FOR MEN ONLY— WHO LIKE TO COOK!

This "Chef" beams with justifiable pride over his roaster meal of meat loaf, vegetables and pudding.

By Louise Brown
WE hear that a good many of you men are playing chef these days and taking a hand in the cooking. Perhaps you have always had a secret longing to cook—but we suspect the electric roaster has something to do with the sudden interest—it gives you such a good excuse for experimenting and is so easy to use. Even though you haven't had much experience with cooking, getting a meal on the maid's Sunday off or fixing something tasty for the gang on bridge night, is a cinch with the roaster. You put the food in (and you can do one dish or a whole meal of meat, vegetables and dessert) attach it to the convenience outlet, set the temperature control and relax. When the time's up, you just lift the lid—and there's your meal! Another thing, with the broiler attachment you can have thick juicy steaks and chops done just the way a man likes 'em. Not only husbands, but bachelors who enjoy a home-cooked meal find a roaster a grand addition to their light housekeeping arrangements. And cooking this way is no strain on the budget. Here's a good hearty meal that's easy to prepare. (Men, please clip for your scrapbooks.)

Complete Roaster Meal
Meat Loaf Potato Strips
Buttered Carrots
Peach Polly Pudding
Time, starting in cold roaster—
2 hours at 350 degrees F.
Meat Loaf
1/2 pound pork, ground
1/2 pound veal, ground
1 pound beef, ground
1 cup cracker meal
1 onion, chopped fine
1 cup tomato juice
1 tablespoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 eggs
6 slices bacon
Place all ingredients in a large mixing bowl and blend together lightly. Mold into a loaf by rolling in a towel or wax paper. Place in the large baking dish of the roaster. Place the strips of bacon over the loaf.

Potatoes
Peel potatoes and cut in strips slightly larger than for French Frying. Dry, dip in melted butter, and arrange around the meat loaf. Add salt and pepper.
Carrots
Dice carrots and place in one of the small baking dishes. Add 1 tablespoon melted butter, 1/4 cup water, 1 teaspoon salt, and a few grains of pepper. Cover.
Peach Polly Pudding
1 quart canned peaches
1/4 cup sugar
1 tablespoon butter
1/2 cup minute tapioca
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Peach juice
Butter the other small baking dish and arrange a layer of peaches in the bottom. Sprinkle with the sugar, dot with bits of butter and add the tapioca. Add the lemon juice to the juice from the peaches and pour it over the pudding. Place the baking dishes in the cold roaster, replace the lid and attach to convenience outlet. Set the temperature control to 350 degrees F. and cook 2 hours.
