WALKER'S MAJORITY OF 44

Walker's majority of 44 votes over Fleming for Judge in Centre county is close to official. The figures obtained over the telephone Tuesday night were compared with the open sheet delivered by the return judges and were found correct.

DELAYED CENTRE COUNTY HOSPITAL DRIVE NOW ON

The Centre County Hospital drive in Centre Hall and Potter township, delayed since last spring, is now on. Solicitors in the two districts are now calling on citizens for their annual contribution to the worthy and all-important institution in the county.

During the recent past the facilities of the hospital have been materially improved, and the management has been instrumental in directing the receipts into their proper channel making it possible to increase the receipts of the institution without placing the burden on the unfortunate who become patients.

The districts named should have a one hundred per cent. representation in the membership drive. To become a member of the Centre County Hospital Corporation the requirement is to pay one dollar or more each year, which sum entitles the contributor to a voting privilege. These contributions are paid into the general fund and may be used as the directors see fit.

When solicited for a membership fee it is hoped the solicitor will be kindly received and a contribution, large or small made on the basis of the hospital's importance and its needs.

Solicitors for the borough are Elizabeth Bartholomew, Lillie Brooks Helen White, Martha Yearick, Mrs. Carl Burkholder, Mrs. R. S. Jamison, Mrs. Reuben Rickert, Mrs. Paul Peteroff, Mrs. F. D. Goodhart, and Mrs. F. V. Goodhart.

METHODIST S. S. CLASSES MET WITH HOBGOBLINS

With hobgoblins close at hand, and many of the participants costumed in keeping with the Halloween spirit two classes in the Methodist Sunday school taught by Mrs. Edith Campbell and Miss Doris Moltz had an evening of jollity on Thursday at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Lester and Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Bartholomew.

At the former home the Susanna Wesley class met. The members present were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Zellers, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Corman, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wagner, Mrs. A. L. Emery, Mrs. J. K. Confer, Mrs. Willard Hestinger, Misses Estelita Hosterman Elizabeth Bartholomew, Helen White Elizabeth Gross and Mary Segner.

The other class is taught by Miss Doris Moltz and met at the latter home mentioned. The members are of a younger generation, covering a period from ten up into the lower teens and included Jean Bartholomew, Myra Confer, Isabel Emery, "Chickie" Goodhart, Martha Mowery, Martha Spicker, while guests of the class were Betty Johnson, Jean Hanna, Ruth Smith, Martha Lingle, Ruth Spicker Ruth Burris, Charles Bloom, Jean Bloom.

Deaths

GARRITY.—Walter Joseph Garrity living for forty years in the heart of the Seven Mountains, alone for some time as a bachelor, on the famous Garrity property, about two miles south of Pottery Mills, passed away at his mountain fastness on Friday evening at 6:00 o'clock. He had been ill for some time from a complication of diseases, and his death did not come unexpected.

Mr. Garrity was born in Ireland on May 14, 1861, hence was aged 76 years, 6 months and 15 days. He was a son of Michael and Bridget Agnes McNawron Garrity. He came to the States at the tender age of six years, and the community about Pottery Mills knew the famous uncle of the deceased, the late Patrick Garrity, and the subject of this sketch for many many years.

The Garrity home in the Seven Mountains is located on a tract of 223 acres of land, most of which is forest. It is located a mile east of the well-known Foust site. While isolated in a sense, the Garrity home, during the lifetime of Patrick Garrity and later during Walter Garrity's life, did not want for visitors. The proverbial "beaten track to its doors" was due to the warm hospitality of the Garritys. These Irish hermits were beloved by all who knew them.

In the more recent years a section of the land, ten or more acres, was sold to the Viscose company of Lewistown, who erected a club house nearby the home, and in order that upon Mr. Garrity's death the company might possess the entire tract an agreement was entered into between Mr. Garrity and the Viscose company, whereby for certain considerations, including a stipulated amount of money to be received each week, and the "looking after" of Mr. Garrity in his declining years to his end, the company becomes the owner of the land. Rumor has it that a golf course will be laid out on the tract.

