A COLLECTION OF NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND PERSONALS FROM GREGG TWP.'S METROPOLIS.

Gregg Twp. Civic Ass'n Organized—A citizen's meeting was held Wednesday evening in the Community Hall with an objective of Community development. An organization was formed which will be known as the "Gregg Township Civic Association." The following officers were elected: Pres., H. A. Corman; vice-pres., H. P. Erdley; secretary, C. B. Stover; treasurer, T. J. Decker; Executive committee, B. G. Meyer, H. P. Erdley, Hon. J. W. Decker, H. E. Stover, C. E. Ziegler.

Indicative to its aggressive and progressive policies this particular association has made a wise choice in the leadership of Messrs. Corman and Erdley, as both of these men have a wide business experience as well as executive ability and with the co-operation of the citizens will be of mutual helpfulness in agricultural, industrial and business interests, by promoting projects of the Gregg Twp. Civic Association. Manifestly there has to be co-operation and under Messrs. Corman's and Erdley's leadership and with the machinery of the organization, Spring Mills will in a short time enjoy the conveniences of street lights, which will be a wonderful asset as well as essential to our town. There is every reason why the farm products of the surrounding territory should find in Spring Mills a market, and in return, why Spring Mills' products and merchandise should be preferred by the farmers. And there is every reason why such exchange of products should extend beyond geographical limits. As with railroad facilities Spring Mills is a natural trade center for Gregg township. With proper co-operation there is practical certainty such expansion of trade can be made. The first step in such expansion is recognition by all concerned that the Gregg Twp. Civic Association is just what its name implies—not a town organizer but a community agency for community welfare. The association's objectives have been needed for many years and opportunity has now come to attain them. Promising community prosperity they should be and will be attained, if all community interests energetically and enthusiastically work together. Spring Mills is greatly in need of a doctor, barber and dentist, while the writer was informed that a barber was locating here Jan. 1st.

The Townsend Club meeting held in the Grange hall Thursday evening was well attended, with a fine program presented. C. L. Nonemaker, of Altoona, delivered a very timely address, while the Penns Valley Harmonizers furnished a fine musical program.

A very attractively decorated Christmas tree has made its appearance on the Vocational school campus, which adds greatly to the Yuletide season, and is highly appreciated.

The public sale of household goods of Wallace Auman was well attended on Saturday. Mr. Auman contemplates moving to Millfield.

Wm. Montgomery, supt. of the highway construction job spent the week end at his home at Shade Gap.

Perry Detwiler made a business trip to Bellefonte on Friday.

C. C. Bartges, who has been on the sick list for several weeks, is showing slight improvement.

With the advent of Christmas season, social activities in Spring Mills come to the fore, while Christmas greens and lights and holly decorate the various homes, where Christmas dinners and family reunions will be the program of the day.

Mrs. Ray McClellan of State College spent last week visiting friends in town.

Miss Pearl Lingie of Millheim was a visitor in town on Sunday.

The Reformed and Methodist Sunday schools held their Christmas entertainment on Sunday morning, and were well rendered.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Stover and Josephine spent Saturday evening in Sunbury as guests of Mrs. G. C. Rachna, a sister of Mrs. Stover.

Alumni Banquet and Dance—Plans have been completed for G. T. V. F. alumni banquet on December 31 at 8 o'clock, in gymnasium. Tickets are $1.00. Any alumnus who finds it impossible to attend the banquet may attend the dance at 9 o'clock for a nominal charge of 50c.

Harry A. Corman attending a recent meeting of the Holidaysburg Production Credit Assn. at Holidaysburg, reports an annual meeting to be held Jan. 14 in Jaffa Temple Altoona, at which time a directors' meeting will be held.

Miss Margaret Grenoble and Glenn Long are home from their respective colleges for the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Bright Bitner attended a turkey dinner at Millfield Friday evening given to members of the Moose Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Corman of Altoona assisted at the butchering at the O. T. Corman home.

