisburg called at the A. W. Holderman home on Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Martz returned home Saturday from their week's visit in Rebersburg. Miss Mary Swartz spent the weekend in Centre Hall with Miss Miriam Homan. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ramer and son of State College were Sunday callers at the C. P. Ramer home. Miss Lizzie and Warren Slack of Potters Mills visited Sunday at the Fortney home.

Deaths

WETZEL.—Mrs. Louisa Wetzel passed away at her home in Beavertown, Monday night at 11:40 o'clock. Her illness dates back to last May. A general breakdown of the physical body, however, was the cause of her passing. She was born February 9, 1846, hence was in her ninety-second year.

Three sons survive, namely, J. F. Wetzel, Centre Hall; Elmer Wetzel of Hershey; and Lester Wetzel, of Milwaukee, Wis. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and burial made at Beavertown.

IMMEL.—Andrew Immel, a Gregg township charge, died Sunday night at the Morris Lingle home near Zephyr Station. He was 91 years of age. Burial was made Wednesday afternoon from the Neff Funeral parlors in Millheim; interment at Millheim. Mr. Immel was married three times and was preceded in death by all. There are no surviving children, brothers or sisters.

KORMAN.—John A. Korman died Friday morning at 10 o'clock in the Centre County hospital following an illness of about three weeks from a complication of diseases. He had been admitted to the hospital the early part of the week.

Mr. Korman was a retired farmer and lived most of his life in the vicinity of Milesburg. He was born however at Milesburg, May 29, 1857, a son of Daniel and Rebecca Korman. He was 80 years, 3 months and 24 days of age at the time of his death. May 18 1886, he was married to Catherine Elizabeth Carson who died several months ago.

Surviving him are six sons and three daughters. Also, one brother, Lyman Korman, of State College.

Funeral services were held at his son's home in Milesburg, Monday afternoon; burial in the Union cemetery at Bellefonte. Rev. R. L. Morris of the M. E. church was assisted by Rev. M. C. Piper in these services.

HETZEL.—Funeral services for Mrs. Alice D. Hetzel, 57, widow of Palmer D. Hetzel a former resident of Potter township, were held Monday afternoon of last week, and burial was made at Dunnsburg.

Mrs. Hetzel was born in the vicinity of Shilloh, west of Boalsburg but had resided in Lock Haven for many years. Survivors are two sons and a daughter. Mrs. Jacob Sharer of Centre Hall is a sister-in-law of the deceased.

SCOTT.—Mrs. Ida Jones (McCausland) Scott, wife of the Hon. Harry B. Scott, died at her home in Philadelphia, on Friday. She was in her 54th year. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon, with burial being made in the Phillipsburg cemetery.

"SIDINI" MAGICIAN, TO BE AT H. S. AUDITORIUM, FRIDAY

The Centre Hall-Potter high school will present its first entertainment of the year to the public in the offering of "Sidini," the very popular magician on Friday evening, October 1st, at 8 o'clock.

"Sidini" is including in his program different numbers that are sure to amuse and amaze both young and old. Children will be admitted for 10c; students for 15c; and adults for 20c. Tickets will be on sale at the high school Friday evening.

Roast Chicken Supper.

The menu for the supper to be served to the public at the local Evangelical church by the ladies of the church this Saturday evening from 5 to 7 o'clock is:

Roast chicken, mashed potatoes, filling, dressing, lima beans, bread and butter, pickles and celery, cold slaw, fruit salad, cake and coffee. The price of the supper is, adults, 45c; children, 30c.

49 CCC CAMPS REMAIN IN STATE OF PENNA.

The Civilian Conservation Corps in Pennsylvania, with a drastically reduced force, was carrying on most of its major conservation operations in the State Forests last month as it began its fifth year of such work. Secretary James F. Bogardus of the Department of Forests and Waters and nominal head of the State CCC organization, said a few days ago.

Due largely to the exodus of CCC enrollees from State camps into private business, projects are being carried on by approximately 5000 men in 49 camps. The reduction in number of both men and camps has been steadily going on for the last year and a half. The peak enrollment of CCC in Pennsylvania was 21,000 in 1935. There were 104 camps in the State at that time. The last reduction in camps was made at the beginning of the 8th period, July 1, when 13 camps were dropped.

