

THIS (THURSDAY) EVENING JUDGES WILL LOOK AT CHRISTMAS LIGHTINGS

Hard-working and original "home mechanics" may be the winners of the prizes offered in the Centre Reporter Christmas Lighting Contest—or it may be that less painstaking persons will walk away with the awards. An elaborate porch display which requires a man some little time to build and erect may win first prize—or perhaps a "mere slip of a woman" who buys a few inexpensive decorations at one of the stores and hurriedly arranges them on a shrub in the front yard will be declared winner of the top prize.

The judges will make their rounds this (Thursday) evening, early. The prizes are an electric roaster double-slice automatic toaster and certified I. E. S. specification lamp. They are to be given as first, second and third awards, in the order named and have a combined retail value of $48.00.

Following the verdict of the judges the results will be posted in the Reporter office window and winners will please call and receive their prizes before Christmas.

HUNTING FATALITIES ALMOST DOUBLE THAT OF 1937

Forty-one Pennsylvania hunters lost their lives in quest of game this year, more than twice as many as in 1936 the game commission reported a few days ago. There were 302 non-fatal accidents.

Eighteen hunters were killed during the deer season which ended Saturday a week ago, and 39 were wounded. Only one was wounded during the bear season, immediately preceding the deer hunting period.

In comparison with this year's toll of 41 deaths as against an unknown number of hunters in the field, in past years the figures were: 1930—550,392 licenses, 59 fatal accidents; 1931—572,799 licenses, 72; 1932—531,451 licenses, 54; 1933—524,337 licenses, 41; 1934—568,566 licenses, 55; 1935—541,964 licenses, 21 fatal accidents.

GOVERNOR EARLE APPOINTS BOARDS TO SUPERVISE RELIEF

Governor George H. Earle on Monday appointed 51 county boards of assistance to supervise relief and assistance activities in the state, beginning January 1.

The Centre county board, made up of five Democrats and two Republicans, will be as follows:

Mrs. Lona Johnson (D), Phillipsburg; Mrs. Henrietta N. Willard (D), State College; Mrs. Catherine Kilpatrick (D), Bellefonte; John Spearly (D), Bellefonte; Swengel Smith (D), Bellefonte; Russell Spangler (D), Bellefonte; Lloyd Boob (D), Millheim.

The appointments were made under the Public Assistance act, passed by the 1937 Legislature, which creates a single unit in each county to replace poor boards and the mothers' assistance units.

Each board of seven members is made up of from four to five Democrats and two to three Republicans.

Senator Edw. J. ("Jack") Thompson, of Phillipsburg, is being given serious consideration for the nomination of lieutenant-governor of Pennsylvania, when the state is to be made up for next year's gubernatorial election. Senator Thompson has proved his worth in the State Senate during his short term. Probably no other senator has risen so fast in the councils of his party as has our young senator from this district.

Hugh M. Quigley and Armstrong Francis, Bellefonte, were named appraisers of the Chemical Lime company holdings. A further hearing on the appointment of receivers was held before the Federal court, Scranton on Wednesday.

CENTRE COUNTY HOSPITAL NOTES.

Wednesday, admitted: Dale Conter, Centre Hall; discharged: Mrs. Donald Detwiler, Millheim.

ODD FELLOWS OF CENTRE CO. HONOR GRAND MASTER WAGNER

A most enthusiastic and successful meeting was held in the I. O. O. F. hall, Centre Hall, Tuesday evening of last week, when 150 members of twelve of the sixteen Odd Fellow lodges in the county met to honor the presence of Grand Master Paul Wagner of Williamsport, and other Grand Lodge officers.

The meeting was opened by the officers of Centre Hall lodge and then given into the hands of H. C. Ziegler, D. D. G. M., of the Southern District of Centre county.

For the benefit of their guests, the degree team of Centre Lodge staged an exemplification of the third degree. The work was done admirably well and made an impression that will be worth the time in making an effort to be present in the meeting.