Children's Christmas Programs—The Spring Mills grade schools will present their annual Christmas program in the auditorium Thursday, Dec. 23, at 1 p. m. The four lower grades under the direction of Miss Wagner and Miss Reavrick will present a cantata. The upper grades will take part by offering several short Christmas plays. J. Russell Condo and Harry K. Condo are in charge of the upper grades. An offering will be lifted to help defray expenses. Everyone is welcome to attend this Christmas program on Thursday afternoon. The high school will have their annual Christmas program on Friday morning in the auditorium at 9 o'clock. Parents and friends are also invited to this program.

Soccer Squad Has Banquet—The championship Gregg Twp. soccer squad was tendered a turkey dinner in the Vocational school Wednesday night. All members of the squad were present as well as the fathers of most of the boys. The girls of the school, under the direction of Miss Tschudy, prepared and served a most sumptuous dinner which was greatly enjoyed by sixty persons. Members of the squad present were: Robert Myers, Dean Hettinger, who acted very ably as toastmaster, Warren Confer, Malcolm Yearick, Spurgeon Hennigh, Joseph Myers, John Shook, Donald Snyder, Jack Biddle, LeRoy Duck, Fred Feltenberger, Marshall Frazier, Harold Kenneley, Walter Snavely, Dean Spayd, John Treaster, Eugene Wolfe, Kenneth Albright, Roy Ripka, Donald Roseman, Harold Walker and Hallard Zettle. The following fathers were guests: Mr. Hettinger, Mr. Confer, H. E. Hennigh, Mr. White, S. C. Yearick, Mr. Biddle, Mr. Duck, Mr. Feltenberger, Mr. Frazier, Paul Spayd, Mr. Treaster, John Albright, Mr. Walker, Roland Zettle. School board members present were M. T. Zubler, who made a few fine remarks as president of the board; C. A. Zettle, secretary, and J. W. Evans. Other guests were Wm. Tucker, county advisor of Voc. Agr., who made a short talk; Henry Erdley, cashier of the local bank, who spoke very fittingly to the boys from the standpoint of one of our citizens. Teachers present were J. W. Decker, who so ably coached the team, Chester McCall, Miss Miriam Tschudy, Mrs. LeClaire Fetterolf, Curtis M. Watts, high school teacher; Harry Condo and J. Russell Condo, grade school teachers, Homer Fetterolf, Mrs. Curtis Watts, Mrs. Chester McCall and Harry Trout were present as guests of the boys. The banquet was most enjoyable from every standpoint, and most fittingly brought to a close a most successful soccer campaign.

Gregg Teams Win and Lose With Snow Shoe—The Gregg basketball teams split two games with Snow Shoe Friday night in the opening games of the season. The Gregg girls met defeat at the hands of a very strong Snow Shoe sextet by the score of 33-25. The Snow Shoe girls' combination seemed even stronger than the one their school presented last year which nosed out the Gregg girls for the league championship. The game however was close throughout, and was one of the fastest and most interesting played on the local court. The Gregg boys won in the last minute of play when John Shook looped a field goal through from back of the foul line to make the final score 26-25. The next three games will be away from home, playing at Howard on Tuesday, then at Millheim on Jan. 7 and at Mill Hall Jan. 11. Howard plays at Spring Mills Jan. 14.

Community Christmas Tree—A fine community Christmas tree was donated by H. M. Allison and trucked to the school ground by Guy Corman with the assistance of the high school boys. The tree was erected and decorated by a group from the school on Wednesday afternoon, with workmen from the West Penn Power company making connections Thursday morning so that the tree was lighted for the first time Thursday night. The community appreciates the efforts of those who have made this Community Tree possible.

Christmas Seal Sale—Sale of Christmas seals in the township to Monday amounted to $56.65. A total of 55 persons contributed one dollar by purchasing 100 seals which were mailed to them. Eighty per cent of the total funds will be returned to the local school for health work. Some stamps and money have not been returned. This may be done before Jan. 1st. Sales have been most excellent in Gregg township and the above figure it is felt will be somewhat increased, it is felt, when all returns are sent in.
