

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

Mrs. George O. Benner was taken to the Centre County hospital on Monday where she became a patient under observation.

John W. Decker, Spring Mills, and Milton Stover, Coburn, each purchased Dodge 4-door sedan, '38 models, through the R. S. Hagan agency.

Mrs. Carrie McWilliams of Tyrone was one of a number who called on F. V. Goodhart, on Sunday. The lady is a sister of Mrs. Goodhart and Mrs. H. W. Potter.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Matter of Flemington were guests on Sunday of the former's brother, Garman Matter, wife and family in Centre Hall. The Flemington gentleman is employed in the Lock Haven dye works.

Andrew Zettle returned to near Berwick to the home of a son, Archie Zettle, where he will remain for the winter. He was taken there on Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fetterhoff with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Benner of Bellefonte as motor guests.

Recent visitors at the home of Landon Burris were Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Coble and daughter, Mrs. Ariene, Mrs. Pauline Coble, Mrs. Mounts and Miss Mary Coble, of Williamsburg. Mrs. Ida Schaeffer of Altoona, Mr. Burris' sister, is visiting with her brother.

Visitors entertained at the Clyde E. Bradford home during the recent past included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Buchanan and daughter Margaret, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Detwiler, Mrs. Nicodemus and Mr. and Mrs. John Kimpert, of Boalsburg.

Rev. H. L. Rowe, supply pastor of the Limestone church near Orisole, and St. Peter's church near Collinsville, was elected as a regular pastor. He follows Rev. George Young who was called to Gettysburg. Rev. Rowe graduated from Gettysburg last summer. He is unmarried.

The large variety of fish, snails, frogs, etc., in the pond at the Kerlin home were recently removed to a large metal pond at the Kerlin poultry plant for the winter. The fish and plants in the pond did very well during the summer just passed and made a fine showing.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Wetzel and young daughter Clara Lou, were guests of nephew, Reed E. Kline, and family Saturday night. On Sunday the Wetzel family entertained Mr. and Mrs. Harry Krebs and two children and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dreese, of Beavertown. They are friends of Mr. and Mrs. Wetzel.

Guests entertained recently by Mr. and Mrs. George Vogt included Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Vogt, Lewistown; Mrs. G. A. Crockett, Mrs. Paul Crockett, Mrs. Carl Crockett, Mrs. Glen Harvey and daughter Jeannette, Mrs. Philip Dodson and son Bobby, Harry Vogt Elwood Thescott and Miss Eleanor Thomas, all of Wilkes-Barre.

About the same accommodations are obtainable at the Centre Hall railroad station as present as were in vogue during the past year or more. Some one is at the station during part of both the forenoon and afternoon. Myles Johnson is again taking care of the forenoon business and J. C. Lee is here in the afternoon.

A large number of dealers in International farm machinery met at State College on Wednesday evening of last week. Speakers presented the superior merits of International make of farm machinery and encouraged salesmen in their efforts to put over their goods. The banquet was given in the College hotel. Among the Pennsylvania salesmen to avail themselves of the benefits of the gathering was D. W. Bradford of Centre Hall.

The roast chicken supper served Saturday night by the members of the Ladies Aid society of the Spruce-town Methodist church, was largely patronized by persons from outside the immediate vicinity of Potters Mills, Lewistown, Milroy, State College, Boalsburg, Spring Mills and Centre Hall furnished the larger number. The society is establishing a reputation for serving suppers, and the last one was in no wise disappointing.

Mr. Johnson, proprietor of the Tom Johnston Shoe Store, Market street, Lewistown, was in Centre Hall on Saturday, having crossed the mountains to Pennsylvania Valley for a pleasure drive. The Johnson shoe store was established back in 1851, eighty-six years ago, and up to this time enjoyed its full share of the shoe trade. The present proprietor of the long-established business is doing well in maintaining the record of the former generations of Johnsons.

