STATEMENT BY GOVERNOR EARLE PERMITTING FARMERS TO KILL DOES AT HOME

"All conservation statistics in this country and in Europe show where too many does exist for each buck the tendency is for the stock to rapidly deteriorate.

"The Game Commission, therefore ordered a three-day season and as a safety caution only a few licenses were issued. In view of the fact that deer have grazed off land and crops of the farmers, it is my belief that farmers should get special consideration.

"Therefore, I am asking the Commission to permit farmers to shoot antlerless deer on their own lands under the same conditions as under the special permit.

"Under this regulation the farmers will be exempt from the extra charge of $2.00 for doe."

How great a problem is our distribution in America is evidenced by a trip through the farming section of Centre county where apple orchards have yielded one of the biggest crops in years and a majority of the fruit is rotting on the trees and on the ground. And a few hundred miles away millions of people hunger for the choice fruit which nature has so bountifully provided, but which through no fault of theirs is denied them. The same can be said of the fine things produced by nature in other sections of our country which because of the prohibitive cost of transportation, etc., never reaches those in need. Truly the earth is a paradise, but greed and avarice fail to make it so for the majority.

Old Nittany was white with the first snow of the season on Monday morning.

COAL MAN GOES TO JAIL FOR GIVING FALSE WEIGH SLIP; LOCAL PARTY VICTIM

William Detrick, of Shamokin, a coal distributor, was committed to the Centre county jail at a hearing Wednesday evening of last week before Squire C. W. Slack in Centre Hall.

Information was made before the justice a few days previous by Charles N. Lee, county sealer of weights and measures, on three charges: first, failing to furnish a weigh slip made out by a licensed weighmaster; second, furnishing a false weigh slip; third, selling short-weight coal.

Detrick sold a "ton" of coal to Miss Mabel Arney, Centre Hall, and when the coal was later weighed it was discovered to contain only 1163 instead of 2000 lbs.

The last charge was withdrawn when the defendant paid the difference to the party to whom he sold the coal.

Since it was the first offense, the minimum fine was imposed, $50.00 on each charge, and costs. Unable to pay the fine Detrick was committed to jail for ten days on each charge.

HEAVY SOIL LOSSES ARE THE RESULT OF EROSION

One inch of top soil over an acre weighs approximately 150 tons. The farmer who tills 150 acres and suffers a soil loss of one inch on each acre has lost a total of 15,000 tons.

County Agent R. C. Blaney says that this loss represents a shrinkage of the farmer's initial investment and is gone forever. The subsoil which must be turned up and farmed in place of the lost top soil contains very little organic matter or available plant food and has very little crop-producing ability.

It is estimated that it required 500 years for nature to produce one inch of surface soil but careless farming may result in the loss of an inch in a year or two.

WRECKED CAR, DIFFERENT LICENSE PLATES COMBINE TO CREATE A MYSTERY

Going east late Saturday night a 1936 Chevrolet sedan was wrecked and left in the middle of the road at the W. S. Lucas home. A tree close to the Lucas house was hit, damaging the car to a considerable extent. Mr. Lucas spoke a few words to the driver and then returned to the house for additional clothing, and in the meantime the man started walking toward Centre Hall, which was the last seen of him. Patrolmen notified the Hag-an Garage to tow the car in, which was done. The car had two Pennsylvania license plates attached and a third in the car, all 1937, but no two alike. On the front was 5656E, on the rear 8683D, and in the car 5427-U. The right side of the windshield was badly shattered, indicating a sharp blow from within the car. Shortly after the wreck a car came along and not being able to pass on the road pushed the crippled vehicle to the side.

It was learned Monday morning that the car was the property of a Pittsburgh resident.

2776 LESS PERSONS ON THE STATE'S PAYROLL TODAY

There are 2776 fewer employes on the Commonwealth's payroll today than during the Pinchet Administration, Edward W. Prendergast, secretary to Governor George H. Earle announced this week.

Reply to published reports to the effect that the Earle Administration had increased the State Government personnel by more than 8000 persons since its inauguration in 1924, Prendergast's statement said: "The comparison made is not true. It credits the past administration with no relief employes, and the present administration with the Department of Assistance.

"An honest comparison shows that the Earle Administration as of Sept. 30, 1937, has 2776 fewer employes than the prior administration, and operates at less cost than the prior administration.

"Another unfair comparison in the report was that highway employes, both regular and temporary, were listed on dates that do not bear comparison.

"The figures show the Earle Administration employes on September 30th, the peak of highway construction, and the prior administration figures on January 1, in the heart of winter when little, if any, roadwork is done.

"Under the Earle Administration the Liquor Board employes increased 1168, because under this administration the system doubled its number of stores and the profits increased from $5,000,000 to $14,000,000 a year.

"The Labor Department increased its personnel substantially after the legislature passed 33 new labor laws, setting up a Labor Relations Board, unemployment compensation and insurance and otherwise extending services to the people and the industry. The last legislature passed new laws setting up stricter licensing and inspection services in labor, banking, education, and agriculture departments.

Prendergast said other departments had been enlarged and their personnel increased because of new legislation.