Major projects still being carried on the CCC enrollees under the supervision of trained personnel include road and trail construction and maintenance; reforestation; forest fire protection and extinction; erosion, insect and fungus control; construction of recreational areas including the building of dams, over-night cabins and other park buildings; a stock survey of the State Forests; and timber stand improvement work.

Rigid enforcement of State College ordinances was promised by borough officials following a special meeting of the police, fire and light committee of the council with Burgess Wilbur F. Leitzell.

An order coming from the Pennsylvania Railroad officials at the Williamsport offices, closed the railroad station at Centre Hall, while not wholly, yet substantially that in effect. The order was received Monday and was effective immediately.

The company apparently feels the station is not paying handsome enough profits, and has saddled whatever burden the station still carries upon J. C. Lee, present station agent at Spring Mills. The order affects no other station on the L. & T. branch.

So much indignation was voiced upon receipt of the news that a formal telegraphic protest was at once subscribed to by the Business Men's Association of Centre Hall and dispatched to company officials.

The railroad company has dismissed Miles Johnson, agent at Centre Hall since the retirement of W. F. Bradford, and incidentally a first-class agent in every respect. Mr. Lee, after his morning work at Spring Mills, will be required to come to Centre Hall about one o'clock and remain in the office from one to two hours, or sufficiently long enough to put in the remainder of his 8-hour day.

During this time anyone having freight at the warehouse, which had been trucked there, may procure it. Upon Mr. Lee's return to Spring Mills the warehouse is locked until the following afternoon.

Regarding the mail, the morning trains west and east will drop off the mail sacks and take on and discharge passengers as heretofore.

The mail messenger, however, has a gloomy picture of the situation. Delivering the mail to the P. R. station and being obliged to wait in the cold from one to two hours gives no cause for jubilation. Already the mail messenger has declared intention of resigning.

A particular hardship will be placed upon Kerlin's Poultry Farm, largest shipper from the local station. The invariable lateness of trains would tend to chill baby chicks obliged to set out on the station platform awaiting "the slow train through Arkansaw."

Everyone in the community is interested in the continuance of the Centre Hall railroad station, which has been in constant operation for approximately fifty-three years.

SURPRISE PARTY.

A pleasant surprise party was sprung upon Mrs. Frank Ishler on Monday evening, when the children and their families quietly gathered at the parents' home to help celebrate Mrs. Ishler's birthday. A pleasant evening was spent. Useful gifts were received by the honored one. Choice refreshments were served.

The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ishler, Mr. and Mrs. James Searson and daughter Betty, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Ishler, Mrs. George Searson, Centre Hall; Mr. and Mrs. Philip Shoemaker and daughter, Mary Augusta, Mrs. Paul Howard and children, Joyce and Ronald, of Bellefonte; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ishler and children, Junior, Louise, Kenneth June, of Millheim.

At a late hour all returned to their homes, wishing Mrs. Ishler many more happy birthdays.

Commissioners' Office Open for Registration in Evenings.

The Centre County Commissioners' office will be open for registration on Friday, Saturday and Monday evenings, October 1st, 2nd and 4th.

A SUDDEN ILLNESS, A PAINFUL INJURY

The modern farmer knows that he can reach the doctor in a few seconds—at any time of the day or night—by telephone.

Historical writer for the Lewisport Daily Sentinel is Mrs. Pearl S. Oles, who shows journalistic ability. Mrs. Oles started her public school career in Centre Hall as a pupil of Miss Maggie Hannah, (later Mrs. Henry W. Kremer). Mrs. Oles was then little Pearl Shimp and lived with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Shimp, in Centre Hall. Her father was a nephew of Mrs. Agnes Shimp Alexander, wife of the late Dr. J. F. Alexander. A recent contribution to the columns of the Daily Sentinel was "Early Days of Millfin County, Before the Year 1800."

The condition of Pennsylvania's corn crop, in comparison with normal, was better this summer than the crop in all other States except four, J. Hansell French, Secretary of Agriculture, reports.

R. S. Stover of Millheim has been appointed by the Department of Revenue to sell hunting and fishing licenses. Hunting licenses are now on sale at $2.00.