Ralph J. Wright, of Crown Point, Indiana, was a guest at the Mrs. Lucy Henney home Tuesday and Wednesday. He is the husband of Annis Shoop and a niece of Mrs. Henney. His mission here was to visit William D. Shoop, his brother-in-law, who underwent a major operation in the Centre County hospital. He was pleased to find him somewhat improved. Mr. and Mrs. Wright were married in 1907, and have been living in Indiana since then, where Mr. Wright is employed in a large steel mill.

On Sunday evening a Young Peoples worship service, with the theme "Youth and Peace," was held in the Reformed church of town. Robert E. Bradford read the Scripture lessons. Betty J. Runkle offered prayer, and Ralph M. Arney read the poem, "War has failed to end war," by Harry Emerson Fosdick. The choir sang an appropriate anthem, and the pastor preached a sermon on "Youth and Peace." During the service worshippers were requested to check a "survey of opinion" card indicating their opinion concerning war and peace.

LOCALS.

Mrs. Myra Winegardner, ill from a heart condition for some weeks, is not making appreciable improvement. She is being cared for by a niece, Miss Josephine, Glenn, of Carlisle.

Miss Ruth Reiber entertained her Sunday school class in the Reformed church, of which she is teacher, at Hecla Park, Friday evening. The young people enjoyed roller skating for several hours.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Mark of Centre Hall were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Ream, in Jersey Shore. Mr. Ream formerly lived at Centre Hall, later located at Farmers Mills and from there went to his present place of residence where he is engaged as a carpenter.

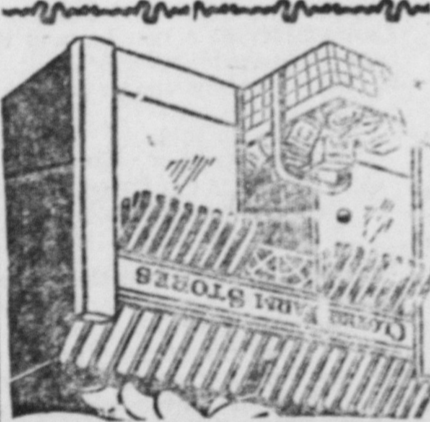

Rev. E. R. Corman and F. M. Fisher were in town the forepart of this week. Rev. Corman is about to build a barn of large dimensions, 45x59 ft., with a shed 45x45, on Rhoneymede farm, purchased recently. The barn will have a hip roof and a height of fifteen feet to the square. It will be built as to framework of all plank.

Guests over the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Priest were Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Fraulich of Lebanon, formerly of Williamsport. Mr. Fraulich is boiler inspector for the Hartford Steam Boiler Inspection company, having served in that capacity for a period of something like thirty years. Mrs. Fraulich is an aunt of Mrs. Priest.

Mrs. Grace McCool of Spring Mills motored to Centre Hall on Tuesday and while in town called on the Reporter. She reported Mrs. D. M. McCool, a patient in the Centre County hospital, suffering from a broken hip bone, as getting along as well as can be expected for one of her age following such a mishap.

Acting the part of a "trouble shooter" while driving an automobile brought grief on Monday afternoon to farmer Harry Wolfe, east of town. Mr. Wolfe is interested in having good service over the farmer telephone line in his community and undertook to discover line faults and operate a car at the same time. While no great damage was done to the car it was for the time being put out of commission.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bradford anticipate spending the fourth anniversary of their marriage in the Pittsburgh district where they will spend the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. John E. Smith. Both Mr. and Mrs. Bradford hold good positions, the former being a clerk in the Bellefonte state liquor store and the latter a clerk for a number of years in the First National Bank, Centre Hall. They are a highly regarded young couple and are assuming their proper places as citizens.

BREON—KERESTER

The marriage of Robert Breon and Edith Kerester was consummated in the court house, Richmond, Va., on Saturday morning, witnesses being Mr. and Mrs. Earl Masteller, of Dewart, the latter a sister of the groom and a few others. The bride and groom were motor guests of Mr. and Mrs. Masteller on Monday to their home in Dewart, and came to Centre Hall on Tuesday, where they will begin housekeeping in a few days in one of the hotel apartments.

