MITTERLING CAFE SOLD, MRS. J. M. COLDRON, BUYER

The Mitterling Cafe, in the Bartholomew building, conducted by Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Mitterling in a most successful manner for a period of twelve years, was recently sold to Mrs. J. M. Coldron, although the change in management will not be made until around the first of April. The Mitterlings succeeded Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Homan, who first operated a restaurant in the room now occupied by the cafe. Mr. Mitterling has not made known his intentions after retiring from business, but it is understood he and Mrs. Mitterling will go to the Pacific coast to remain for some time.

Mrs. Coldron has had considerable experience in the restaurant business. For some years she has assumed the management of the cafe during the temporary absence of Mr. and Mrs. Mitterling. She also conducted an eating stand on Grange Park, which at once became popular, especially with those who boarded for the week during the Grange Encampment and Fair. The purchase made by Mrs. Coldron also includes the pool tables.