Following the exemplification, interesting talks were given by the following: Grand Master Wagner, who was the guest of honor; Rev. L. M. Dice, Grand Chaplain; C. Lester Koons, Grand Marshal; and brother Lughart, chairman of the Farm Committee of the Orphanage at Sunbury. Greetings were also received from S. E. Quick, D. D. G. M., of the Northern District of Centre county, and Girard Altenderfer, D. D. G. P., of Centre county.

Following the session, refreshments were served by the brothers of Centre Hall lodge to the satisfaction of all present.

With the enthusiasm of the fraternal men running high, it was considered one of the most interesting and successful meetings held in this county's quarters recently.

BASKETBALL GAME RESULTS

Centre Hall's independent basketball team suffered a loss at the hands of the Troop team of Bellefonte at the Y. M. C. A. building, Monday night. The score was 35-24. The locals had a substantial lead as they entered the second half.

In a Clinton-Centre county league game played at Mill Hall, the Spring Mills alumni defeated Mill Hall 38-25. The game was clean and fast throughout and kept the spectators interested at all times.

On Monday, Dec. 27, the Spring Mills team, undefeated to date, play the Bellefonte Y. M. C. A., also undefeated in league competition, on the Spring Mills floor. The Spring Mills appear in flashy new outfits and would appreciate your patronage. Admission, 10c to all.

BULL ASSOCIATIONS HELP DAIRY HERDS TO IMPROVE

A breeding program based on proved sires and proved dams takes much of the chance and disappointment out of dairy cattle breeding, declares County Agent R. C. Blaney.

One of the problems in proving dairy sires has been the customary practice of using young bulls and discarding them before their daughters came into production.

An agricultural extension project known as the bull association is providing a practical and economical solution of this problem for owners of small herds. Many sires have been kept in service in these associations for 10 to 14 years.

The 55 bull associations in Pennsylvania are using 295 sires, many of which have daughters in production. Some of these proved bulls have been used for years in the herds of association members. One association bull is still in service at 17 years of age.

Bull association provides a plan for finding and keeping in use superior sires, which under individual ownership might have gone to the slaughterhouse before their real value was known.

MRS. FETTEROLF ENTERTAINS S. S. CLASS, THURSDAY EVE

The Senior Service class in the Lutheran Sunday school held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Paul Fetterolf, Thursday evening. The attendance was quite large and numbers on the program embraced the Christmas spirit. Inexpensive gifts were exchanged under the "big sister" plan. This feature will be abandoned in the future. The more appropriate custom of packing a box for Tressler Orphans' Home was carried out this year, and will be continued.

Mrs. Fetterolf proved an ideal hostess. The home was decorated with green and red lights, presenting delightful surroundings. The refreshments were most delicious.

CLAYTON MUSSEY ONE TO WIN SCHOLARSHIP

Three Penn State students from Centre county were among 31 recipients of scholarships awarded at Penn State last week to students of high academic standing. Miss Henrietta Nichols, of Bellefonte, a senior, received a home economics scholarship given by the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women. One of the Louise Carnegie scholarships was awarded to Walter F. Westergaard of Bellefonte.

A junior in forestry, while a third local student honored was Clayton Musser, of Rebersburg, a liberal arts student, who received one of the McAllister scholarships for freshmen.

A hearing before Squire Meyer, in Boalsburg, resulted in placing Frank R. Stricker under $1000 bond for his appearance at court. He was charged with having pointed a revolver at John Shuey, both Shuey and Stricker are residents of Boalsburg.

Merry Christmas!

ANNUAL CANDLELIGHT SERVICE IN TRINITY REFORMED CH.

The annual candlelight service of Trinity Reformed church, Centre Hall, will be held on Christmas eve at 7:30 o'clock. This year's service is of unusual form. The entire program is musical, as it is a carol sing.

The more familiar carols, as well as those of foreign lands, will be sung by two choirs. As caroling has an almost universal appeal, the service promises to be beautiful. Caroling has been handed down through the years as a means of expressing the cheer and joy of the Christmas season. The most popular conception of carolers is of people who on Christmas eve spread cheer with their songs. However, possibly the first evidence of Christmas caroling comes from Egypt, where the people met to celebrate the Christmas with feasting, dancing and singing.