The groom is a son of Mrs. Grace Breon of town, and is employed as a mechanic by the Miller Motor Co. The bride is a native of Richmond, Va., where she and her husband became acquainted when the Breon family lived in Virginia.

MYERS—CARIS

Rev. R. A. Babcock performed a wedding ceremony at the Evangelical parsonage in Rebersburg, uniting Miss Miriam Caris of Madisonburg in marriage with Paul F. Myers of Penna. Furnace. Miss Caris is a graduate of the Rebersburg high school, class of 1931.

LOWDER—BREON

A pretty fall wedding was solemnized Thursday evening, Oct. 28, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Breon in Millheim when their granddaughter, Miss Florence Breon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Breon, of Millheim, became the bride of Ross D. Lowder, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Lowder of Oak Hall.

White daisies, autumn leaves and candles decorated the mantel in the living room, and before this altar the couple were made man and wife by the bride's pastor, Rev. H. A. Houseal, of Millheim, assisted by Rev. J. M. Kirkpatrick, of Centre Hall. The wedding march was played by Miss Dorothy Lowder, sister of the groom. Mrs. Houseal sang "O Promise Me."

Guests at the wedding and the informal reception which followed were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Breon and children, Esther and William, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Breon, Rev. and Mrs. H. A. Houseal and Miss Nina Auman, of Millheim; Mr. and Mrs. Ross C. Lowder, Miss Dorothy Lowder and William Everhart, of Oak Hall; Maynard Williams, of Pine Grove Mills; Miss Marguerite Gingrich, of Boalsburg; Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Kirkpatrick, of Centre Hall; Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Breon, daughter Helen, and Mrs. Olivia Stover, of State College.

January Floods Reveal Strength of Red Cross

Aid Given 1,062,000 Persons Through Set-Up by Agency

The elasticity and scope of Red Cross disaster work is shown in a recent report on Red Cross relief measures during the unparalleled Ohio-Mississippi Valley flood of this year.

At the height of the emergency Red Cross relief offices were established in 182 inundated counties and in 146 counties where refugees were cared for, the report stated. Eight regional headquarters offices controlled the 328 county offices, and were in turn supervised by the National Red Cross in Washington, D. C.

A statistical summary of persons aided by the organization indicates that the floods constituted the greatest peace-time emergency ever faced by the nation. The Red Cross gave some form of assistance to 1,062,000 men, women and children. From January to August hundreds of trained workers helped by thousands of volunteers administered to the sufferers.

A Red Cross rescue fleet of 5400 boats was organized, according to the report. Emergency hospitals established totaled 300 and 3600 nurses were assigned to flood duty. In more than 1,000 refugee centers the victims of the flood were sheltered, clothed and fed. Through the Red Cross medical health program and the work of public health agencies sickness was kept to normal for the time of year in all inundated areas.

Because of its disaster experience the Red Cross was directed by the President of the United States, who is also president of the Red Cross, to coordinate the effort of all federal flood relief groups. Government and Red Cross officials met daily at the Red Cross headquarters building in Washington to plan relief measures and prevent duplication of effort.

"We were fortunate in having 56 years of disaster relief experience to call upon in meeting the emergency," Admiral Gary T. Grayson, chairman of the Red Cross, said.

It was found that 97,000 families composed of 436,000 persons had to have their resources supplemented or an entirely new start provided by the Red Cross, the report stated. Red Cross emergency and rehabilitation assistance was as follows: rescue, transportation and shelter for 62,000 families; food, clothing and other maintenance for 193,000 families; building and repair for 27,000 families; household goods for 90,000 families; medical, nursing and sanitation help for 15,000 families; agricultural rehabilitation for 10,000 families; other occupational aid for 3,000 families and other types of relief for 4,000 families.