Funeral services for the deceased were held Tuesday morning in the Catholic church, Bellefonte, and burial made in the Catholic cemetery there. Rev. Father Downs officiated. Several nephews and nieces survive the deceased.

CORMAN.—Wm. H. Corman, 64, died Wednesday of last week at his home in Zion from a stroke suffered about ten days previous. He had not been in the best of health since suffering a first stroke about a year ago. Mr. Corman, who was born at Zion, was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Michael Corman. His wife, the former Miss Cora Corman, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Corman of Zion, died four years ago, but surviving a daughter, Mrs. Glenn McCloskey, of Beech Creek, and the following brothers, Harvey, of Bellefonte; Kyle, of Nigh Bank, and John of Zion, and a sister, Mrs. Harry Rockey, also of Zion, survives. Since the death of his wife, Mr. Corman had made his home with his sister-in-law, Miss Annie Corman, at Zion. He was a member of the Zion Reformed church.

LINGLE.—Mrs. Emma Dale Lingle of Lemont, died at her home from a stroke, following an illness of eight years. A prominent resident of Lemont she was 72 years, 7 months and 25 days old at the time of her death. Mrs. Lingle was the daughter of Cornelius and Georgianna Purey Dale and married Edward P. Lingle on March 2, 1893. She is survived by her husband, one son, Walter C. Lingle and a grandson. Surviving sisters are Cornelia D. Twigg of Lemont; Mary D. Barber of Benton, and Ethel D. Bottorf of State College. Burial was made in the Branch cemetery, Rev. J. M. Kirkpatrick officiating.

CARSTETTER.—Mrs. Angeline Carstetter, 78, wife of P. T. Carstetter, of Greenburr, died at her home there from complications. She was a member of the Greenburr Evangelical church, and a lifelong resident of Sugar Valley.

Besides her husband, survivors include a son, L. C. Carstetter, of Bellwood, a daughter, Mrs. Mervin Thomas, of Downingtown; ten grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the St. Paul's Evangelical church, near Greenburr, the Rev. R. L. Freas, of Loganton, officiating. Interment was made in the adjoining cemetery.

GARDNER.—Mrs. Ella Margaret Gardner died at her home at Penna. Furnace Thursday night from a stroke, following an illness of several months. She was 75 years, 7 months and 4 days old, having been born in Huntingdon county, March 24, 1862.

The daughter of Wm. B. and Sara Sample McWilliams, she married Wm. G. Gardner on October 22, 1889. Her husband preceded her in death March 19, 1933. The following children survive: Mrs. Claude Williams of Pine Grove Mills; Boyd M. of Rockford, Ill., and Mary and William, at home.

Three grandsons and the following brothers and sisters also survive: Mary E. McWilliams, of Hollidaysburg; George T. McWilliams, and Bell Goheen of Penna. Furnace.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon; burial was made in the Graysville cemetery.

OSMAN.—Mrs. Hannah McCormick Osman died Monday night at her home in State College, Pa., following an illness of several days. She was aged 91 years, 2 months, 9 days.

J. S. English officiating. Interment in the Pine Hall cemetery. Three children survive. Also one brother, J. T. McCormick, and one sister, Mrs. John Bowersox, both of State College.

FIRST DAY HUNTING SEASON PROVES DISAPPOINTING

John Dutrow, 3 rabbits; Robert Blazer, limit rabbits, ringneck; Lynn Blazer, 3 rabbits, ringneck; Jonathan L. Tressler, 3 squirrels; Bruce Hartley, limit rabbits; Harold Mowery ringneck, 2 rabbits; James Seanson 3 rabbits.

Fred Houser, limit of squirrels and one rabbit; Earl Ross, limit of rabbits, 1 quail.

Gilbert Raiston, young son of Hayes Raiston, of Old Fort, shot his limit of rabbits (four) on the first day of the season.

Harry Wilkinson, of Pottery Mills bagged a 10-lb. wild turkey on the opening day.

George Johnston, Centre Hall merchant, and Van Meeker, hunting in the Alleghenies, each got a wild turkey.