S. S. CLASSES JOIN IN CHRISTMAS PARTY

Two classes—the Willing Workers taught by Mrs. J. M. Coldron and the Sparklers, whose teacher is Mrs. Roy Dutow—in the Lutheran Sunday school joined forces to hold a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Dutow on Thursday evening. Decorations were in keeping with the Christmas season and was also the program for the evening. The refreshments and manner of serving were also suggestive of the Yuletide.

Members of the Willing Worker class present were Mrs. Coldron, Mrs. L. A. Wagner, Mrs. D. C. Mitterling, Mrs. Jacob Sharer, Mrs. Ray Sharer, Mrs. Arthur Thoman, Mrs. Ralph Homan, Mrs. Ralph Luse, Mrs. George Fetterolf, Mrs. Fred Homan, Mrs. Roy Jamison, Miss Cora Homan, Miss Margaret Alexander, Mrs. Raymond Walker, Mrs. Dan Bloom, Mrs. Ernest Homan, Mrs. Fred Luse, Mrs. Harry Burris, Mrs. Burton Fetterolf.

Members of the Sparklers class present were Mrs. Dutow, Rosell Homan, Winnie Fetterolf, Mabel Faust, Darline Faust, Louise Smetzer, Peggy McTeenanahan, Anna Homan, Miriam Fetterolf, Freda Weaver, Betty Smith, Marie Weaver, Inez Luse, guests were Mrs. A. H. Spayd and Albert Dutow.

NO PAPER NEXT WEEK.

In keeping with custom, the Centre Reporter will not be issued next week, the Yuletide season. The next issue, therefore, will be in the new year bearing date of Thursday, January 6, 1938.

The office, however, will be open for the transaction of business every day except Christmas Day.

We sincerely trust that your Christmas may be joyous and the New Year bring you prosperity in increasing abundance.

BIRTHDAY BALL FOR THE PRESIDENT, JANUARY 28

The American nation will again honor the birthday of President Roosevelt by restoring health to crippled children.

In every American community the President's Birthday Ball has been the means of substituting hope for despair in the lives of people afflicted by infantile paralysis.

That it will be again, is the greatest tribute the nation can pay to a great leader.

In Centre Hall, "The Birthday Ball for the President" will be held on Friday evening, January 28, in the Centre Hall-Potter high school building, although the President's birthday falls on Sunday, January 30.

The chairman will again be Roy S. Jamison. The party will be conducted on lines similar to those of a year ago.

Committees will be named in ample time and announcement made in these columns.

WEEK OF PRAYER SERVICES BEGIN MONDAY, JANUARY 2

The annual community week of Prayer services will be held in the Presbyterian church beginning Monday evening, January 3rd, and ending Friday evening, January 7. Heretofore it has been customary to hold these services in the various churches of the community. This year arrangements have been made to worship in one church for the week. Thus, rather than rotating the services in one year from church to church, the rotation will come each succeeding year. It seems advisable to follow this plan of procedure for economic reasons, as well as eliminating confusion, as to the place of the service each evening.

The services will begin at 7:30 P. M. The general theme to be considered is "Fellowship With God."

Monday evening, "Personal Fellowship," Rev. L. A. Wagner.

Tuesday evening, "Family Fellowship," Rev. D. R. Keener.

Wednesday evening, "Church Fellowship," Rev. S. W. Russell.

Thursday evening, "Community Fellowship," Rev. W. K. Hosterman.

Friday evening, "World-Wide Fellowship," Rev. J. M. Kirkpatrick.

M. HUGHES AND HIS CENTRE CO. GEOGRAPHY

Boy, page Mr. Bob Ripley! Believe it or not, Prof. James Hughes, educator extraordinary in Centre county for two score years doesn't know there's a place in Centre county known as Farmers Mills.

Mr. Hughes admitted it publicly on the stage of the Plaza theatre, Bellefonte, Wednesday evening of last week when a ticket drawn for a cash prize on the occasion of "Prosperity Night" carried the address of Farmers Mills. Mr. Hughes, who was conducting the drawing in the absence of Mr. Fisher asked the audience to guarantee its being located in Centre county in order that the ticket might be eligible for the prize.

