

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

The local W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. C. A. Spyster, on Tuesday evening of next week.

Mrs. Margaret Godshall is helping to care for the heir that graces the home of Attorney and Mrs. R. Paul Campbell, State College.

W. Leslie Jacobs and sister, Miss Margaret Jacobs, attended the funeral of Dr. Joseph K. Fisher, their cousin, in Sunbury, on Tuesday.

Miss Miriam Homan, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Homan, was out of high school during last week due to illness from tonsillitis. She has recovered at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Dutrow, on Sunday visited with Mr. and Mrs. Tony Ludus, Shamokin. The families have frequently exchanged visits during the past year or more.

Jack Coldron completed his practice teaching in the Johnstown high school and is again back to class work at Penn State. He will graduate in June in the school of education.

Miss Roberta Smith, youngest daughter of R. M. Smith, completed a course in one of the Williamsport commercial schools during last week, and is now well equipped for a position along secretarial lines.

Miss Dorothy Blazer, who had been employed in one of the State offices in Harrisburg, was on vacation for a few days but is now re-employed in one of the offices in Bellefonte headed by State appointees.

Lester Treaster suffered a collapse while at the home of Steri Stoner, on Friday. Mr. Treaster lives on the former Lee, now Reiber, farm, in Potter township. The collapse was due to an attack of acute indigestion.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lewis H. Garbrick in the Centre County hospital on Thursday. The new arrival has not yet been named. The Garbrick family of children is now composed of a son and two daughters.

The J. S. Boozer family on Saturday moved from their home next to the Brooks service station to the former D. A. Boozer home on Church street. Extensive improvements were made on the interior of the home during the past few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Reardon, of Millroy, motored to Centre Hall on Monday morning where they were joined by the latter's brothers, Frank and James Decker, and from here went to Williamsport to attend the funeral of Mrs. Annie Shadle, a cousin of the Deckers. Mrs. Shadle was the wife of R. C. Shadle of Williamsport.

The violin owned by the late John H. Bitner was sold at public sale to John Meeker, the forest ranger. The violin was a treasure of Mr. Bitner's and on its strings were played many dance numbers to which young and old in all parts of the valley during the past three to four decades tripped the light fantastic toe. The instrument sold for $24.00, a great bargain.

The body of Mrs. Minnie McColley, of Latrobe, was pulled from the Susquehanna River about three miles south of Columbia, a few days ago. The woman disappeared from the home of her son, Jacob E. McColley, of Harrisburg, on Thanksgiving day. The lady was a visitor on several occasions at the home of Mrs. Lucy Henney and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Henney, in Centre Hall.

Game Protector E. M. Woodward of Bellefonte arrested Allen Sherwood Ferguson of Millroy, last week, on the charge of violating the hunting laws by discharging a firearm within a distance of 150 yards of an occupied building. The penalty was a fine of $25.00 and costs. The defendant pleaded guilty and paid the fine on Saturday before Justice of the Peace Chas. W. Slack, in Centre Hall. L. M. Decker was the complainant.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Weaver, who for five or six years were employed by the late J. C. Brooks and later by Mrs. Brooks last week moved into the Penns Cave farm house. James Sweeley, who formerly was employed by the Campbells, contemplates operating a farm on his own in the spring. Gross Gentzel, recently married, employed by Earl Delaney, at Old Fort, will occupy the Spayd farm at the junction of the Penns Cave road with Route 95, also owned by the Campbells.

Miss Margaret Beneridge of Williamsport, and Messrs. J. D. and R. R. Slenker, of Lock Haven, were visitors with Miss Alice Spyster at the parental home in Centre Hall over the week-end. Miss Beneridge is a student in one of the Williamsport commercial schools as is also Miss Spyster. Two other students from these schools—Miss Betty Jane Clark and Miss Bernice Frazier—were also on vacation over the week-end and enjoyed the hospitality of Miss Frazier's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Frazier. The young people returned to Williamsport on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Amelia Hoover, and son, Jeppe, and Mrs. Mary Chilcote of Altoona, were recent visitors at the C. T. Crust farm home east of town. This bit of news came over the telephone, Mr. Crust having been the speaker at the other end of the line. He volunteered the information that it was his second telephone call in six months while confined to the house during the past months. Mr. Crust is quite cheerful and hopeful that when spring comes it will bring fresh vigor not only to plant life but that it will also prove greatly beneficial to him after having been shut in for so long a time. The host of Charley's friends join with the writer in a wish that his hopes will be realized.

JUDGE FLEMING, LOVE, HAINES, SEEK G. O. P. RECOGNITION

The Keystone Gazette gives first place to a political article in its issue of last week, forecasting Republican candidates for Congress, State Senate, Assemblyman, State Committeeman and county chairman, when it says:

In the Republican camp there have been no official announcements made to date by any candidates for county or district offices. It has been learned from reliable sources, however, that certain prominent G. O. P. partisans are thinking seriously of tossing their respective hats into the political ring.

It is reported by authoritative sources that Kenneth G. Haines of Rebersburg, member of the faculty and former football coach at State College high school, will be a candidate again for the Republican nomination for Assemblyman. He is expected to make formal announcement of his candidacy within the next week or ten days.

Attorney John G. Love of Bellefonte, who served this county well for two terms as district attorney, is likewise said to be politically minded at present. His friends say that he is considering announcing for State Senator from the 34th Senatorial District comprising Centre and Clearfield counties. His announcement will not be forthcoming, however, until he has made a survey of Clearfield county, his friends say.

Republicans of the 23rd Congressional District, made up of Blair, Centre and Clearfield counties will have one of the strongest candidates in years in the 1938 congressional primary should Jimmy VanZandt of Altoona carry out his present intentions to represent his district at Washington.

The waves of political rumors have also washed onto the beach another interesting bit of information to the effect that former Judge M. Ward Fleming is desirous of representing Centre county on the Republican State Committee, the post held by the former State Senator Harry B. Scott of Philipsburg for a number of years. Friends of senator Scott have intimated that because of impaired health he will not seek re-election as committeeman. However the former Senator has made no definite announcement regarding his plans.

It is generally agreed that Ray S. Melroy of Pleasant Gap will be unopposed for re-election as Republican county chairman.

In the state, the G. O. P. gubernatorial race is gradually gaining speed. Former Governor Pinchot, seeking a third term as chief executive of this state, was the first to announce, and his campaign forces are already hard at work throughout the state. Pinchot leaders claim that sentiment in favor of the former Governor is rapidly crystallizing all over the state. Among those prominent in Central Pennsylvania politics who have announced their support of Pinchot are former Congressman J. Banks Kurtz of Altoona and J. Mitchell Chase of Clearfield.

Superior Court Judge Arthur H. James is being boomed for the Governorship by another wing of the Republican party, although the jurist has thus far withheld any official announcement of his candidacy. Other men mentioned as gubernatorial prospects include General Edward Martin, former Auditor General and G. O. P. State Chairman before M. Harvey Taylor, and Legislator Ellwood M. Turner of Delaware county.

Not only was George Washington born during February, but he was elected first President of the United States on February 1, 1789. Three other presidents were also born in February: Millard Fillmore, February 7; Wm. H. Harrison, ninth president, February 9; and Abraham Lincoln, Civil War President, February 12.