12 OF 21 BILLS FOUND TRUE BY GRAND JURY

Of the twenty-one bills presented to the grand jury twelve were found true and will come before the criminal court at its opening on Monday, November 8. Civil cases will be heard the following week, Nov. 15. The bills found true include: Lena Meyers, statutory offense. Homer Senlor, statutory offense. Dick Welch, statutory offense. John Schindler, statutory offense. Gladys Schindler, statutory offense. Ernest Tate, forcible entry, robbery and larceny.

John W. Waterloo, violation of vehicle code. J. C. Hunter, violation of vehicle code. Lee St. Clair, involuntary manslaughter. Joseph Bradley and Patrick McGordie, larceny.

Mary Swope, assault and battery. Ambrose Ruch, larceny.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. Martha Rote, Mrs. Harriet Woomey, Mrs. D. P. Ray, and Mrs. L. R. Justice, all of Axemann, were guests at the S. G. Gingerich home last Thursday.

Mrs. Annie Emerick, for many years a resident of Farmers Mills, later of Centre Hall and more recently of Bellefonte, is now making her home with Rome Gingerich in Centre Hall.

Mrs. Lillian Crow and Mrs. Christens Rachel of State College were Sunday afternoon callers at the Bartholomew home, and on Monday Miss Pearl Houtz, R. N., was entertained at the same home.

As was forecast in these columns last week, F. V. Goodhart returned to his home on Saturday evening after having been a patient in the Pennsylvania hospital, Philadelphia, for a period of ten weeks. His condition is excellent, with the exception that he is afflicted with phlebitis, inflammation in a vein on the right leg between the knee and ankle. He has greatly gained in weight, a condition at once recognized. Mr. Goodhart was brought to his home by his wife and nephew, F. D. Goodhart.

Due largely to the fact that the Suburban Construction company of Ardmore was awarded a contract to resurface six and one-half miles of highway from Gum Stump to Snow Shoe, the company has decided to erect an amiesite plant at the White-rock Quarries, Pleasant Gap. The plant, it is stated, will give employment to twelve men. Amiesite is a composition of limestone, asphalt, lime and naphtha, a standard paving material. The plant is being moved from Winfield, Union county.

Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cummings were Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Cummings and son Dean, of Rebersburg; Walter M. Cummings and friends, Miss Olive Clinefelter, and Mrs. Clinefelter, of Williamsport; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Crede of Sellersgrove; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bender and family, of State College; Mr. and Mrs. Frank White and children, Harold and June, Miss Helen White and Miss Genevieve Rable, of Centre Hall; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Smith and children, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Boone, Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Bierly and son Billy.

RED CROSS WORKERS TO MEET NOVEMBER 10

Roll Call workers of the State College chapter of the American Red Cross will meet Wednesday evening November 10, at 8:30 in the State College high school auditorium.

Mrs. John Vandervort, chairman of the Roll Call for this chapter, of which Centre Hall Auxiliary is a part, urges that all captains and their workers attend the meeting.

USE PRACTICES THAT STOP CHICKEN VICES

Eight different practices are suggested by County Agent R. C. Blaney as aids in controlling feather picking and cannibalism in poultry flocks.

First of all, feeding an adequate ration is recommended.

A second practice consists of feeding less corn and more oats and barley in scratch grain.

A third suggestion is to provide adequate hopper space. Place hoppers and fountains high enough to prevent hens from picking the abdomens of others while eating and drinking.

Keep the birds busy is a fourth practice. This may be done by feeding limited quantities of scratch grain frequently. Condensed milk may be smeared on boards suspended from the ceiling or on side-walls. Some poultrymen feed alfalfa, clover, or soybean hay; others feed mangels or cabbage. Still another way to keep the birds busy is to place whole oats before the birds in troughs on the floor.

Fifth, darken the nests. Have nests and nest perches so arranged that the hens cannot stand close to the nest and pick the laying birds.

A sixth practice consists of providing plenty of nests and preventing the pullets in every way possible from laying eggs on the floor.

Seventh, watch the birds carefully. Find and remove birds which appear to be cannibals. Tips of upper beaks can be removed.

As a final practice, anti-pick devices maybe used.