Now, we know Farmers Mills doesn't go over in a big way as a town. Time was when it had a fine general store and a crier mill to make it a business center for a part of Gregg township, and was a post office for many years, prior to the introduction of rural free delivery.

Mr. Hughes' mathematics may be flawless, but his geography—wow!

MISSION STUDY CLASS COMPLETES SECOND YEAR

The final meeting of the Mission Study class was held Wednesday evening of last week in the Lutheran church here. Refreshments consisting of apple pie, ice cream and coffee were served.

The class, sponsored by the Young Women's Missionary Society, devoted four evenings to the study of "Rebuilding Rural America," a text by Mark A. Dawber. Harvey W. Flink was the instructor. About 15 members of the Young Women's and the Women's Missionary Societies participated.

In addition to the study of the text the class made a statistical survey of the Lutheran Parish which includes Potter and Gregg townships and Centre Hall borough. Some of the interesting facts gleaned are as follows:

Lutheran church membership in Parish	562
Woman's Missionary Society	18
Young Woman's Miss. Soc.	16
S. O. S. Missionary Soc.	16
Light Brigade	95
Cradle Roll	16
Home Department	5
Sunday School membership	653
Church membership of other denominations in Parish	733
Sunday school	441
Woman's Missionary Soc.	47
Christian Endeavor	46
Young People's Circle	19
Cradle Roll	29
Ladies' Aid	47
Population of Parish	3242

This and other information was secured to check against certain statements made by Mr. Dawber to the effect that nearly three-fourths of all the churches in the U. S. are rural and that the farmer class contributes more members to the church than any other occupation.

The completion of this course brings to a close the second year of successful endeavor in Mission Study in the Lutheran church. Last year the class studied two books on the Negro problem.

SANTA CLAUS HAS COME TO TOWN

Santa Claus, full life size, with a pack on his back and standing beside a lighted Christmas tree, is proving a delight to the kiddies of town as he smiles down upon them from the balcony of Dr. H. R. White's home. At night, strong lights focused on him make his countenance more radiant than in day time. The wind blows merrily through his whiskers and appears to animate the jolly old fellow.

Yes, the Whites have brought a large measure of happiness to the kiddies.

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST FROM ALL PARTS

No paper next week.

Merry Christmas to you,—and we do mean you.

Another member of the local Red Cross is E. W. Miller, Centre Hall.

All next week is vacation time for public school pupils and teachers.

The next basketball game between high school teams will be played at Centre Hall, Friday, January 7, on the local floor.

L. Banks Wetzel was appointed postmaster at Beaver Springs. The salary is $1960. Mr. Wetzel is a cousin of Prof. J. F. Wetzel, of town.

Mrs. Mary B. Foust, formerly of Potter township, now teaching school in Phillipsburg was in town on Saturday.

Miss Evelyn Colyer, now located in Lewisport, was at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Colyer over the week-end.

Miss Ellen Burkholder, assistant to the Dean of Women at Penn State, was at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Burkholder, over the week-end.

The Greyhound bus again travels through the main thoroughfare in Centre Hall after detouring for nearly two years due to the building of the road between here and Millheim. The handsome big bus seems to create a feeling that there's good business in the country.

Harry Inhoff, coal truck driver for Raymond Harpster, informed police he was robbed of between $50.00 and $70.00 near Six-Mile Run on the Phillipsburg-Port Matilda highway, Friday night. Inhoff is a resident of Woodys Creek, near State College. Police could find no trace of hitchhikers or other evidence indicating a hold-up.

W. R. Bierly, of Rebersburg, an active dealer and trucker of livestock to the eastern markets, was a caller at this office on Monday. On Tuesday he delivered a truck load of thirty-five live calves to Lancaster as a contribution to that important livestock market. Mr. Bierly was accompanied to Centre Hall by James Frank.

Passengers, mail and express including milk tanks, will be carried on a train making a forenoon round trip from Bellefonte to Coburn.
